Railroad to Coos Bay.

Articles For Great Central Railroad Filed—Salt Lake City and Coos Bay to be United.

From the Oregonian.

Articles of incorporation of the Great Central Railroad Company were filed in the Multnomah County Clerk's office and with the Secretary of State yesterday by J. Thorburn Ross, John K. Kollock, and E. Aitchison. The authorized capital is $10,000,000. The object of the corporation as announced is to acquire, construct and equip railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, together with convenient spurs, branch lines, or aerial tramways as feeders, in Oregon, Idaho, and Utah, the termini of the main line being Salt Lake and a point on Coos Bay, Oregon.

At the same time there were filed, both in Multnomah County and at Salem, articles incorporating the Empire Construction Company, by A. A. Lindsley, T. T. Burkhardt and J. W. Cook, with capital of $1,000,000. The objects are to construct railroads, bridges, telegraph and telephone lines, and to carry on in their respective branches the business of contractors, engineers and surveyors. The principle office is to be located in Portland, and a branch office in Salt Lake City.

There is nothing to connect these corporations except the circumstances of the preparation and filing of the articles. Both sets of incorporators are local men, except John E. Aitchison, whose home is in Kansas City, Mo. J. W. Cook is a Portland real estate dealer. All the other incorporators are in the Title Guarantee & Trust Company, J. Thorburn Ross being vice president and manager of the company.

"Well, we are not in the business of building railroads," said Mr. Ross when asked about the significance of the articles filed by him. "We have taken this action by direction of some Eastern clients, and I am not at liberty to speak of the details, or even to say for whom we are acting. All that will come out in due time, I suppose."

Neither am I authorized to give publicity to the plans of the construction company incorporated to day, further than is declared in the articles filed. People have a right to assume there is some connection between these two corporations if they want to. It is a legitimate concern, calculated to do a rather large business in the West. Whether Portland, Salt Lake City, or some other town shall get most benefit from it, I suppose will be determined by control of the stock, subscriptions for which will be opened here tomorrow. It will have need for large amounts of contractors' supplies, and I think the patronage of the company will be worth having. But my relations with these men are confidential, and I shall have to let the men for whom I am acting give such publicity as they choose to their affairs."

Whooping Cough.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby boy being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost none of their plumpness and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops.—JESSIE PINKEY HALL, Springville, Ala. This Remedy is for sale by C. Y. Lowe.
