The James Keane Company played here last Thursday evening to a moderately filled house. The play "Emeralds," was presented in a manner to win the admiration of those who attended. The company had not advertised their coming as well as should have been consequently they played to a smaller house than they otherwise would have had. This company has some splendid artists in their line and merit the praise they are receiving.

Cholera Infantum.

This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured, however, when properly treated. All that is necessary is to give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, as directed with each bottle, and a cure is certain. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

B. M. Houghton and W. Hunt, of Norway were in town last night.

Matrimonial Alliance.

A very pretty and quiet wedding took place in Bandon, last Sunday, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Felter, by which their eldest daughter, Miss Bertie A. was united to W. A. Hoover, Justice A. D. Morse, performing the ceremony, in the presence of a few invited guests.

The bride was dressed in drab trimmed with silk, and made a very pretty appearance. The bridegroom was dressed in a dark suit while his countenance was wreathed in smiles which seemed to indicate that he was about the luckiest man in the world.

After the ceremony, which was short and appropriate, the bride and groom received the congratulations of the guests, after which all were treated to a bounteous supply of delicious cake and other edibles, of which a generous supply had been prepared for the occasion.

The ceremony took place at 3 o'clock, those present besides Justice Morse being Mrs. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. J. Denholm and daughters Jennie and Crissie, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Stitt, and Q. F. Topping.

The floral display, which was profuse and very pretty, was the offering of Mrs. W. H. Dunham, of Coquille.

The contracting parties are both residents of Coos county, well and favorably known and the Recorder joins their friends and acquaintances in wishing them joy and prosperity.

He Didn't Run the Town.

W. Wyland, who came to this place some time ago, from Eastern Oregon, or some other place, or no place in particular, started in to run the town Monday evening, at least report credits him with having threatened to do so.

Wyland carries an unsavory reputation, so far as report is concerned, and is generally looked upon as a bad character. On this occasion he was under the influence of liquor and was more or less backed by three associates, who figured more or less in the disturbance.

The first trouble was had with Arthur Rice who had ground a water grate for one of the party. This one insisted that Mr. Rice had not ground the grate down sufficiently, while Mr. Rice told him that in his judgment he had ground it all it would stand, but told him he would grind it more if he would stand the responsibility. This he would not do and then Wyland seems to have taken part in the matter and wanted to fight Mr. Rice.

The parties were gotten out of the store and next visited Monk's saloon. Two stories are circulated as to conduct there, but we were told that they raised no disturbance there merely took a drink and paid for it and then went to Rasmussen's saloon. Rasmussen refused them drink and trouble followed. Wyland drew his knife and the scene changed from the inside of the saloon to the outside, and several other parties took a hand. Wyland was flourishing a knife, reputed to have been a dirk or sheath knife, and threatened to do some killing. He was knocked down, and one man is reported to have jumped on his face and kicked him severely in the ribs.

Wyland was very badly punished and had an ugly face on him after the melee was over. He was taken to jail and Tuesday morning Recorder Morse gave him $50 fine and 20 days in jail, which practically means that he is good for 45 days in the town jail.

Wyland received rough treatment but those who saw the trouble generally think he deserved what he got, and got what was coming to him. However this may be such scenes are no credit to a town, but if a man runs amuck he has to be dealt with by force sufficient to overcome him, and that too, without endangering other persons if possible.

Wyland's associates in trouble, namely: C. Delany, Fred Radley and George Koontz, were arrested yesterday and a charge of drunk and disorderly. Radley and Delany were fined ten dollars and costs, $14.50 each, which they paid. Koontz denied the charge and trial is set for today.

More Railroad Talk.

From the Coast Mail.

Jens Hansen, who returned a few days ago from Gardiner, says there was some railroad excitement there. An engineer claiming to represent the parties owning the Yaquina road had come in from Scottsburg and started up the beach with an outfit with the avowed purpose of looking over the route with a view to extending the road down the coast from Yaquina Bay.

A Nocturnal Visitor.

Charles Chandler received the attention of a midnight wanderer last Thursday night. About midnight some party knocked upon his door and being accosted by Mrs. Chandler failed to answer. Mr. Chandler arose quietly, took his gun and started for the door, but had to pass through another door before reaching the one at which the party was knocking and the party on the outside seems to have become aware of his presence, or frightened and beat a hasty retreat before Mr. Chandler could gain the post of vantage he sought. Whoever the party was must either have supposed Mr. Chandler to be absent or thought to hold him up when he would open the door.

If Mr. Chandler had gained the position he wanted and the party outside had then failed to answer when spoken to it was his intention to try a shot at the party through the door feeling confident that he could stop him before he could get out at the gate or at least mark him sufficiently well so that he could be found.

It is to be hoped that some one will be able to detect the party or parties who are making trouble here and bring them to justice. At present there is no assurance, if you leave your house without some one to guard it, that the thief will not rifle it before you return, if it contains anything he wants, although, so far, money is the only incentive.

Baseball.

The Bandon Team Suffers Its First Defeat.

In the game last Sunday at North Bend the Bandon team was beaten in a score of 6 to 4 runs, by the team of that place, this being its first defeat. The score as furnished us, and as given below, shows that the Bandon boys put up a good game except in the second inning, in which the opposing team made six runs, that being the only inning in which the North Bend boys were able to score.

The Bandon team seems to have a kick coming as the boys played the game under protest, the North Bend management having swung in a man upon them who was not signed with the team of that place. Then, too, there was no conveyance from Marshfield until after the game at that place between the Coquille and Marshfield teams had been finished. The reason for this has been assigned to the fact that it was done to hold the crowd at Marshfield as the attendance there would have been very light as the greater attraction down the bay would have taken the people away from Marshfield and cut short their gate receipts.

The game was not started till very late and the Bandon team was given no chance to take the usual practice before starting to play, while manager Bedilion was unable to get transportation and reach the grounds until after the game had been started.

The Bandon team was short handed on account of two of the boys being victims of mumps, and one being unfit for service on account of having wrenched an ankle a couple of days before. They will do better another time.

Coast Mail: While playing a practice game of baseball at North Bend yesterday, L. J. Simpson was struck on the elbow by the ball, and the arm was seriously bruised if not broken. Dr. Horsfall was called and examined the injured member, but did not think any bones were fractured. Mr. Simpson is an enthusiast on baseball, and while this is more than he bargained for, it will probably not dampen his ardor.

July 4

will be a

Hummer.

A good literary program, races and other amusements have been arranged, all to end with a magnificent game of base ball in the afternoon, and a big dance at night.

Watches!

Are You Aware

That in the course of a year the balance of your watch makes 157,800 revolutions?

Think of It.

In time the oil runs, and produces friction, which wears the delicate bearings, destroys their high finish, and perfect fit; thus ruining an accurate time piece.

When you do this do not blame the jeweler because he cannot make it run as accurate as it did before.

An ordinary machine is oiled daily. Your watch from which you expect correct time should be cleaned and oiled once a year.

Do not neglect your watch, but have it repaired by Arthur Rice, the reliable jeweler, who guarantees all his work.
