Lane Community College offering Chinuk Wawa classes

EUGENE – Lane Community College is offering “Chinuk Wawa” (CW 101) from 4 to 6 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday at its campus in Eugene starting the last week of September.

Grand Ronde Tribal members can take the class, which is the first in a yearlong sequence, as a credit class or as a continuing education class.

Continuing education students enrolled in the class will determine their own level of engagement in terms of attendance, test taking, assignments, etc.

Tuition is approximately $400 to $505 per term for the four-credit class. However, continuing education students only pay a one-time fee of about $10.

Students can enroll now for fall classes online at www.lanec.edu. The CRN for the class is 22576.

University of Oregon students also can have dual enrollment to take the class. Contact an academic adviser for more information.

Enrollment as a continuing education student is possible by calling Candice Johnson at 541-463-5419.

For more information about the Chinuk Wawa language program at Lane, contact Drew Viles at vilesa@lanec.edu or calling 541-463-5480. ■

Police Department handing out safety awards

Grand Ronde children who wear a helmet while riding their bicycles may receive a safety award if they are seen by members of the Grand Ronde Tribal Police Department.

Lt. Tim Hernandez said Tribal police will start handing out the safety awards immediately to community children found wearing their bicycle helmets on a consistent basis.

The safety award is actually a coupon for a free ice cream at Grand Ronde Station near Spirit Mountain Casino on Highway 18 or at Grand Ronde Market at the corner of Grand Ronde Road and Highway 18. Hernandez said the Tribal Housing Department donated $300 to fund the effort.

“The stores are looking into asking their vendors if they would like to participate,” Hernandez said. “We also have our officers donating to the cause as well.”

For more information about the program, contact Hernandez at 503-879-1824. ■

Social Services has bike helmets

The Tribe’s Social Services Department has bicycle helmets available for distribution. Those needing a helmet should visit the department and sign a helmet application, as well as get fitted.

For more information, contact Social Services at 503-879-2034. ■
