

Portland photographer seeks models

Portland portrait photographer Nancy Hill is working on a series tentatively called "Seven Years/Seven Decades" in which she photographs children under 7 and adults who have lived seven or more decades.

"I am asking both groups the three most important things to them," Hill says.

The series will be multi-cultural and Hill is seeking Native American participants. All participants will receive 10 free photos from the session as an appreciation for taking part in the series, which may become a book.

Hill said she will travel up to two hours from Portland each way, or maybe further if there is more than one person to photograph.

To participate, contact Hill at nancyowho@gmail.com or call 503-245-0359. ■

3. Expansion of locations where marriages can take place and who can perform the marriages,
4. Addition of non-discrimination language providing that a marriage license cannot be denied on the basis of race, religion, sexual orientation, color, gender, gender expression, national origin (ancestry), disability, or military status.
5. Minor technical (i.e., typographical, housekeeping) modifications.

FISH AND WILDLIFE ORDINANCE OPEN FOR COMMENT

The Tribal Council adopted, on an emergency basis, amendments to the Fish and Wildlife Ordinance at the July 29, 2015, Tribal Council meeting.

The primary purpose of the amendments is to implement the Tribal Wildlife Management Plan, which, among other things, provides for Tribal regulation of hunting and fishing on the Reservation and Tribal trust lands. The amendments grant the Tribal Police Department enforcement authority with respect to Tribally-regulated hunting and fishing and provides for resolution of those violations in Tribal Court. The amendments charge the Natural Resources Department with administering the Tribal hunting and fishing programs. Further, the amendments clarify the duties and responsibilities of the Fish and Wildlife Committee and Ceremonial Hunting Board in light of the passage of the Tribal Wildlife Management Plan. The proposed amendments may also include minor technical (i.e., typographical, housekeeping) modifications.

The Tribal Council invites comment on the amendments to the Fish and Wildlife Ordinance. For a copy of the amendments please contact the Tribal Attorney's Office at 503-879-4664. Please send your comments to the Tribal Attorney's Office, 9615 Grand Ronde Road, Grand Ronde, Oregon 97347 or by e-mail to legal@grandronde.org. Comments must be received by Sept. 30, 2015.
