EDITORIAL.

Why should the energy of the nation be absorbed by trusts, and the fruition of the hopes of the great mass of mankind be brought to naught, when justice demands that each person shall have equal opportunity, the foundation of the constitution of our government being laid in liberty and equality.

According to the New York World this country paid $90,000,000, last year to secure an export trade of $3.000,000 to the Philippines, netting a gain on exports reckoned at threefourths of a million dollars. Americans have been reputed the shrewdest traders in the world, but they cannot continue this wreckless course long and hold their prestidge.

The Ship Subsidy bill is under discussion in the U. S. Senate. Shipbuilders want the government to pay them a subsidy to build and operate vessels. These schemes to fleece the public are infamous, and if the people must stand behind the ship owners with a subsidy, then the people had better build, operate and own the means of transportation. There would be a grand saving to the people by such ownership.

If congress would evolve some scheme and enact it into law by which men would be retired from active business when they became possessors of a million dollars each, it would do much to prolong the present competitive system. But it it persists in helping the trusts and other corporations, through unjust tariff measures. Ship Subsidy schemes and other burdensome laws, to rob the people, Congressmen must expect that the time will come when an effectual effort will be made to throw off the load.

"The merchant marine is the only industry in the United States which has not been given the fostering care of the government," says Senator Hanna in his speech in defense of the Ship Subsidy bill. Hanna is very solicitous about the merchant marine, but as yet there is no anxiety displayed on his part for the common American people who must bear the burden of such "fostering care." The infant sugar industry, the tobacco industry, the steel industry, and scores of others show the effect of the fostertering care, and it is a noted fact that when any industry is once given special advantages, and has fastened its leach like propensities upon the resources of the country, it cannot be shaken off as its tentacles entwine congress with a golden band which holds the resources of the country within its grasp.

We are told that equality exists and that each American citizen has a chance to rise. This is true or false in the whole just as it is construed. If intellectual development is considered then it is true except in the case of idiots, and this exception might include all who have reached a stage where they will not think for themselves and close their intellects to the thoughts of thinkers for fear they might be compelled to believe. All except a very few may rise intellectually. But in the point of wealth or a competency of the products of mother earth the opprotunity is not equal, and the persons who make such claim is either wilfully false or an ignoramus. Capital is in the saddle and riding. Suppose a man wishes to start up in the steel manufacturing business what are his chances to cope with the Steel trust, or if he wishes to start in the butcher's business, in the East, independent of the Armours, what amount of capital must he command in order to build up a profitable business? One of our political wise men said, a few years years ago, that there were plenty of opportunities for profitable investment for men possessing $100,000 each, but now that capital has been combining into larger and farther reaching combinations even that saying needs revision and should read thus: "There are lots of good opportunities for young men having $100,000 to go into business and feed the trusts." Today you have equal business opportunity if your bank account is sufficient in amount to offset the opposition, if not you must be content with the lower level, and let flights of equal opportunity vanish from your mind. There can be no such thing as equal business opportunity under present conditions,

Unmarried American officers in the army in the Philippines have a chance to rise in the commercial scale. A Filipino multi-millionaire has a standing offer of $500,000 each for son in-laws as long as his supply of daughters hold out.

That illustrious document, the glorious Declaration of Independence, to the reading of which Patriotic American citizens listen each 4th of July with so much rejoicing, was promptly suppressed by United States authority when copies were being distributed among Filipinos.

While the senate, at Washington, is debating measures for the protection of the President, the members of that body might take into consideration that there can be no better protection provided than that which belongs to a government in which equitable conditions predominate.

There is a second-hand sword in S. Carolina that may be had cheap. It is the one designed for Major Jenkins, to be presented by President Roosevelt and which presentation was canceled by Lieutenant Governor Jas. Tillman. Major Jenkins declines to accept the article and the donors have it on their hands. They might find a taker in Senator Ben Tillman.

The Boer envoy got no sympathy when they visited Washington. How could they expect it? This country is galloping on the highway to empire and is not in position to extend symdathy to struggling patriots. If recognition had been extended, England could very appropriately exclaim, "Get the Filipino out of your own eyes and you will see more clearly to pluck the Boer out of ours."

Having a Run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Between the hours of eleven o'clock a. m. and closing time at night on Jan. 25th, 1901, A. F. Clark, druggist, Glade Springs, Va., sold twelve bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says, "I never handled a medicine that sold better or gave better satisfaction to my customers." This remedy has been in general use in Virginia for many years, and the people there are well acquainted with its excellent qualities. Many of them have testified to the remarkable cures which it has effected. When you need a good, reliable medicine for a cough or cold, or attack of the grip, use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you are certain to be more than pleased with the quick cure which it affords. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

The Fate of Explorer Andree.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, March 6.—A report sent out from the Hudson Bay post at Fort Churchill over two years ago that Andree, the Swedish aeronaut, and his associates had been killed by Eskimos is confirmed by advices received at the head office of the company here. Also one Churchill, in charge of the company's most northerly post on the West Coast of Hudson Bay, has written that after about two years' search the men sent out by him have returned with a report similar to the one first published. Traces of the daring ballonist and his associates were followed for hundreds of miles, but it was impossible to locate the tribe who caused the death.

The story of the searchers is that Arctic Eskimos saw "Oimiak" (one of their largest boats) floating in the air. When it settled to the ground three white men, strangely dressed, came out with guns, which they indiscreetly fired. Andree and his associates were killed with Huskee bows, and everything of value taken. The searchers found knives, tobacco and cartridges supposed to belong to Andree in possession of one of the most northern tribes, but could get no further information.

News that Andree undoubtedly met his death at the hands of the Eskimos has been forwarded to the Swedish Government.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Auroras Made to Order.

The aurora borealis is a celestial phenomenon seldom seen in these latitudes, but according to a European scientist any family may have one if it is desired. By plunging the negative wire of a powerful induction coil in a vessel of water and bringing the positive wire into contact with the surface of the water, or slightly below it, he has succeeded in creating the perfect aurora borealis, or northern lights, we have seen in the sky with such wonder and admiration.

The flickering streamers, now faint, now brilliant; the dark arc or half circle from which they flow—all the varied phenomena that have puzzled the mind of the observer are accurately repeated on a small scale.

M. Plante thinks that the aurora of our northern skies is produced by a flow of positive electricity through the upper regions of the air into planetary space, the fact that lightning and other similar phenomena are not frequent at the polar regions showing that the discharge is not toward the earth.

He believes that all the planets are charged with positive electricity, and that this flows out of the neighborhood of their magnetic poles. When it meets no resistance it goes off in obscure rays, but when it encounters masses of vapor then it becomes the glorious aurora.

These mysterious lights, waving and dancing in the northern sky have always been a marvel and puzzle to mankind, and any information that we can gain as to the cause of their coming and going is welcomed by old and young. This beautiful experiment proves that the aurora is but another form of the mysterious force that speaks to us through the telephone and telegraph, that heats our houses, cooks our food, gives us light in darkness and conveys us over land and sea.

A Printer Greatly Surprised.

"I was never so much surprised in my life, as I was with the results of using Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says Henry T. Crook, pressman of the Asheville (N. C.) Gazette. "I Contracted a severe case of rheumatism early last winter by getting my feet wet. I tried several things for it without benefit. One day while looking over the Gazette, I noticed that Pain Balm was positively guaranteed to cure rheumatism, so bought a bottle of it and before using two thirds of it my rheumatism had taken its flight and I have not had a rheumatic pain since." Columbia River Timberman: Oregon dogwood found in the Coast and Cascade ranges is one of the most valuable woods for turning purposes to be found on the coast. The trees attain a size of eight to ten inches on the stump, and the wood is susceptible of a high polish, and when finished is as white as ivory. For the manufacture of fine furniture, Oregon dogwood is bound to have a place.

ANY HEAD NOISES?

ALL CASES OF

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.
F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

BALTIMORE, Md., March 30, 1901.

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours, F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation.
Examination and advice free. YOU CAN CURE YOURSELF AT HOME at a nominal cost.
