Turn Night into Day.

The electrical illuminations of the Portland Elks Carnival, of September, 1 to 13, will be a revelation in the way of modern utility of electricity in transforming night into a glorious day, radiant as a sunrise rainbow, with its colors many times multiplied. Seventh street is the location of the fair, and some 12 to 15 blocks, extending from the main gate at Seventh and Washington streets to Flanders street taking in the tree-lined park blocks north of Burnside street, will give the Carnival effective setting.

There will be a Temple of Light and Music at the intersection of Seventh and Ankeny streets; a Court of Honor, where a throne room for the queen will be provided; wide arches at the street intersections, all handsomely decorated and glowing with hundreds of electric lights. The Manufacturers building will be a beautifully decorated arcade 150 feet long and 15 feet deep, in which the industries of the state and actual manufacturing processes will be illustrated to profitable advantage before the eyes of thousands of visitors.

CAMP MEETING!

Re-Union of Bandon Branch of Latter Day Saints

The speakers to be present are Elders Joseph Luff, Geo. H. Hilliard, Charles E. Cromley, W. A. Goodwin and Arthur Allen.

The services will be held in a large tent which will be set up in the street near the bluff at the West end of Fourth Street. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody.

What the Hunters Tell.

Elbert Dyer, John Buckingham, Clifford Prewett and Clay Garout came in Saturday from a hunting expedition into the Elk River country. They had good success and came home having killed all the deer they wanted.

The boys tell a pretty tough yarn on a Marshfield party who had been spending a ten-days' siege in the same locality. There were six men in this party and in going in they had 14 horse loads, but three horses were ample to pack them out. Among the supplies taken to camp was a twenty gallon keg of whiskey and 500 bottles of beer. This was a heavy ration for six men on a limit of ten days, but the spiritless keg and empty bottles testify that the task, though herculean, was faithfully performed notwithstanding that the performers probably staggered under their burdens. We are told, however, that the party had taken in two cases of eggs and that they only got away with one, the other was left in camp.

Returning to the account of the parties first mentioned Clifford Prewett shot his first bear on this occasion and the boys had a good laugh at the scare he got. He was out alone and got a shot at a bear and by the way he did good work, but he was not initiated into the mysteries of the chase, hence he followed the bear down the mountain until he heard it bawl. That proved too much for his nerves and away he went toward camp, saddled a horse and went after Dyer who had gone in another direction. When he returned with Mr. Dyer he found bruin dead enough within twenty steps of the place where he was when his courage gave away. Animals not infrequently bawl or bleat when mortally wounded.

Americans Ready to Fight Japs.

HONOLULU, Aug. 2.—According to the Honolulu men who are interested in the Marcus Island guano expedition, against which Japan has sent a war vessel, as reported by the last advices received here from the States, the vessel which left here for the island carried a complement of Manner rifles, and her captain had instruction from the company to plant the American flag on the island and keep it floating until compelled to haul it down. Captain A. A. Rosehill, the discoverer of the island, who left his claim to it on a coconut tree on Marcus in 1889, is in command of the expedition. The company's claim is based on his title, which is on record with the State Department at Washington.

No imitation that the vessel left here with any arms on board was given out until the news was received that the Japanese Government had laid claim to the island, and had dispatched a war vessel there. Colonel Thomas Fitch then made public the instructions given to Captain Rosehill which, while designed to prevent any conflict, were intended to compel the Japanese to allow the Americans to land, or use force to drive them away.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED.

At Panama, Colombia, by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Dr. Chas. H. Utter, a prominent Physician, of Panama, Colombia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well." For sale by C. Y. Lowe.
