Police Department handing out safety awards

Grand Ronde children who wear a helmet while riding their bicycles may receive a safety award if they are seen by members of the Grand Ronde Tribal Police Department.
Lt. Tim Hernandez said Tribal police will be handing out the safety awards to community children found wearing their bicycle helmets on a consistent basis.
The safety award is actually a coupon for a free ice cream at Grand Ronde Station near Spirit Mountain Casino on Highway 18 or at Grand Ronde Market at the corner of Grand Ronde Road and Highway 18. Hernandez said the Tribal Housing Department donated $300 to fund the effort.
“The stores are looking into asking their vendors if they would like to participate,” Hernandez said. “We also have our officers donating to the cause as well.”
For more information about the program, contact Hernandez at 503-879-1824. ■

'She was a really good friend'

is a treasured possession.
“She was a really good friend,” he said. “She always treated you the way you treated her. There was never any BS. It was straight to the point when she talked to you.”
Upon her retirement, Whitecloud said she was going to tend to her yard at her Grand Meadows home and continue with her craft projects. She also continued to attend Tribal Council meetings occasionally, passionately expressing her opinion on matters of importance.

Whitecloud is survived by two children, Christina and Ken Trevino. She was preceded in death by her daughter, Cynthia Leann Trevino Jr.-Williams, in 2008.
A funeral service will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 30, in the Tribal gym, 9615 Grand Ronde Road. A meal will follow the service in the Elders Activity Center. Burial will occur at a later date at the Holmes family cemetery in Grand Ronde.
Bollman Funeral Home of Dallas is caring for the family. ■
