Tribal police busy during powwow-eclipse weekend

The Grand Ronde Tribal Police Department participated in a High Visibility Enforcement grant during the weekend of Aug. 18-22, which saw the annual Contest Powwow and total solar eclipse occur in the Grand Ronde area.

The grant was sponsored by Oregon Impact, the state Department of Transportation and the National Highway Transportation Safety Administration.

The Tribal Police Department worked 84 hours of overtime during the weekend, focusing on stopping impaired drivers and careless, reckless and aggressive driving habits.

Sgt. Rod McAllister said the department issued 40 citations for speeding violations, three citations for subjects who were operating a motor vehicle while their driving privileges were suspended, one citation for not using a seat belt and one citation for minor in possession of alcohol. In addition, one person was arrested for driving under the influence of a controlled substance and another person was arrested for failure to carry or present a license.

Seventy-four warnings were issued for various traffic-related violations, McAllister said.

Also during the weekend, Tribal police assisted with two pursuits. The first one involved a motorcyclist traveling westbound on Salmon River Highway toward Grand Ronde. Because the motorcyclist was traveling at more than 100 mph, the pursuit was discontinued.

The second pursuit involved a vehicle from Lincoln City. Tribal police disabled the vehicle after placing stop sticks in the area of milepost 20 on Salmon River Highway. The driver was taken into custody after his vehicle came to a stop about two miles later. ■
