EDITORIAL.

At last miners have been able to thaw out dynamite, and lived to tell how it was done. This happened at Rock Creek, twenty miles from Baker City, Oregon. They placed it near the fire in the blacksmith shop, and went to dinner. Well, there was no one hurt, but it was necessary to order a new blacksmithing outfit, and lumber for new buildings, as there was nothing but the anvil left. It is needless to state that the supply of dynamite was out too.

States lying in the Northern Mississippi basin, and those along the North Atlantic, have been having mixed weather to an extend that has carried death and destruction in its path. Almost simultaneously comes the report of blizzard, flood and ice gorges, with death and destruction resulting from the combination, while the sudden and severe changes has caused thousands of deaths from pneumonia. Oregon residents have cause to be thankful for their mild climate.

That the deposits in the New York banks were so enormous, during the past few days, cannot be looked upon as indicating any particular increase of prosperity, but rather the reverse, as money that goes on deposit is taken out of circulation, and represents less to the business volume, unless it is drawn out immediately and put back into circulation. It is not the money in banks that represents the activity in trade, but it is the amount in circulation which oils the business machinery.

President Roosevelt is to become the possessor of a couple of lions, the present of an admirer, Emperor Menelik, a ruler of the dark continent Persons generally will search for the fitness in the gift, and most persons would look on this present as an expensive luxury, and it would generally be termed a "White Elephant;" however, the President can turn them loose and have a lion hunt. But if we remember rightly, there was an act passed that does not permit the President to accept presents, in which case President Roosevelt will not have an useless appendage among his domestic pets.

A typographical error is a hard thing to find in the proof, but in the printed and completed paper it looms up like a fat lady in a group of vegetarians.—Ex

Sunday Welcome: Every now and then the story goes that J. P. Morgan intends to go to England to live. It isn't his living that people here object to so much as his evident ambition to keep others from living.

Telegram: Texas cowboys, to the number of 300, have offered their services to Japan. These fight hungry cowpunchers evidently do not expect to see a row between the United States and Colombia, despite the rumblings heard occasionally from Bogota.

Publicity is a sure cure for the trust habit. On Thursday, April 9, 1903, less than one year ago, the steel corporation printed a full page statement in the Baltimore Evening Star and other metropolitan papers, showing its financial standing. It disclosed the interesting fact that its stock and properties were worth one and a half billion dollars, and that it had made net $133,000,000. The public bit, and stock was sold at fabulous prices. After the little fellows had been sucked dry, the squeezing process commenced, and less than a month ago, a controlling interest in the concern was purchased for $40,000,000—less than one-third of what its reputed net profits were for the year previous. Oh, yes, let us have a little more publicity.—Appeal to reason.

State Republican Committee Meets.

Portland, Oreg., Jan. 29th, 1904.

The Republican State Central Committee is hereby called to meet in the City of Portland, on Friday, the 12th day of February, 1904 (Abraham Lincoln's birthday), in room 12, Hamilton Building, at 10:30 o'clock a.m., for the purpose of selecting the time and place for holding the next State Convention, apportioning delegates to said Convention, recommending date for holding primaries, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the Committee.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abcess on my right lung," writes J. F. Hughes, of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. Kings's New Discovery for Consumption. The benefit I received was striking, and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all Coughs, Colds, and Throat and Lung Troubles. Guaranteed by Lowe's Drug Store. Price 50cts, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Side Lights on The World's Fair.

A smoker has been found in New York who carries matches of his own. He is to be exhibited next year at the World's Fair.—Mobile, Ala., Register.

Paris is to have a world's fair in 1911, but St. Louis does not think that wise people will wait for it.—Chicago News

The Agricultural Building at the World's Fair covers 21 acres, which fact makes Rhode Island look smaller than ever.—St Louis Post Dispatch.

The new nation of Panama is such a hustler that it is pretty nearly time she was making application for floor space at the St. Louis Exposition.—Boston Globe.

If a Spanish warship is sent to this country in honor of the St. Louis World's Fair, the officers and men will be received with the kindness and enthusiasm that former gallant foes deserve and always receive at the hands of Americans. Admiral Cervera, fresh from the defeat at Santiago, was taught to forget he was our prisoner.—New York Sun.

A model street is to be exhibited at the World's Fair. It will require a large force of police to keep visitors from spitting on the sidewalk, or littering it with orange and banana peel.—Rochester, N. Y. Herald.

Two redheaded Kentuckians, twins, whose auburn haired wives are also twins, have applied for permission to exhibit themselves at the St. Louis exposition. They want to represent a brilliant sunset.—Batavia, New York News.

The Louisians Purchase Exposition, in its preliminaries and actualities, will soon be with us. Therefore, learn the correct pronunciation of St. Louis, so as to be able to discuss the great fair fearlessly and fluently.—Troy, N. Y., Press.

In arranging for an exhibition of strange birds at the St. Louis show, the Smithsonian Institution will carefully avoid specimens of the municipal vulture.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The information is out that 2,100 square feet of space has been allotted for a whisky display in the Agricultural Building at the St. Louis Fair. How popular that agricultural exhibit will be among Kentuckians.—Americus, Ga., Times-Recorder.

Suicide Prevented.

The startling announcement that a preventive of suicide had been discovered will interest many. A run down system or despondency invariably precedes suicide, and something has been found that will prevent that condition which makes suicide likely. At the first thought of self destruction take Electric Bitters. It being a great tonic and nervine will strengthen the nerves and build up the system. It's also a great Stomach, Liver and Kidney regulator. Only 50cts. Satisfaction guaranteed by C. Y. Lowe, Druggist.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75cts per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mrs. M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of her experience in the use of that remedy, says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup, and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by C. Y. Lowe, Druggist.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

The next W C T U meeting takes place Tuesday, at 2:30, P. M., at the M. E. Church.

Disgraced the Family.

A lady who always wore a tiny bow of white ribbon on her dress to show that she was a W. C. T. U. woman, on looking from her window one day was shocked to see her little boy giving his kittie a sound thrashing. She opened the window, and said: "Johnnie, I am very much surprised to see you abuse your kittie. Stop at once. Why do you do it?"

"Mother," said the excited boy, "what do you s'pose she's gone and done? I saw her disgrace the family by going into the saloon!"

Germany's New Temperance Bill.

It has been recognized for several years that the drink evil in Germany is increasing so rapidly as to require drastic treatment. Temperance societies have been conducting a vigorous crusade against it, and now the government is moved to take up arms in the cause. It is admitted that new restrictive legislation is necessary, and to that end a bill has been prepared, and will be introduced at the next meeting of the Reichstag.

The proposed law contains some novel features, but is by no means as severe in its conditions as those in force in some other European countries. Saloon-keepers will be required to keep on sale such non-intoxicants as lemonade, milk, tea, coffee, and also cold foods. The number of barmaids is limited, and, perhaps most important of all, credit is prohibited. The credit system flourishes, especially in saloons in the country districts and manufacturing towns, and is held responsible for much of the increase of intemperance. It has been known for a long time that beer is going out of favor, and that the working classes in particular are consuming larger quantities of spirits, thus getting more alcohol for the small amount of money at their disposal. It is believed that the new bill will become a law, and when enforced with characteristic German thoroughness, is likely to do much to abate the drink evil.

The action of Germany is an indication of the prevailing European tendency. In Great Britian Parliament has recently enacted a law limiting the number of public houses, and providing for the "blacklisting" of habitual drunkards, by forbidding, under severe penalties, the sale of liquor to them. France proposes to prohibit the sale of adulterated liquors, and to make alcohol a government monopoly, selling only a pure article and at a high price. Belgium has increased the tax on spirits, and in Austria it is proposed to follow Norway's example and send the drunkard, after his tenth conviction, to a reformatory, there to be detained until cured.

In short, all Europe is prepared to heed the warnings of her physicians and publicists, who hold that the increase of intoxication is responsible for the mental and physical decline which has been noted in several leading countries.—Cleveland Plaindealer.

Another Case of Rheumatism Cured by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

The efficacy of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the relief of rheumatism is being demonstrated daily. Parker Triplett, of Grigsby, Va., says that Chamberlain's Pain Balm gave him permanent relief from rheumatism in the back when everything else failed, and he would not be without it. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Coast Mail: Capt. Geo. Seaman writes to a friend from New Orleans that he arrived there O. K., whither he had gone to fetch the large new passenger steamer for the Coos Bay trade. The new ship is expected to reach San Francisco in about 40 days. She will be capable of accommodating about 75 passengers, and able to maintain a speed of 14 knots per hour, also able to carry 750 tons of miscellaneous freight.

TRESPASS NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons not to trespass upon the premises of Dr. Kenyon, situated between Floras Lake and the county road, in Northern Curry, by removing, cutting, or destroying timber upon said land. $25 reward will be paid for information leading to a conviction of trespass as stated above.

CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

CONTEST NOTICE.

Department of the Interior.

UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE: ROSEBURG, Oregon, Dec. 23, 1903.

A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by John R Stillwell, contestant, against homestead entry No. 12052, made Sept. 20 1902, for 8½ of NE¼, NW¼ of NE¼, NE¼ of SE¼, Section 25, Township 29 S., Range 15 W., by F. L. Brigden, contestee, in which it is alleged that F. L. Brigden has wholly abandoned said tract that he has changed his residence therefrom for more than six months past continuously up to date since making said entry, that said tract is not settled upon and cultivated by said party as required by law, and that he with his family has removed out of the State of Oregon into the State of California, said parties are hereby notified to appear, respond and offer evidence touching said allegation at 10 o'clock a.m. on Feb 24, 1904, before Col. C. T. Blumenrother, U. S. Commissioner, Bandon, Oregon, and that final hearing will be held at 10 o'clock, a.m., March 7th, 1904, before the Register and Receiver at the United States Land Office in Roseburg, Oregon.

The said contestant having, in a proper affidavit, filed Dec. 21, 1903, set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service can not be made, it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given by due and proper publication.

THE Fairbank Washer

is Manufactured by

J. W. FAIRBANK,

BANDON, - - OREGON.

To operate the Fairbank Washer is so simple that any person can learn to use it in thirty minutes, and any boy or girl, ten or twelve years of age, can operate it.

With this Washer the clothes are rubbed with an even, steady pressure, which does not tear or injure them. The water is forced through and through the clothes, making them absolutely clean, white as snow, and healthful.

A Fairbank Washer will save clothes enough in one year to pay its cost, and clothes that would be worn out by the short, sharp process of hand rubbing, or by an ordinary Washer, are comparatively well preserved.

Parties purchasing a Fairbank Washer can have their money refunded upon return of the Washer, if it proves unsatisfactory after a thorough trial has been given it.
