EDITORIAL.

President Roosevelt says it is our duty to help Cuba, but the monied interests hang on to that old proverb -"The first law in nature is to look outfor self," and although the United States is a mighty nation and Cuba but a child, it is fair to presume that capital will concede no great amount of fostering care to Cuba unless it Gen. Smith instructed him to kill sees returning interest in the deal. and burn and make Samar a howling be unlawful to keep open any house Private interests are not summed up wilderness. in the command, "Love one another," but may be grouped in the axiom, "Do the other fellow before he does you."

Oregonian: The marked increase a few months ago in the price of meat throughout the country was met by consumers at first with protest, and then by querulous inquiry into the cause. Relief not coming from any quarter, the philosophical American settled down to make the best of it, and, it is said, has already, to his great delight, found that he had been eating more meat than was good for him, and that the increase in the price of meat has been a benefit rather than a calamity, even of the milder sort. No doubt this conclusion is well based. There is little question but that some Americans eat more meat than is healthful. A lessened use of this staple, with an increased consumption of other more nutritious and less stimulating foods, will prove valuable in assisting medical scientists to put to route rheumatic and other disorders that appear to increase rather than diminish with the advance of civilation.

----On Direct Legislation.

From the Daily Oregonian of March 31. The referendum in an obstacle to too much legislation; to surreptitious legislation; to legislation in particular inferests; to partisan machine legislation, and to boss rule. The dread of innovation, received as a first impression when the change to this system is proposed, will pass away on examination of it. It has been found, to the confusion of the radical leaders, that the measures they most prized have been negatived by the electorate. Of course, there would remain a vast variety of legislative measures which it would not be deemed necessary to submit to a di rect popular vote. All plain and simple acts, or most of them, short, direct and easily understood, would day. pass from the Legislature directly to the statue books; but the referendum would be ordered in all cases where there was serious opposition or doubt; that is to say in those very cases which ought to receive widest examination and be subjected to most searching discussion. Important legislation would thus be lifted above the schemes of interested persons, above the dominion of party or partisan leaders; legislative jobs would be minimized and a check nearly absolute would be put upon profligate legislation. These are some of the advantages. The disadvantages are such, mainly, as would be urged by those who habitually seek benefits through the present legislative system, and who object to relinquishment of existing opportunities. The Oregonian believes that upon study of the subject by the people this amendment will prevail; but it must be remembered rioting at Brussels began again. that in this, as in all similar cases, a majority of the electors voting at the particular election in which an amendment is submitted, must be re corded for it, in order to carry it.

SUNDAY LAW. Section 1890, provides that if any person shall keep open any store, shop, grocery, ball ally, billiard-room or tippling house, for the purpose of labor or traffic or any place of amuse ment, ou the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, such person upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five and not more than than fifty dollars; provided that the above provision shall not apply to the keepers of drugstores, doctor shops, undertakers livery stables, barbers, butcher and bakers and all circumstances of necessity and mercy may be pleaded in self defence.

Section 1909, provides that it shall or room in which intoxicating liquor is kept for retail, on Sunday or give, or sell, or otherwise dispose of intoxicating liquors on that day; any person violating the provisions of this section shall be fined a sum not exceeding twenty five nor less than ten dollars; said fine to benefit the common schools of the county in which the offence was committed; provided, as this section concerns keeping open tavern keepers.

It is estimated that two million boys from each generation are required to keep the saloous running. Have you a boy for the place? You vote for saloons; you will surely belp to keep them up. How many boys have you for the trade? Tonight while your boys are asleep visit their beds, look at them as they quietly slumber, and choose the one you will give to belp keep up the liquor traffic or perhaps you can spare two. You favor the liquor traffic; it makes towns lively, helps pay BUTTER, EGG, and expenses of town government, and makes business good. Surely to secure these benefits you can spare one or more of your boys to enter occasionly for amusement, to take a social glass, to play cards for pastime, to spend time, talent, money, to become boisterious, red faced, worthless, to fill a drunkard's grave and break a a mother's heart. Come now, be honest; how many boys can you, or will you supply to the trade.

A VALUABLE MEDICINE. For Coughs and Colds in Children.

"I have not the slightest besitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says Chas. M. Cramer, Esq., a well known watchmaker, of Colombo, Ceylon. "It has been some two years since the City Dispensary first called my attention to this valuable medicine and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me of chest colds. It is especially effective for children and seldom takes more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have persnaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are all as well

DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY. Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain

Very truly yours.
