A daughter of Henry Clemens got severely injured, one day last week, by getting it caught between the steamer Dispatch and the wharf at Clemens's landing. The accident resulted from an attempt to pick up a letter which she had dropped into the river in handing it to her father who had stepped aboard the boat.

Miss Blanche Stitt who has spent the winter with her sister, Mrs. Kate Lehart, at Wendling, Oregon, returned home last Friday accompanied by the latter who came home on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Stitt. Mr. Lehart will follow in a few weeks after which Mr. and Mrs. Lehart intend going to Washington state.

Valley Record: Rev. E. A. Ross has just closed a successful revival at Redondo, Southern California. He writes D. L. Rice that "the Lord has been good to me largely on all lines. I now own a fine lot on Central Avenue, Los Angeles. It is 47x165 and by May 1st D. V. we shall begin to build a modern 7 room house up to date from cellar to garret. My hall, parlor and dining room will be large enough so that when thrown all together we can seat a congregation of 150 people to hear a full gospel unobscured."

Coquille Bulletin: Wm. Albee and family, who left Fishtrap about two years ago for Iowa to reside, returned last Friday. They were accompanied by his brother A. S. Albee and family, and brother-in-law Howard Young who come to make their home in Coos. Mr. Albee says that Coos is good enough for him and that he would rather have a little rain in preference to cyclones, blizzards, thunder showers, etc. He says that wages in some parts of Iowa were not as good as here. Coos county is the place for him and we think that he might travel a great distance before he would find as equitable a climate and a place where a poor man can have a better chance.

For pieplant call on J. B. Marshall & Son.

The Lamprey creek coal field which is being opened up by J. H. Timon, is turning out grandly. Mr. Timon informed us that he has five workable veins in it, ranging from 3 to 13 feet thick. He expects to be shipping coal from there in 60 days. The coal from this field is superior to any other.

William Carroll, superintendent of city construction on the Coquille, and keeper R. Johnson, of the Life-saving service, went on a fishing expedition to Jones' lake last Monday. Keeper Johnson returned in the evening with a string of 62 fine, large trout, and as he made his remarks to the success of his fellow sportsman, we conclude that Mr. Carroll had been much in successful than Mr. Johnson.

The hall given by the Fire Department Band, last Saturday evening, was a very enjoyable occasion and was a success financially and otherwise. The Tupper House donated the proceeds of the midnight supper except the chickens for the same which were donated by the parents and wives of the members of the band, with a few exceptions, and the hall was furnished free of charge by Alvin Munnick, so that the band realized about $75 after liquidating all expenses. This fund will be used to pay for instruction.

Myrtle Point Enterprise: The Myrtle Point baseball club is getting their ground in fine shape for the opening of the season—May 12. It was enclosed this week with a 8 foot wall, and next week will witness the completion of the grand stand. The infield has been cleared of all grass and sod and made perfectly level, while the out field has been cleared of the logs and brush, and all the holes filled up, which taken all together, makes as good if not the best ground in the county. It is plenty large—nearly four acres. The boys received 50 dollars worth of baseball goods this week, a complete outfit, with the exception of suits, which will be home made, and will now proceed to get right down to hard practice, and if they don't win it won't be because they didn't do their best. A large attendance will undoubtedly witness the first game—Myrtle Point vs Marshfield, at Myrtle Point.

The boys are quick to respond and can be depended upon when needed.

Marshfield Sun: All is activity at the race track and the string of horses was never longer at this season of the year. All of the stalls that are not occupied have been spoken for and the management is arranging to erect more buildings to accommodate the prospective race men who will come to Marshfield to train their horses. It has, as yet, not been decided whether the district fair will be held in this city or not, but at all events a race meeting will occur here this season that will relieve all other programs ever given in the county.

THE CONTEMPTIBLE NEUTRAL.

The world was full of battle— The whole world far and wide; Men and women and children Were fighting on either side.

I was sent from the hottest combat With a message of life and death, Black with smoke and red with blood, Weary and out of breath.

Forced to linger a moment And bind a stubborn wound, Cursing the lack that kept me back From the dery battle ground.

When I found a cheerful stranger, Calm, critical, serene, Well sheltered from all danger Painting a battis scene.

He was cordially glad to see me— The coolly smiling wretch— And inquired with admiration, "Do you mind if I make a sketch?"

So he had me down in a minute, With murmurs of real delight; My "color" was "delicious," My "action" was "just right!"

And he prattled on with ardor Of the moving scene below, Of the "values" of the smoke wreaths, And the "splendid rush and go."

Of the heading desperate charges Where a thousand lives were spent; Of the "massing" in the foreground With the "middle-distance" bent.

Said I: "You speak serenely Of the living death in view; These are human creatures dying— Are you not human, too?"

"This is a present battle Where all men strive to stay; How does it chance you sit apart? Which is your banner—say?"

His fresh cheek blanched a little, And he answered with a smile That he fought on either side; He was watching a little while.

"Watching," said I, and neutral! Neutral in times like these! And I plucked him off his sketching stool And brought him to his knees.

I stripped him of his traveling cloak And showed him to the sky— By his uniform—a traitor! By his handwork—a spy!

I dragged him back to the field he left— To the fate he was fitted for, We have no place for lookers-on, While all the world's at war. —CHARLOTTE PERKINS STETSON.
