

TERO Worker of the Month February 2024

Name: Sammy Bruised Head
Employer: Kiewit Infrastructure West
Position: Journeyman carpenter

Sammy Bruised Head

Sammy first applied with the TERO program in 2018. She was immediately dispatched to one of our heavy highway construction projects for the Oregon Department of Transportation. Sammy had some experience and great potential but wanted to further her skills in the construction world.

She then signed up to participate in many of the trainings that TERO offers. Sammy was involved in our crew leadership class, OSHA 10, Baker Technical Institute equipment training and has also obtained her Class A Commercial Driver's License through the TERO program.

These trainings readied Sammy for the biggest project that TERO has been involved in since we were established in 2013. The I-205 Abernethy Bridge is a 4-year project, located just outside of Oregon City. Sammy was referred out as a journeyman carpenter and is quickly making her way up through the ranks as a key employee.

Sammy said she is very grateful for the TERO program and training. These have helped her to enhance her skills and to recognize her drive and ability to work on prevailing wage projects. Sammy is very proud to represent our Tribe and to help us fulfill the Native hiring goals that TERO sets on all of our projects.

TERO is proud to have Sammy on our team. Great work!
