Captain Korh, master of the schooner Ruby, felt the force of the storm somewhat, as his vessel was 9 days outside the bar waiting a chance to get in. The schooner Onward struck better weather, being out only six days in coming up from San Francisco.

The mumps are still holding sway, and several persons have learned by experience that the proper thing to do when afflicted with them, is to take care of themselves. It is rather strange that people will expose themselves unnecessarily, and yet the greater part of the human race are constantly doing so.

The wind did some swift work last week, and it carried considerable rain with it also. During Tuesday night it blew down William Hansen's hay shed which stands near the river on his ranch, above Prosper, and scattered things around generally. The hay was baled, and some of the bales are reported to have been blown one hundred yards.

William Gallier, the hardware dealer, wishes to call your attention to his fine line of Stoves and Ranges, Grates and Creckers, saws, and other goods. He has a line of superior glass lamps that merit inspection, and will be pleased to show you his goods and give prices, feeling sure that he can please you as to quality, quantity and price.

There is an epidemic of mumps here, of which the young men and boys seem to have a monopoly, while all the young ladies are talking about the "awful affair," and the "expansion of cheek." Clarence Boise, Thomas Robinson and Frank Pettit are among the latest victims, while Harold Nelson, Howard Culver, Ernest Boak, and several others are convalescing.

Dr. J. W. Strange, in response to numerous requests, will be at the Tupper House and ready for work on Tuesday morning, December 1st, and will remain all of that week. He desires all who are in need of dental work to call on him. He guarantees all his work, and his charges are as reasonable as is consistent with good work—much less than has been charged the Bandon people for similar work.

The Knights of Pythias are forging ahead with preparations for their annual ball, and as they have heretofore made a success on such occasions, they confidently expect that this one will be no exception in that respect. Ample arrangements are being made, and the public, which is always made welcome, can confidently look for a ward to an entertainment not to be excelled. Remember the place and date, Long's Hall, Nov. 21st.

Sheriff Gallier was in town last night on business.

Thanksgiving in Oregon.

Salem, Ore., Nov. 13.—In accordance with the time-honored custom, and in accordance with the action of President Roosevelt, in proclaiming Thursday, November 26th, as a day of Thanksgiving, Governor Chamberlain has issued his Thanksgiving Proclamation, setting aside the same day, as follows:

"The President of the United States of America has designated Thursday, the 26th day of November, A. D. 1903, as a day of general thanksgiving, and conformable to a time-honored custom, and in accordance with the proclamation of the President, I, George E. Chamberlain, Governor of the State of Oregon, do hereby set apart said day as a holiday, and do recommend that in so far as possible all business be suspended so that the people may avail themselves of an opportunity thus afforded to rest from their labors, and to return to Almighty God, giver of every good and perfect gift, grateful thanks for the manifold blessings they enjoy.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the state to be hereunto affixed at the City of Salem, this 12th day of November, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Three.

GEORGE E. CHAMBERLAIN,
Governor of Oregon.

"By the Governor,
F. I. DUNBAR, Secretary of State."

Read the Market News in The Oregon Daily Journal.

Nothing is omitted which concerns the interest of buyers and sellers in the live stock, grain, provisions, produce and financial markets—the quotations are comprehensive, and are in every way reliable.

The Journal in addition carries every day a full and truthful report of the world's news, and presents many special features of deep interest to the average reader. The Journal's woman's page, the illustrated sporting news page, Journal stories and comic pages, and other good things make it a very popular family newspaper, clean and bright from A to Z and year's end to year's end.

Daily, one year by mail, only $4; six months, $2.25; three months, $1.25. Semi-weekly, 104 issues, one year, $1.50.

Weekly, $1. The issues of the Semi-Weekly and Weekly Journal also contain the market news and all of the features of the Daily Journal.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Roderick, of Poolsville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years, and can truthfully say that it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it, and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by C. Y. Lowe, Druggist.

A startling fact.
To save a life, Dr. T. C. Merritt, of No. McBoopany, Pa., made a startling result in a wonderful cure. He writes, "a patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles, so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in 14 months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, and Kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50 cents at C. Y. Lowe's.

The Best Lintment.
"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best lintment on the market," writes Post & Bliss, of Georgia, Vt. No other lintment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such quick relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this lintment a trial and you will never wish to be without it. Sold by C. Y. Lowe.

Fatal Accident.
W. H. Erdise, principal owner of the Coquille City Creamery, was killed almost instantly Wednesday evening, about 5 o'clock, while at work.

It is not known, with any certainty, just how the accident happened. He was on the elevator and was trying to stop it at the second floor, but apparently could not do so, for it started down with him, though not very rapidly. It is supposed that as he passed the weighing platform, he tried to jump on to it, but slipped and fell backward, with his head and shoulders projecting over the pit, and the upper frame of the elevator caught him across the breast, and mashed him so that he died in a few minutes of internal hemorrhage.

His partner, S. M. Nosler, was running the engine, and Mr. Erdise had loaded the elevator platform, and run it up to the second floor. Something seemed to go wrong with the hoisting apparatus, for Mr. Nosler had started to shut down the engine, but heard the squeaking of the cables and turned it on again. The noise stopped, and Mr. Nosler, supposing everything all right, shut down the engine and started out of the engine room toward the elevator shaft. At the door he met his young brother Gene, who had been working at the rate, and Gene told him to start the engine up again quickly. Mr. Nosler saw, at a glance, the awful situation, and started the engine as quickly as possible, but it did not seem to lift the elevator on the instant, so he shut the engine down, ran to the door and called for help, and ran back to the elevator which he and his brother tried to lift by hand, but were not strong enough. In a few seconds help arrived sufficient to lift the elevator and release the unfortunate man.

Dr. Russell was summoned and everything was done that could be done, but it was of no avail. He lived about twenty-five minutes after he was released, and was conscious up to ten minutes before his death. The only words he spoke were, "Well, boys, I'll have to leave you." Coquille Bulletin.
