

Gems booth displayed a variety of antique turquoise jewelry and trinkets at market held Friday, Dec. 13, in the Tribal gym.

Kailiyah Krehbiel makes a sale at the Holiday Market held in the Tribal gym on Friday, Dec. 13. Her booth displayed bracelets, lip balms and woven reindeers made by herself, while the larger items like the woven hats were made by her father, Brian.

...denough, 6, walks down an aisle with Grand Ronde Tribal Police Department Lynn during the Shop With a Cop event held at the Walmart in Dallas on Saturday, ... the event gives children a chance to interact with police officers in a non- ... nt situation and allows the children to purchase Christmas gifts for their family ... Twenty children participated in the event and the funding came from the Grand ... al Police Department's budget.

Spirit Mountain Casino Marketing Director Shawna Ridgebear talks to members of the media about Spirit Mountain Casino's annual Holiday Toy Drive donations at Doernbecher Children's Hospital in Portland on Monday, Dec. 16. For more than 10 years, the casino has held the toy drive to encourage casino guests to bring in new, unwrapped toys in exchange for free slot play. The toy drive starts in mid-November and wraps up in early December.

Visit Smoke Signals' facebook page to see more photos

Records and Evidence Technician Egypt Leno uses her phone as Grand Ronde Tribal Police Chief Jake McKnight bags items to purchase during the Shop With a Cop event held at the Walmart in Dallas on Saturday, Dec. 14.

Spirit Mountain Casino Marketing Department members, from left, Sales Representative Jenny Moore, Events Coordinator Naomi Clink, Event/Entertainment Manager Cathy Wright and Sponsorships Administrator Jocelyn Huffman pack up toys after the media portion of Spirit Mountain Casino's annual Holiday Toy Drive donation at Doernbecher Children's Hospital.