The nicest and pleasantest medicine I have used for indigestion and constipation is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets," says Melard F. Craig, of Middlegrove, N. Y. "They work like a charm and do not grip or have any unpleasant effect." For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Owing to the unusual demand upon his time Dr. Strang will be unable to get to Bandon until the 19th of January, when he will be here for the week commencing with that day. All his work is first class and is fully warranted, and his charges are reasonable. Remember the date January 19, to 23.

The old year disappeared with a dark cast on its countenance, sufficiently so as to make it necessary for the woolen mill workers to use electric lights during the day. Rain! well, yes, there was nothing dry about the tail end of 1902, as it slid off into the Ocean of Time, ushering in the new year, for as the old one sped through the back door, 1903 stalked in at the front one with a "How do you do to all."

The Home Talent Dramatic Club presented "A Noble Outcast" last evening to a large and appreciative audience. This was the first effort of the club and they secured a decided success. Besides the play some specialties were thrown in which added to the enjoyment and a slack wire performance by C. J. Daly, in which splendid amateur work was done, took well with the house.

The capitalist is gloating over his prosperity, but how about the great masses whose meagre incomes will not permit them to indulge to any great extent in the necessities of life? The prices of all staple articles of consumption have soared beyond the reach of the many, and there is only prosperity for the few who own and control the means of production and distribution. The surplus products that are seeking foreign markets are evidence that the producer has been robbed by a system that will make the few richer and the many poorer. The producer should make no vigorous kick, as he has been voting for the prosperity of the few at the expense and degradation of the masses. When the producers vote for themselves instead of putting a premium on indolence, the world will revel in the luxury of happiness and contentment.—Miser's Magazine.

Marshfield Sun: Albert Campbell, Peter Scott, Jr., George Manning and William Curtis spent last night in the woods, but not of their own volition. The ages of the boys range from 13 to 19 years. They left home Tuesday morning to look after some traps in Blossom gulch, and in their wanderings lost their way and when night overtook them they prepared for the worst of it and waited until daylight. Several search parties went out, and the lost boys could hear their shollings at times and saw one lantern, but their travels always brought them up in the same place. They found the way out themselves shortly after daylight and their presence home, safe and sound, relieved their parents and friends of a great anxiety.

J. D. B. Lee Passed Away. DIED.—Near Myrtle Point, December 24, 1902, J. D. B. Lee, an old and respected resident of Coos county. Mr. Lee had been sick for some time and his demise was not unexpected. Two of his sons, M. R. and Alva live here. Alva had gone to his father's home some days before he died, and M. Foot Ball—Coquille Beats Marshfield. There was quite a number of Bandonians attended the football game at Coquille City, last Sunday, between the Marshfield and Coquille teams. The teams were very evenly matched although Coquille won by a score of 12 to 0.

During the first half of the game no scoring was done and it looked as if Marshfield had the best of it, but during the latter half, the Coquille boys took the lead and won the game.

Croup. The peculiar cough which indicates a croup, is usually well known to the mothers of croupy children. No time should be lost in the treatment of it, and for this purpose no medicine has received more universal approval than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Do not waste valuable time in experimenting with untried remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended, but give this medicine as directed and all symptoms of croup will quickly disappear. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Christmas Beliefs.

Christmas has come and gone. It has left many pleasant memories, and perhaps some which are not so delightful to contemplate.

Bandon in the way of festivities, produced three public Christmas tree festivals and a masquerade ball as attractions, all of which drew large attendance.

The Presbyterian Church and Sunday school gave their entertainment on Christmas Eve. They exhibited two trees which with their decoration and display of gifts and mottoes, presented a nice appearance. A good program had been arranged and was carried out in a creditable manner. The attendance was very large, as there was no other attraction of like nature that evening. Members of other churches and Sunday schools attended.

Next in line came the masquerade ball, the same evening having been chosen for that event, and the dancing population were drawn thitherward. The ball was largely patronized and was a successful affair. The receipts from the door amounted to $92, and the Relief Corps collected in as a result of the supper given at midnight $55.50.

Thomas R. Binson was awarded the gentlemen's prize for the best sustained character. He represented a miner and received a collar and cuff box.

Miss Kyle received an album, as the winner of the ladies' prize. She represented Ayer's Hair Vigor.

On Christmas evening the Methodists and Latter Day Saints each had their Christmas exercises.

The Methodists had prepared two trees which were nicely arranged and also had an excellent program arranged for the occasion. Their exercises were well attended.

The Latter Day Saints had but one tree for the occasion, but had it well decorated, to which a nice display of presents gave a handsome appearance. A splendid program, well presented added to the enjoyment of the occasion, and the attendance was equal to the capacity of the hall.

Besides the public festivals there were a number of private trees which blossomed and gave forth gifts from which love and good will radiated.

Civil Service Examination.

The U. S. Civil Service Commission reports that for the year ending June 30, 1902, there were 14,983 persons appointed from its registers. This was 4,692 more than was ever before appointed in a single year.

Anyone wishing information about these positions can secure it free by writing for the Civil Service announcement of the Columbian Correspondence College, Washington, D. C. The Commission will hold examinations to secure young men and women for these places during March and April, at Pendleton and Portland.

Many people do not know that these appointments are made without political influence and that a large share of them are filled by those having only a common school education, but such is now the case.

Wanted—A Trustworthy Gentleman or lady in each county to manage business for an old established house of solid financial standing.

Bad Roads! Bad Roads!!

That is what we have in this county, therefore let us meet at the Court House, in Coquille City, on Jan. 7, 1903, at 7:30 P. M., to organize a Good Roads League, and see if we cannot devise some way of bettering our roads.

S. B. CATBERT, Organizer for Coos County.
