Reibach is one of 20 artists nominated along with the likes of new age artists Will Ackerman and David Arkenstone.

To vote, send an e-mail with Reibach's name to vote@oneworldmusic.co.uk.

"This is not something that a person submits or asks for," he said. "However, it is a huge honor. If selected, we (he and his wife, Rhonda) are going to dedicate the award to both our moms who just passed on this year, especially my mother-in-law Cathie, who really supported my music medicine journey. Voting is part of this and open through the end of August."

Reibach, who also works as the Tribe's Lands Department manager, has received almost 70 awards for his Native America flute music over the last two decades, including six NAMAs in 32 nominations. ■

SHERIDAN — The Buell Grange will be holding a fundraiser breakfast for the Grand-Sherimina Food Bank from 8 to 11 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 8, at the grange, 5970 Mill Creek Road.

Cost is $7 for either pancakes or French toast, or eggs and potatoes. There may be a surprise menu item as well and all the coffee you can drink.

Police Department has non-emergency text line

The Grand Ronde Tribal Police Department has created a non-emergency text line at 541-921-2927.

"Even though this is mostly designed for children, I don't want adults thinking that they can't use it as well. If you have a non-emergency situation or question, feel free to contact my officer via text through this line," said Grand Ronde Tribal Police Chief Jake McKnight. "When one of my officers receives the text, they will call you back when they have time."

McKnight said that emergency situations still require calling 911.

For more information, contact McKnight at 503-879-1474. ■
