EDITORIAL

Is it the great state of Oregon that is quibbling over a technicality in regard to paying the reward for the return of Merrill's body, or is it some narrow minded official that brings a stain of dishonor upon the states' fair name?

Now that Jeffries, the prize fighter has done Fitzsimmons to a finish, he might turn his attention to Tracy. If he can induce the champion of the Northwest to meet him in the ring, it will prove a drawing card and give him the greatest notoriety of his life.

Hal, the Healer has been exhibiting here during the past ten days, and selling medicine. For a free show this company puts up a very good one, but if their jokes were less suggestive of nudity and the indecent they would be worthy of a better recommendation to the public.

The Portland Journal has changed hands and is now under the management of C. S. Jackson, and old newspaper man formerly from the East. The Journal is becoming an excellent newspaper and will fill a long felt want. Oregon needs a good independent daily paper in opposition to the Oregonian. The Recorder wishes the Journal success.

Now we are told that the British House of Commons gave J. Pierpont Morgan a dinner the other day. Great Scott! that's nothing; the American people have given him many dinners and millions of dollars. He usually gets what he wants, and if England is let off with a dinner she is in luck. Morgan exerts a power greater than that of any other living man, and he may conclude that he wants coronation honors yet.

Portland merchants are up against the salt trust. They imported 9,000 tons of salt from England to avoid the tax laid upon that commodity by the trust, but the trust is entertaining them with a $14 drop in the price per ton. This procedure will knock the bottom out of their profit, besides causing a loss to the merchants on salt on hand. In these days of trusts merchants do not purchase where they please. They buy trust articles or the trust proceeds to impoverish them. Under a perfect Socialist system such iniquity cannot flourish. The salt trust is an educator. Do you prefer to be forced to do as greedy monopolists dictate, or would you prefer to force greedy mendicants to be just. If the latter, then get into the Socialist band wagon without delay. The Apostle Paul said to search all things and hold fast to that which is good. This is certainly good advice and while you are searching take an unbiased look at Socialism and see if it isn't worth hanging on to.

Coquille Bulletin: G. W. Canning, well known in this county, and who left here with a moving picture machine about a year ago, has leased a bakery in Ashland and begun business last Monday.

Capital Journal: A West Virginia youth has eloped with his stepmother, but as their spans of life are only five years apart the young man, if he was determined to elope with some one, might have done worse.

Myrtle Point Enterprise: Rapid progress is being made in the work of placing rock on Spruce street. The contractors are doing good work and when the job is completed Myrtle Point will have the best street of any town of its size in Southern Oregon.

Telegram: Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan was given a dinner by the British House of Commons yesterday, being given a seat of equal prominence with Premier Balfour, and throwing Ambassador Choat completely in the shade. When Morgan strides, even British poets and American Senators "crawl between his huge legs and peep about to find themselves dishonorable graves."

The Best Liniment For Strains.

Mr. F. H. Wells, the merchant at Deer Park, Long Island, N. Y., says: "I always recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm as the best liniment for strains. I used it last winter for a severe lameness in the side, resulting from a strain, and was greatly pleased with the quick relief and cure it effected. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

The Same Old Story.
J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and retold by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entirely satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Civil Service Examination

The U. S. Civil Service Commission will hold examinations, during September and October, in several places in each state to secure young men and women for the government service. There are now 136,423 positions in the classified civil service, being an increase of 46,736 in six years. There were 7,972 persons appointed between July 1, 1901, and April 15, 1902, being at the rate of 10,070 for the year. There will probably be 11,000 appointments next year. Salaries at appointment vary from $600 to $1,200 a year with liberal promotions afterward. All appointments are for life and for most positions only a common school education is required. Politics or religion is not considered. Those desiring to take examinations of this kind can get full information about them from writing to the Columbian Correspondence College, Washington, D. C., and for its Civil Service Catalogue for 1902.

A Sample Trust.

The enormous profits of the salt trust may be dimly imagined when it is observed that on the importation of a considerable quantity of foreign salt the trust cuts down its price first $8 and then $6 a ton, $14 a ton in all, in order to force the importers to keep their salt off the market or sell it at a price that will discourage them from further importations. For years the trust has been holding up the people for many dollars per ton beyond any reasonable or conscientious price, and the millions of people who have thus been plundered have simply been helpless, and their legislative and judicial doctors and supposed protectors say there is no help for them. There ought to be some way, and some way must be found, to restrain the rapacity of such a combine. If no other way can be found, we will swing into practical socialism, the people taking over not only railroads but salt mines, coal mines, and everything that, under present laws and customs, enable a few trusts to plunder the many. These trusts are doing more in a decade to bring about Socialism than all the verbal and written arguments of all the Socialists in the world could do in a thousand years.—Telegram.

Will Lead the World.

PARIS, July 25.—Baron Courbentin, in an article in the Figaro this morning on the foreign policy of the United States, tried to show that destiny is pushing the Americans to the first rank of the Anglo-Saxon peoples. "Their starry banner," says Baron Courbentin, "will one day be par excellence the Anglo-Saxon flag, and in defence of that flag the Washington Government will be quick to use cannon."

Does License Pay.

Maine is thoroughly committed to anti-license. Ohio and Illinois are examples of license states, filled with distilleries, brewers and myriads of saloons. Maine challenges comparison of the prosperity of her common people with that of the common people

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

ple of Ohio and Illinois. In population, indeed, the latter states far outstrip her.

Population of Maine 661,086.
Population of Ohio, 3,672,316.
Population of Illinois, 3,826,351.

That is, Ohio has five and a half times and Illinois five and four fifths times the inhabitants of Maine. Nevertheless, Maine has far more savings bank deposits than either.

Savings bank deposits of Maine, $53,397,590.
Savings bank deposits of Ohio, $34,606,213.
Savings bank deposits of Illinois $23,498,504.

Thus, though less than one-fifth in number, the people in Maine have more than half again, as much laid up in the savings banks as the people in Ohio; and though little more than one-sixth in number, they far exceed twice the deposits of the people of Illinois. Or, to put the same facts in a different form, were the amounts deposited in the savings banks of Illinois divided equally among all the people of the state each person would receive but $6.14; by a similar division of the savings of Ohio among her people, each person would receive $9.42. But each inhabitant of the state of Maine would carry away $80.77 were each to receive an equal share of her deposits.

Less than a thirteenth per capita in Illinois, and less than an eighth in Ohio of the per capita savings in Maine. Pity "way down East" if you will, because the open saloon does not invite the workmen to spend their wages for drink. Take one more fact into consideration, that while twenty nine states are more populous than Maine, only seven surpass her in the aggregate of saving bank deposits, and then decide whether the licensed saloon is friendly or opposed to the financial prosperity of those who work for their living.

A Fence or an Ambulance.

"Twas a dangerous cliff, as they freely confessed.
Thought to walk near its crest was no pleasant.
But over its terrible edge there had slipped A duke and full many a peasant;
So the people said something would have to be done;
But their projects did not at all tally.
Some said, "Put a fence round the edge of the cliff!"
Some, "An ambulance down in the valley."
But the cry for the ambulance carried the day.
For it spread through the neighboring city:
A fence may be useful or not it is true;
But each heart became bristled with pity
For those who slipped over that dangerous cliff;
And the dwellers in highway or alley,
Gave pounds or gave pence, not to put up a fence,
But an ambulance down in the valley.
"For the cliff is all right if you're careful," they said,
"And if folks even slip, and are dropping,
It isn't the slipping that hurts them so much
As the shock down below—when they're stopping."
So day after day as these mishaps occurred,
Quick forth would these rescuers rally.
To pick up the victims who fell off the cliff,
With their ambulance down in the valley.
Then an old sage remarked "Tis a marvel to me
That people give far more attention
To repairing results than stopping the cause.
When they'd much better aim at prevention.
Let us stop at its source all this mischief,"
said he,
"Come neighbors and friends, let us rally
If the cliff we will fence we might almost dispense
With the ambulance down in the valley."
"Oh! he's a fanatic," the others rejoined;
"Dispense with the ambulance? Never!
He'd dispense with all charities, too, if he could!"
No, no, we'll support them forever!
Are we n't picking up folks just as fast as they fall?
And shall this man dictate to us? Shall he?
Why should people of sense stop to put up a fence
While their ambulance works in the valley?"
But a sensible few who are practical, too,
Will not bear with such nonsense much longer.
They believe that "prevention is better than cure,"
Encourage them then, with your praise,
Voices, and pen,
And (with other philanthropists daily)
They will scorn all pretense, and put a stout fence
On the cliff that hangs over the valley.
Better guide well the young than reclaim them when old,
For the voice of true wisdom is calling;
"To rescue the fallen is good, but 'tis best
To prevent other people from falling."
Better close up the source of temptation and crime
Than deliver from dungeon or galley;
Better put a strong fence round the top of the cliff
Than an ambulance down in the valley.
