Josh Washner, of Loogootee, Ind., is a poor man, but he says he would not be without Chamberlain's Pain Balm if it cost five dollars a bottle, for it saved him from being a cripple. No external application is equal to this liniment for stiff and swollen joints, contracted muscles, stiff neck, sprains and rheumatic and muscular pains. It has also cured numerous cases of partial paralysis. It is for sale by C. Y. Lowe. A. J. Hamblin, of Jackson county has purchased A. F. Emmett's farm, near New Lake, and took possession last week. Mr. Emmett will leave on the Mandalay for San Francisco, and will probably locate in the vicinity of Santa Rosa. Mr. Emmett has long been associated with the southern part of Coos, but severs the association in quest of a change, hoping that his health, which has broken slightly during the past three or four years, may be benefited by a change of climate. Saturday night was a jubilee for members of the Grand Army, of this place. Some Sevonteen members from the posts of Marshfield, Coquille and Myrtle Point, were present, and with a nice supper given by the Relief Corps, a pleasant time was had. When the Dispatch came to the wharf Saturday evening, the familiar sounds of the life and drums greeted the ears of those who were near, carrying the minds of the older persons back to the time when each paraded throughout the states coasting their band of martial music.

She asks you to call and examine her stock before purchasing elsewhere. Oregonian: "Timekeepers of progress" is President McKinley's characterization of the great modern expositions. This generous statement was among his last utterances, and it is painful to think that, with it almost upon his lips, he was shot down by an enemy of all progress who found in the crowded exposition the opportunity to commit a deed that would have disgraced the Middle Ages. Schooner Onward. Last Monday marks another step of advancement as to the future of the Coquille valley. On that occasion the handsome three masted schooner which has been on the ways at Parkersburg, was launched into the water of the Coquille, preparatory to completing the vessel, by putting in the masts, rigging up and putting on the finishing touches. The launch took place in the forenoon and was accomplished without a hitch or hindrance of the slightest kind, and was witnessed by a number of persons who had been apprised of the time of launching. The new vessel is named "Onward." She has a length of keel 125 feet, and 34 feet beam, and is estimated to have a carrying capacity of 300,000 feet of lumber. A peculiar feature of the new vessel is that she will have two center boards, which is a departure from the style of other vessels visiting the Coquille, although this is not new in the construction of boats.

Strike at San Francisco Causing Lawlessness. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Business in the wholesale district was resumed this morning, and the big drays, which were stalled yesterday, were brought out again, with nonunion teamsters perched upon the boxes. The number of teams and men placed at work was about the same as for the past week. There seems to be no probability of a settlement at an early date, and the unions have settled down to a grim siege, while the employers continue with their wearing-out policy, which they have maintained from the beginning. At present, the time of a large force of union pickets is taken up with keeping a watch on the railroads, as quite a number of Eastern men have been brought into the state to take the places of strikers. These pickets are placed along the railroad line at various points, mostly between Sacramento and the state line, and it is their affair to dissuade Eastern laborers from coming here. Considerable success is reported as a result of their work. Twenty-four machinists were landed at Point Richmond last night, having come from Georgia over the Santa Fe line. They came to work at the Union and Risdon Iron Works. The iron trades' pickets induced a number of them not to go to work. The managers of the Risdon and Union Iron Works, however, report additions to their working forces, and that the strike is not retarding their business to nearly so great a degree as it did at first. Secretary Roseberg, of the Labor Council, said this morning that he had his office force sending out about 30,000 boycott circulars, asking that laboring people withhold their patronage from a number of firms, which are actively identified with the Employers' Association. Sporadic assaults on nonunion workmen continue. The Post this afternoon asserts that a committee of vigilantes is being formed for the purpose of putting to an end all lawlessness. The movement is not particularly aimed at the strikers, it is said, but against a large class which has taken advantage of the fact that the police are detailed on strike duty, to follow their natural bent for robbery and burglary. Grain brokers in this city report today that the situation at the various points of shipment is unchanged. Very little grain is being moved, and the men at work are few in number. They are required to be under constant protection, and are boarded and lodged in the warehouses, restrained by fear of violence from mingling with the people on the outside. At Port Costa and at Stockton the work is proceeding slowly. Immense quantities of grain are stored at both places, and the warehouses are taxed to their full capacity most of the time. The farmers are deeply concerned over the serious phase of the situation, and have intimated that if necessary they will send a body of armed men to Port Costa to see that the grain handlers are protected from any threat of interference. George W. McNear declared this morning that there is more wheat on the move than many supposed, but that the situation is nevertheless an unpleasant one. "In Tulare County," said he, "there are a couple of hundred thousand sacks waiting to be shipped and threatened by exposure. The warehouses are crowded. Reports have been constantly circulated to the effect that only about 30 per cent of the grain at Port Costa is being moved. These reports are absolutely untrue. The fact is we are handling 75 per cent of the wheat shipped to Port Costa, and the situation is improving, although slowly." STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, Lucas County. FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J.
