Saturday evening was one of the most disagreeable ones, so far this winter and the inhospitality of the rainy weather hindered many from attending the ball given by the Fire Department Band. However the attendance was fair and those who enjoy dancing report having had a most excellent time. The proceeds of the ball were ample to cover the expenses and put a small amount into the treasury to help pay the expenses of the band for an instructor.

A. J. Snell wanted to attend a party, but was afraid to do so on account of pains in his stomach, which he feared would grow worse. He says, "I was being troubled to a lady friend, who said: Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will put you in condition for the party." I bought a bottle and take pleasure in stating that two doses cured me and enabled me to have a good time at the party." Mr. Snell is a resident of Summer Hill, N. Y. This remedy is for sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Oregonian: The Canal Commission will report to Congress in favor of the Nicaragua rather than the Panama route. By the Panama route the distance from New York to San Francisco is 377 nautical miles longer than the route through the Nicaragua Canal, and it is 579 miles longer by the Panama route from New Orleans to San Francisco than by the Nicaragua route. By the Nicaragua canal the time of passage would be thirty-three hours, by the Panama route, three hours. This extra twenty-one hours at ten knots an hour is equal to an increased distance of 210 nautical miles against the Nicaragua Canal, but the climate of the Panama route is very unhealthy, and during the rainy season it would be most difficult and expensive to keep the canal in perfect repair.

If you miss the Concert, Saturday evening December 14, you miss the most worthy and delightful entertainment of the season.

Loggers have been highly favored this fall as the rise of water in the streams has been such as to permit them to float out logs without loss.

Grand Concert.

The Concert to be given at Munck's Hall on Saturday December 14, will be a fine treat.

The band has improved wonderfully, and a good Orchestra, of 8 pieces, has been organized for that occasion. Both are directed by Prof. Garnaud, who has charge of the concert, and who is assisted by some of the best local talent, including Mrs. T. W. Clark, Mrs. M. Bryan, Mrs. Garnaud, Mrs. H. T. Wooten, Miss Belle Vora Rich, Mrs. Fred Mehl, Mrs. A. J. Hartman, and A. V. Wakeman.

The Concert will consist of instrumental Solos, Duets and Trios on Violin, Mandolin, Guitar, Piano, Flute, Cornet, Etc., Songs and Recitations, also selections by the band and orchestra.

Wing and Wing Still Out.

NEWPORT, Ore., Nov. 27.—The tug Roberts arrived in this afternoon from Siuslaw. She reports not sighting the schooner Wing and Wing, which was reported flying distress signals off Siuslaw November 25. This schooner has been off Siuslaw about a month, in which time five other schooners have been towed in and out, but the Wing and Wing always stood well off to sea and never came in so the tug could take her in tow. The Roberts towed schooner Bella into Siuslaw yesterday.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks not Dead.

Notwithstanding a widely current rumor that the Rev. Irl R. Hicks was dead, he never was in better health, and never did a harder and more successful year's work than that just closing. He has just completed his large and splendid Almanac for 1902 and, with his staff of able helpers, has brought his journal, WORDS AND WORKS, justly forward into international reputation. For a quarter of a century Mr. Hicks has grown in reputation and usefulness as the peoples astronomer, and forecaster of storms and the character of coming seasons. Never were his weather forecasts so sought after as now, his timely warning of a serious drouth this year having saved the people from loss and suffering. Millions of bushels of wheat were harvested through his advice to plant crops that would mature early. The American people will certainly stand by Prof. Hicks, when it costs them so little and the benefits are so great. His fine Almanac of 200 pages is only 25c, and his splendid family journal is only one dollar a year including the Almanac. Send to WORD AND WORKS Pub. Co., 2291 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo.

A special dispatch to the Evening Telegram of November 29, gave the following information in regard to Elijah Smith who was connected with the S O Company and is well known in this county: "Elijah Smith of Oregon, once a power in railroad affairs and a millionaire, now broken in purse and with his mind shattered, is an inmate of a sanitarium in Boston, and is being cared for by his brother, Prosper W. Smith. He was known in Wall street as Elijah the Prophet, and was as prominent as J. P. Morgan, J. J. Hill, or James R. Keen are now. His brother thinks he may recover."

Tried Bathing.

The waters of the Coquille have had a powerful magnetic influence to Bandonians during the past week, so much so, that several have embraced its placid bosom only to find repose was uncomfortable and that they had got into the wrong bed and the blanket was too wet.

Y. M. Lowe was the first victim. In passing along the street Thursday evening about 7 o'clock accompanied by his wife, it being very dark, he mistook his location and got on the north side of the street and encountered some timbers that had been unloaded there for Rosa's wharf. He made a step backward and went over to the river. The water was about four feet deep, and a good ducking was the result without further injury.

The next victim was Charles Stewart. He was called to the wharf on Saturday night and in the darkness stepped off the wharf falling between the wharf and the tug Triumph. He had on rubber boots and coat but on coming to the surface he got hold on one of the piles to which he clung until a rope was thrown to him by which he was drawn upon the wharf.

Next in the line came Amos Corson who was gathering wood from the drift in front of his house on Monday morning. He walked out on a log and undertook to fasten a pike into another log, and in making the attempt lost his balance and took a quick bath.

The Schooner Ralph J. Long Stranded in Alaska.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 27.—Advices from the north are to the effect that the long over-rdne schooner Ralph J. Long, from Nome, lies stranded at Unalaska, with 115 passengers. The vessel is out of food, the passengers have spent all their money to obtain the absolute necessities of life, and they now appeal for help to the War Department.

L. Frank Brown, a well-known lawyer of this city, presented a resolution to the Seattle Chamber of Commerce to-day giving the facts in the case, and urging the necessity of immediate assistance for the unfortunate passengers and crew. The members of the Chamber of Commerce were unanimously in favor of acting upon the matter at once, and a request will be made to the authorities at Washington asking them to send a revenue cutter or some Government vessel to bring down the starving people.

The Long lies at Unalaska without stores, and the passengers and crew are practically penniless. The vessel reached the port on October 5, out of food and water. Since that time the conditions have grown from bad to worse. The storekeepers at the point refuse to advance enough provisions to allow the schooner to reach Puget Sound, and the passengers are afraid to venture out in a helpless condition.

MARINE NOTES.

ARRIVED. Nov. 30.—Steer Mandalay, Reed, 51 hours from San Francisco.

The Baroda.

Captain Burns who has charge of the work to launch the Baroda was in town last night. He was trying to get a tug from Coos bay, but the telephone lines were down.

We learned that during the high tide yesterday the Baroda was jumping around in good shape, and it was difficult to keep her from getting out further than Captain Burns wanted her unless he had a vessel outside to pull on her.

The vessel now lies head out to sea and has been moved far enough out so that any ordinary tide will float her. It is expected that she will be gotten off as soon as a vessel can be had to do the towing from the outside.
