Book Review: "Stranger in the House" by Shari Lapena.

Imagine coming home from work to your front door being unlocked and seeing your wife's purse and phone on the counter, but she is nowhere to be found.

Then a police officer shows up at the front door saying your wife has been in an accident. Rushing to the hospital worried sick, you find out your wife remembers nothing about what she had been doing before she ran her car into a utility pole.

A doctor says she is suffering from amnesia and the police simply think your wife was up to no good. Evidence starts to say that your wife was at an old, abandoned restaurant where a dead body was found. You cannot believe what the police are saying because your wife is perfect. Then your wife's best friend tries to get you to turn against her, but why?

In this thrilling novel, Lapena twists and turns almost every ounce of what you think is the truth into something crazier. — by Kayla Grijalva

Donations: Our thanks to Rick Anderson, the Tribal Legal Department and Kathleen George for their contributions to the library collection. We appreciate the generosity of our friends of the library.

Reminder: Donated items must be clean and in good condition.

Inter-Library Loan services: The Tribal Library partners with Oregon State Library to offer "library to library" inter-library loan services.
