The base ball game is off for next Sunday, and it is not certain that the Coquille and Marshfield teams can be brought together again. The Coquille team is willing and anxious, but report says differently of the Marshfield team.

Mrs. R. M. Minard and three children, a grown son and his wife, and the Misses Mabel and Annie Weekly of Dura, and Miss Ora Weekly, of Douglas county, arrived here about the middle of last week to attend the Reunion of Latter Day Saints. K. H. Hansen and wife, of Myrtle Point were in attendance on Sunday.

Superintendent T. W. Clark, of the Bandon Woolen Mills, returned home from his eastern visit last Saturday evening well pleased with his trip, having secured a contract for the next output of the mills, for the next year or to July 1, 1901, with a house in Michigan, at good figures for the goods. He returned by San Francisco where he contracted for a large amount of wool with which to carry out his contract. The business prospects of the mill have a prosperous look ahead and have never been better than at the present time.

The Bandon branch reunion of the Reorganized church, of Jesus Christ, of Latter Day Saints, closed on Sunday evening, and the Elders and visiting members left next morning for their respective fields of labor and homes. The series of meetings was interesting from beginning to end, and the interest taken by a considerable number who have heretofore not taken much interest in religious gatherings was quite distinct. On Saturday there were six applicants for admission who were baptized. They were all confirmed the next day. The names of those who united with the church on this occasion are Jacob Prewett, sr., Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Stancliff, Miss Frances Corson, Miss Ethel Boyd and Miss Georgena Hayes. The Bandon branch has now a membership of nearly eighty persons, half of whom were in attendance during these meetings. The members of the branch are well satisfied with the success that has attended this re-union, and look forward to an increased interest in the work at this place. The next re-union will be held in Bandon commencing the last Friday in August, 1902, and continuing ten days.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in their curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Three Master Ashore.

The Steel Bark Baroda on the Beach at Fourmile.

Yesterday news was brought to town that there was a vessel ashore at the mouth of Fourmile, a small creek which empties into the ocean, about six miles south of this place, and subsequent information gives out the following facts in the case:

The vessel is a steel bark of 1400 tons owned by Greenock, Scotland, Captain Marr, master, and was on her way from Calao, Peru, to Portland in ballast.

She got out of position in the fog, and went ashore yesterday morning about 1:30 o'clock. The place at which she is ashore is free from rocks and is sandy, and at low tide a person can walk around the vessel.

There is a possibility of the bark being floated. The tug Triumph went out last night and is out as we go to press, but there was considerable fog during the night and nothing was accomplished.

Mark Danham's Communication.

TELLER CITY, Alaska, July 24, 1901.

Pardon me for not writing sooner, but since I left Nome I have been wrestling with a Roberts pipe boiler in a steamer and I assure you it would interest anyone plenty.

This place is situated almost 120 miles above Nome, but the points of the compass I cannot tell. Unlike Nome, the approach to which is an open roadstead, swept by the storms of Behring sea, this is an inland harbor, and vessels can lay here with safety and good anchorage.

Teller has a population of about 1000 permanent inhabitants, and a large influx of itinerants impossible to enumerate, and apparently all on the move enticed this way by erroneous reports of fabulous wealth, to be found on the different tributaries from this port of entry, principally to Mary's Eglo, which is about 75 miles and the head of navigation for steamers. There are small streams all along and everything is staked off for miles around.

Occasionally you hear of some one striking it rich, as they call it, but a large portion of it is to be discredited. Transportation companies actuated by selfish motives keep rumors going all the time to lure the tenderfoot and it is almost impossible to avoid them.

The country around here is destitute of timber, and is of a mountainous nature, traversed with small creeks and ravines, where they expect to find the precious metal which has lured so many away doomed to final disappointment. There are no rocks nor sunken snag to impede navigation, and no obstructions but sand bars. It is called the land of the Midnight Sun and Snow. I see the snow all the time, but very little sun. However, it never gets dark and the modern Oregonian does not know enough to go to bed until dark, hence, it is working a hardship on me in that respect.

Teller City is beautifully situated, and is a distributing point for all the creeks and rivers. Unlike Nome, which is a mudhole, Teller is devoid of mud, however not paved with gold but with gravel and shale or slate, and the streets are mechanically laid out, and good substantial buildings have been erected and others are in course of construction. Whether it will continue to grow depends entirely upon the developments of this season. All kinds of business and trades are represented from substantial merchandise to tent junk shops and the shyster lawyer. The grafts are many and are initiated into all business.

Saloon keeping is profitable business and they are open all the time. The Soiled Doves have made their appearance, and are in all saloons, the same as men. The expense of living is rather high and very poor, however I have lived well so far. Another man bought the provision. $1 is the usual price for a meal. $1 is the price for the privilege to sleep and furnish your own blankets. Personally I am all right in that respect so far. I am on a steamer with good rugs, but the above is the bill of fare for my fellow man.

Wages are about $5 and $10 for common labor, carpenters $10, cooks $4 or 5 and everything in proportion. I do not have any grievance, personally, but would not advise any one to come this way unless he knows what he is going to do, for there will be a great many destitute persons here when the winter comes.

I intend to return home when the geese returns south this fall, so you will know when to look for me.

H. W. DUNHAM.

The W. C. T. U. County Convention.

Delegates from the several W. C. T. U.'s of Coos County, met the state president, Mrs. Helen D. Harford at Coquille City, August 24, 1901 to elect County officers, for the coming year. Following is a list of officers of the county organization:

President, Myrtle L. Shannon, of Bandon; Vice President at large, Mrs. Lundy, of Myrtle Point; Corresponding Sec., Isabel Lamont, of Bandon; Recording Sec., Mrs. E. M. Disher, of Coquille; Treas., Mrs. Betty Bourke, of Marshfield.

REPORT OF COM. ON RESOLUTIONS.
COQUILLE, Ore., Aug. 24, 1901.

We your committee on resolutions submit the following:

First. Resolved, That we pledge our loyal support to the newly elected county officers, and also pledge ourselves to the earnest effort for the building up of interest in the work in several unions to which we belong.

Second. Resolved, That we deplore the wide spread, and flagrant disregard of the Lord's day so characteristic of our times, and pledge ourselves to do all within our power to enforce our laws relative to this day.

Third. Resolved, That we regret that an effort is being made to create a sentiment adverse to the Anti-Cantonee law, and that we urge all good citizens to use their influence to make this law effective.

Fourth. Resolved, That we thank our state president, Mrs. Helen D. Harford, for her valuable aid in the convention, and the state union for making it possible for her to be with us.

Fifth. Resolved, That we tender a vote of thanks to the transportation managers, who have so kindly given special rates to the convention.

Sixth. Resolved, That we hereby tender our thanks to the various committees who have done the work necessary in the preparation for this convention, and also to the people of Coquille who have entertained the delegates from abroad.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. FRY,
J. M. HUNTER, } Committee
MYRTLE SHANNON.
