Governor Odell Means Business.

I believe that your position from a public view is absolutely untenable. If coal operators, railroad men and other business men can combine for mutual profit and protection, there is no reason why laboring men should not.
You are not acting fairly toward the people. I believe I shall find some remedy.—Extracts from remarks of Odell.
NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—"What do you mean by politicians? I want you and all operators to understand that I am the Governor of New York, the chosen representative of 7,000,000 people, and I am here in this matter solely in that capacity, and to relieve, if possible, an intolerable situation. And what is more, I intend to use every power at my command to do it."
Governor Odell made this statement yesterday to President Baer, of the Reading Road, in the presence of U. S. Senators Platt, of New York, and Quay and Penrose, of Pennsylvania. It was the culmination of an acrimonious interview in the office of Senator Platt, and the result of the meeting between Governor Odell and President Baer.
Mr. Baer was not in the best of humor when accompanied by E. B. Thomas, chairman of the board of directors of the Erie Railroad, he entered Senator Platt's office. The conference began by a statement made by Senator Platt that the situation was becoming so serious that some solution must be found at once. He suggested that the operators should incline toward some concessions toward a settlement.
"If you mean by that" said President Baer, "that we are to recognize the existence of a labor union, I tell you right now that the operators will consider no such proposition."
Governor Odell was on his feet in an instant. Holding a half burnt cigar in his hand, and white with excitement, he said:
"Are we to understand that no kind of conciliatory proposition would receive attention at the hands of the operators?"
"I did not say that," answered Mr. Baer; "but I do say that we will not accept political advice or allow the interference of politicians in this affair."
Then it was that Governor Odell made the statement attributed to him at the beginning of this article.
President Baer, evidently appreciating that he had gone too far, bowed to Governor Odell, and said: "Governor, I beg your pardon. No personal affront was intended, and we will listen to any suggestions you may have to make; but, again, I repeat that we must refuse to recognize the union represented by Mr. Mitchell."
"I believe," said the Governor, "that your position, from a public view, is absolutely untenable. If coal operators, railroad men and other business men can combine for mutual profit and protection there is no reason why laboring men should not."
"What is the proposition?" asked Mr. Baer, coldly.
"Just this," said Governor Odell. "I am sure that the labor organization of which Mr. Mitchell is head desires him to be fair with the general public. If the operators will consent to give the men 5 cents a ton increase I will personally present it to the miners, and I believe they will accept it. It is a fair proposition."
"Does this mean, Governor Odell, that we are to recognize the miners' union?" said Mr. Baer.
"It certainly does," answered Governor Odell, quickly, "and there is no reason why you should not."
Mr. Baer and Mr. Thomas rose to go. Mr. Thomas remarking that the matter would be presented to the other operators and that an early answer would be forthcoming.
"We are to meet a committee of the Manufacturers' Association on Tuesday, and we may have an answer then," said Mr. Baer.

The conference broke up, Mr. Baer and Mr. Thomas withdrawing. Senators Platt, Penrose and Quay talked over the matter for a short time, and then separated, the two Pennsylvanians announcing that they would go back to Harrisburg and discuss the situation with Governor Stone.
Governor Odell was not in a talkative mood when he left the conference. He went directly to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and during most of the afternoon received callers. Mayor Low, Anson G. McCook, Congressman Lessler and Littauer, and Senator Platt were among the callers. To one of these the Governor said: "The coal operators may postpone this matter until Tuesday, but I don't propose to postpone. They are not acting fairly toward the people. I believe I shall find some remedy."

Do Good—It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by C. Y. Lowe.

The Foolish Coal Barons.

"Whether or not employers are to deal on questions affecting labor interests with persons not actually in their employ is a question which trade unions and employers are now fighting out, but the manner of the operators' statement of their position puts the subject out of the purview of reason and into the domain of wrath. There was no reason why the presidents of these railroads should not meet President Mitchell as one gentleman meets another and discuss matters in an amicable way. If he was good enough to be received by the President of the United States, he was good enough to be met by the presidents of the railroads. The attitude of the railroad men is so insulting that public sympathy goes at once to the side of the miners, and all other issues are sunk in an uprising in the defense of manhood.
"Such an attitude may lead to consequences of tremendous import. When a single group of men secure a monopoly of such a commodity as coal they take upon themselves not only a grave responsibility but a great risk. The public will not permit itself to be deprived of coal. No legal web can be spun strong enough to prevent access of the people to a necessary of life which is within their reach. There will not be an armed outbreak of revolutionists, for other methods are available, the power of taxation is the power to destroy, and behind all is the grim specter of expropriation which socialism is evoking, but which thoughtful men dread. The pronouncement of the coal barons will probably win the fight of the miners without resort to ultimate processes which are available to society. No one will question the right of miners to withhold their personal services until they get their price. There are many who question the right of appropriators to withhold from the public what nature has provided. The coal barons are making socialists."—S. F. Chronicle.

He Learned A Great Truth.

It is said of John Wesley that he once said to Mistress Wesley: "Why do you tell that child the same thing over and over again?" "John Wesley, because once telling is not enough." It is for this same reason that you are told again and again that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cures colds and grip; that it counteracts any tendency of these diseases to result in pneumonia, and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.
