When the tug Triumph was towing the schooner Amethyst in over the bar last Monday, a swell caught the schooner and ran her over the hawser. This formed a bight which caught behind the centerboard and when the tug tightened up on the hawser it was parted at the bight. The schooner had momentum sufficient to carry it inside the jetty and over the roughest water but it bumped somewhat on the rocks of the jetty before it was under control again although the tug's crew did lively work and soon had the hawser fastened to the schooner again. The life saving crew were at the scene with their usual promptness, but the tug had the schooner under control when they arrived.

Marshall Noy, of Marshfield was in town last Saturday.

H. H. McPherson was doing business last Monday.

Early Seed Potatoes—Beauty of Hebron—at J. B. Marshall & Son's.

A. F. Emmett, of Southern Coos, was doing business in town last Tuesday.

J. S. McClellan, of Olalla, registered at the Tupper House last Saturday.

Do you belong to me? No, sir, I don't think I do, and I should hate to think I did.

The steamer Mandalay is expected here next Saturday on her return from San Francisco.

Mrs. Wakeman of Empire City came over yesterday and will stop in Bandon a few weeks.

The steamer Argo is expected here by Tuesday next and is billed to sail again on the 28th.

G. H. Magoon has just opened another 500 pound lot of choice candies. Call and inspect them.

J. P. Tupper was in town yesterday hauling brick to his ranch on Johnson creek, to be used in building fines for his new house.

Barty Davidson while chopping with a double bit axe, yesterday evening cut his hand quite severely. It required four stitches to sew up the wound.

The wife of Dr. Caldwell, of Port Orford, accompanied by her children was in Bandon, the latter part of last week on her way from San Francisco to join her husband.

Henry J. Zimmwalt is still lingering on the verge of the grave but is thought to be gradually sinking. His daughter, Mrs. Blackberry, who is in attendance, is also on the sick list.

Miss Doll Cope, one of Floris Creek's fair daughters, and Mr. Fred Belloni, one of Northern Curry's prominent dairymen were joined in wedlock, on the 14th inst. Rev. Gillespie officiating.

The barbers of Bandon have concluded together and concluded that as the law prohibits the presence of their trade on Sundays that they will abide the law and close their shops on Sundays until further notice.

Captain W. H. Harris, one of the early pioneers of Oregon and of Coos county, was buried at Myrtle Point last Sunday having died a couple of days previously. Captain Harris was one of the early settlers of Coos and has always been one of our prominent and honored citizens.

A meteor, of pumicestone formation, fell near where the men were at work, last week, in Vergil's logging camp near Parkersburg. The stone, which weighs about 100 pounds, was dug up and is on exhibition at the camp. It penetrated the earth about 8 feet and was still hot when dug up.

Now that ships are in demand and shipyards are reported to have all they can do and that the demand is still greater than the supply, Bandon and vicinity might profit by a little push in that direction. The proper effort might establish a shipyard here that would bring much employment at good wages, and give more life to trade.

Some party has been guilty of wantonly defacing the paling that incloses one of the graves in the cemetery and as complaint occasionally comes to us of the removal of flower plants and the breaking of rosebushes from graves, and the disappearance of water pots, etc., it is time that this kind of vandalism is stopped and an example made of the perpetrators if he or they can be detected.

Port Orford Tribune: Mr. James Ellis met with quite a severe accident Saturday evening. He started to Hubbard's creek with part of a sack of grain on his shoulder, to feed Gauntlett's sick horse. He was walking along a high, perpendicular bluff, and getting too near the edge, the earth gave way, precipitating him to the bottom. He received serious bruises about the head, and is being attended by Dr. Caldwell.

The advent of steam transportation between this point and San Francisco is having a marked effect upon the great piles of matchwood that were piled upon the wharf. This supply has been reduced until the wharf begins to have a vacant appearance although considerable remains. However, as soon as spring opens up teams will be busy again bringing in more, and with the product from the sawmills and broomhandle plants south of town to be landed in there will be considerable stir here during the summer.

Chinese Trouble Still Unsettled.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—A dispatch to the Herald from Peking says: A new turn in the peace negotiations has caused a diplomatic earthquake among the Ministers. A brief and almost insulting note from the court has arrived, flatly refusing any further execution than the two previously decreed. Yu Hsien, Governor of Shan Si Province, will be de-capitalized and Prince Chwang will be allowed to commit suicide. The note adds that possibly Chao Shao-Chao, formerly Minister of Justice, may be included among those to suffer death, but the court reserves its decision in his case.

It is also bluntly stated that no further initiative will be permitted to Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching, who are berated for having failed to protest vigorously against the demand of the Ministers for six executions, three posthumous and three documentary. The court calls this demand preposterous and impossible to meet, and says that it was not contemplated when the general agreement was signed. The Imperial Government says, in short, that the powers ask outrageously too much and cannot be satisfied.

Petition for a Dredger.

Motion is made in the Coquille Bulletin of a petition to the authorities at Washington for an appropriation to put the dredger that lies here on the mud flat to work clearing snags from the river and remove sediment that has been deposited by the floods, and which has added difficulties to rapid and successful navigation. This screw is all right as a snagging institution but as a dredger it certainly is a failure as it only picks up the mud in one place and drops it to one side of the current from which place it is very likely to get back into the channel and fill up some other place in the immediate vicinity of where it was removed from. The only dredger that will do satisfactory work along the Coquille river is one which will carry the sediment back over the banks and deposit it in low places where it will form soil and remain.

If the right kind of a dredger is secured and put into operation, the value of the benefit to the Coquille valley would be incalculable, but unless the sediment is carried out and back from the stream the work will have nothing like a permanent effect.

Water transportation is the cheapest transportation that can be had, and its improvement is a benefit that accrues to future generations as well as to present purposes if the work is done permanently.

In petitioning petition for that which will give satisfaction, and waste no time, thought or money on a machine that will have little or no merit in reducing the shoals under consideration.

AROUND THE COUNTY.

From the Marshfield Sun.
Died.—At Oakland, Cal., Feb. 6 1901, Mrs. Mary A. Gunn, aged 87 years. Mrs. Gunn was the mother of Mrs. C. H. Merchant, of this city.

Daniel Ingersoll died at his home on South slough Tuesday evening, after a lingering illness of many months, aged 80 years. The funeral takes place at Empire City this afternoon.

L. A. Whereat, the civil engineer has accepted a position as chief of the engineer corps on the Daniel's creek railroad. Mr. Whereat has considerable work before him this summer in surveying a route over the Blue Ridge mountains.

From the Myrtle Point Enterprise.
Capt. W. T. McCloskey has let a contract for a stern wheel steamer to be used on the upper river.

Chas. Gnerin, who has been in the employ of the U. S. Gov. Survey for some time, returned home from Newhall, Calif., Thursday.

Capt. O. R. Willard has sold the steamer Fawn, to Chas. and Henry James, of Coquille, who will fit the boat up for towing purposes.

A. R. Moomaw, formerly of Norway, has purchased an orange farm near Los Angeles. The farm consists of 13 acres and the price paid was $15,000.

The work of clearing out the channel in the jetty work below town has been going on this week. The channel between the piling put in by the government had completely filled up and the current broke through to the old channel near the south side of the river. It was necessary to remove the piling, which when done, will enable the steamer to get into the old channel, which has a good depth of water.
