EDITORIAL

That Grover Cleveland is the hands of his friends is evident from the statement, "I cannot answer that question," made when asked if he should be a candidate for nomination for the presidency, in 1904.

The stench of fraud and corruption that sometimes centers around the government of large cities smells to the skies.

Smuggling is on the increase, says press reports. Well you say, it is not much wonder, because a system that is founded upon wrong principles is bound to bring iniquitous results.

That is how I feel on the situation, and I urge you to heed the warning which I send home to you this evening.

After Me the Deluge.

Senator M. A. Hanna of Cleveland, Ohio, three weeks ago, at a dinner tendered to one of New York's best known financiers, in a speech said:

"You gentlemen had better trim your sails—for indications point to the fact that one of the greatest perils that the world has ever seen is about to occur in the United States. Workingmen of the country are discontented with their wages, and hold that in proportion to the great increase in the cost of food, wages have not kept pace."

"I am anything but optimistic on the situation. I see very plainly the storm clouds gathering on the political situation: Workingmen are absorbing quickly the revolutionary spirit which is being inculcated by the socialists, who are spreading their propaganda broadcast and it is beating fruit in the ranks of the workers, and we capitalists had better not close our eyes to the pregnant fact, but on the other hand, meet them, and if possible, divert their fire into our political parties."

"I warn you against these signs, which mean so much to us, and urge upon you the necessity of doing all in your power to stem the tide of what I firmly believe will end in social revolution, if we continue in the way we have been doing for the past decade."

"We are at fault. Everything that Wall Street could do to foment trouble it has been guilty of doing. Millions upon millions of securities have been issued, and the great middle class has been pumped dry."

"The buying power of the workers has been reduced greatly, and we have offered every inducement to the laboring man by our attitude to revolt. When that day comes—and it is coming soon—I would not give a mill for J. Pierpont Morgan's head, for the workers blame him for a great many of our past sufferings."

"That is how I feel on the situation, and I urge you to heed the warning which I send home to you this evening."

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Patents Mills, N. Y.

"Be good," says the religionist. "Be just," says the moralist. "Walk on the sunny side of the street and don't worry," says the philosopher.

Quit your howling and grab what you can in the scrimmage, hustle," says the man of the world.

The cynic, too, inspired by the spirit of negation and unselfishness, chips in his contribution. "None, however satisfy either the head or the heart of the man who believes that life is something more than a huge joke or an orgie."

Del Norte Record: J. Z. Ewing and others will soon commence a search to locate the wreck of the steam ship Brother Jonathan, lost many years ago off Point St. George.

The first contract for the grading of the new railroad that is to connect Grants Pass and Eureka, in Humboldt county, was let at the Crocker building, in this city, on Wednesday, and is for that strip of road from Grants Pass to Crescent City.

WANTED.—A TRUSTWORTHY GEN-leman or lady in each county to manage business for an old established house of sed- (d) financial standing. A straight, bona fide weekly salary of $10.00 paid by check each Wednesday with all expenses direct from headquarters. Money advanced for expenses. Manager, 340 Caxton Bldg., Chi-ago.

The favorite with thoughtful, cultured Oregonian.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

The next W. C. T. U. meeting takes place Tuesday, at 2:30 P. M., at the M. E. Church.

From The Epworth Herald. The saloon curse will not be destroyed until the government—or the people—dissolve partnership with it.

Prohibition at its worst is better than high license at its best. So says Governor Stanley of Kansas.

The saloon can no more maintain respectability than a skunk can act as salesman for a cologne factory.

New York and Ohio forbid the employment by railways and other common carriers of persons known to be addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors.

Whence comes the law? From the government. Whence comes the govern-ment? From the political party in power. Whence comes the party? From the men who vote. Who is responsible for the bag with holes through which this nation wastes its resources and brings its people to poverty and distress? Who but the men that vote for a political party that will continue the protection of the traffic and the perpetuation of the saloon?

Help On The Crusade.

The officers of the National Temperance Society are much pleased with the beginning of their pledge-signing crusade. Upon a recent Sunday some three thousand ministers preached on the ravages of the drink-habit and the importance of pledging the young people to total abstinence.

Since then the work has been carried on in public congregations, Sunday-schools, young people's societies, and in certain cases even in the public schools. The movement has been well received everywhere.

And well it may be. It is utterly sensible. And as utterly feasible. Of late years moral suasion in the temperance reform has been too much neglected. Inasmuch as its fruitful field is largely among the young, it is absolutely essential to future success.

We must put every safeguard around our boys to keep them from falling victims to the drink habit. The logical and awful consequences of even the slightest indulgence in liquor must be emphasized in every possible way. The saloon is looking for new material. It is after the boys. But boys it must not have.

We hope our pastors and Sunday-school superintendents and Epworth League and Junior League leaders will lend every possible assistance to the pledge-signing crusade.

Appeal to Reason: Formerly the masses looked to so-called great men for their salvation. They were like children and when they were being oppressed, they sighed for some great savior to arise and lead them into the promised land of freedom.

They were not contributing anything themselves toward their salvation, they were soon in the same old fix whenever the great leader died or forsook them. Today the masses are beginning to realize that if who would be free must himself strike the blow.

They are no longer waiting for a savior to arise and free them. They are doing their own thinking, and looking with suspicion on great leaders. And so they are at last reaching the point where they will be ready to rely on their own power, and break the bonds of servitude, because they have become free in their minds and thus able to control their own fates.

Mr. Joseph Pomienville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today.

Telegram: Four missionaries are murdered by Boxers in China and the nations of the earth rise in their wrath and China becomes a playing field for diplomats. Forty seven Jews killed on the spot, 80 fatally injured and 300 in the hospitals through Russian cruelty, and it is reported with glee that the czar may visit the United States in 1903.
