POLLY LARKE.

THE PERI PURVE.

OLD TIME COFFEE.

The Way to Make the Beverages as at One Time.

A simple method of preparing and serving coffee has been discovered by a man in the West, who says that it is remarkably good and is the secret of his success in the business.

The coffee is made as follows: Boil a pot of water and add to it a pound of coffee. This is a very valuable addition to the menu of the West, and will be found very satisfactory by all classes of people.

When the coffee is well mixed, pour it into a glass and add enough sugar to make it sweet. It will then be ready to be served.

Mug—Don't you see on the signboard?

And a short time after I had passed.

ALWAYS KEEPS THE LUMP OUT.

A District of New York.

It is said that this method of preparing coffee is the most approved method, and that it will be adopted by all the coffee houses of the United States.

The coffee is made in the following manner: Boil a pot of water and add to it a pound of coffee. This is a very valuable addition to the menu of the West, and will be found very satisfactory by all classes of people.

When the coffee is well mixed, pour it into a glass and add enough sugar to make it sweet. It will then be ready to be served.

Mug—Don't you see on the signboard?

And a short time after I had passed.

A District of New York.

It is said that this method of preparing coffee is the most approved method, and that it will be adopted by all the coffee houses of the United States.

The coffee is made in the following manner: Boil a pot of water and add to it a pound of coffee. This is a very valuable addition to the menu of the West, and will be found very satisfactory by all classes of people.

When the coffee is well mixed, pour it into a glass and add enough sugar to make it sweet. It will then be ready to be served.

Mug—Don't you see on the signboard?

And a short time after I had passed.

A District of New York.

It is said that this method of preparing coffee is the most approved method, and that it will be adopted by all the coffee houses of the United States.

The coffee is made in the following manner: Boil a pot of water and add to it a pound of coffee. This is a very valuable addition to the menu of the West, and will be found very satisfactory by all classes of people.

When the coffee is well mixed, pour it into a glass and add enough sugar to make it sweet. It will then be ready to be served.

Mug—Don't you see on the signboard?

And a short time after I had passed.

A District of New York.

It is said that this method of preparing coffee is the most approved method, and that it will be adopted by all the coffee houses of the United States.

The coffee is made in the following manner: Boil a pot of water and add to it a pound of coffee. This is a very valuable addition to the menu of the West, and will be found very satisfactory by all classes of people.

When the coffee is well mixed, pour it into a glass and add enough sugar to make it sweet. It will then be ready to be served.

Mug—Don't you see on the signboard?