Fisher named co-president of UNITY committee

Former Grand Ronde resident SuSun Fisher has been named female co-president of the United National Indian Tribal Youth's National Unity Conference Executive Committee.

Fisher, 19, is a member of the Confederated Tribes of Siletz Indians, but is originally from Grand Ronde. She previously served as the 2016-17 Northwest representative of the Executive Committee.

Fisher is attending the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque where she is studying to obtain a bachelor's degree in political science.

Fisher served as female co-president of the Siletz Youth Council and her work with UNITY started when she was 14 when she was named a "25 Under 25" award recipient. In 2014, she was a White House Tribal Youth Ambassador and in 2015 was named a UNITY Earth Ambassador.

Fisher is a descendant of the Tom/Norwest/Riggs families. She graduated from Chemawa Indian School in 2017. ■
