Book Review: “Wild Life” (elementary fiction) by Cynthia DeFelice: When 12-year-old Erik Carlson’s parents are both deployed to Iraq, his big plans are dashed when he is sent to live with his grandparents in the middle of nowhere: North Dakota.

This is a coming-of-age story about adventure and survival, and living off the land with just a dog as a companion. It is also a story about getting to know family and understanding how family secrets can change and shape a person. Erik learns about sacrifices and the pain of loss as he faces the challenges of growing up.

Donations: Our thanks to Keri Kimsey, Genifer Grout, Samantha Dala, Steve Zarko, Barbara Feehan, Debbie Marrington, Tina Gilbert, Beverly Kloony and Frank Hostler for their contributions to the library collection. We appreciate the generosity of our friends of the library.

Reminder: Donated items must be clean and in good condition.
