

Break time!

The Tribe's Youth Education Department held its annual Spring Break camp at B'nai B'rith Camp near Lincoln City from Monday to Wednesday, March 26-28. Forty-six sixth- through 12th-graders attended the camp. The youth were divided into clans and participated in activities that included an obstacle course, challenge games, scavenger hunt, skits and the Grand Ronde Youth Council led a discussion on bullying.

Visit the Tribe's facebook page to see more photos

Photos by Michelle Alaimo

Dylan Larson gives Natalia Harriss a push as they compete in the magic carpet ride challenge during Spring Break camp on Tuesday, March 27. Technically Harriss was supposed to be moving the carpet on her own, but Larson helped her out after she fell behind in the race. They were members of "The Blue Team" clan.

Miguel Adams is the front man as he and his "Yung Dubs" clan members compete in the tug-of-war challenge during Spring Break camp on Tuesday, March 27. Other clan members, from front to back behind Adams, are Donovan Smith, Lily Baker, Sedona Williams, Isabelle Grout, blocked by Williams, Hailey Lewis-Little and Payton Smith, blocked by his clan members.

Denali Williams wraps streamers around both of her arms while competing in a challenge for her clan "The Royals." The first person to wrap a roll of streamers around each arm won.

From right, KaileighAnn Taylor, Kaleigha Simi, Summer Townsend and Lily Baker compete in a toothpick drop game during Spring Break camp on Tuesday, March 27. They were each competing for their clans, "Young Gods", "The Goats", "The Royals" and "Young Dubs", respectively.