EDITORIAL.

There are many ways of intemperance, and the result in each case is the same when carried to the extreme. Some persons drink intoxicants too much, others over eat, and still other persons find an early grave through sensuous desires gratified, but it remained for a New York violinist to commit suicide by excessive love for violin music. Michael Roach of New York, an expert with the bow, had for years played above twelve hours a day, and finally died a victim to his love for music, his heart having become affected by it.

Two-Mile Special.

Two-Mile, Ore., July 6th, 1904.
The most pleasant social event of the season, on Two-Mile, occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Waddington on Wednesday evening last, when Mrs. Waddington's sister, Mrs. Bertha McAdam, was united in marriage with Mr. Elgin Strader, a pleasant young man of that vicinity.

The contracting parties are well known in the community, where they command the deepest respect and confidence of all.

The ceremony was performed at 8:30 by Rev. J. S. Tilton, in the presence of about 50 invited guests. Miss Mertie Davison acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Strader's brother, Alfred, stood up for him in like capacity. Decorations were profuse and taste fully arranged. The bride was attired in a beautiful white gown, while the groom was arrayed in conventional black, and together they made a most attractive appearance as they stood beneath the floral arch and took the solemn vows which make them one henceforth. After receiving congratulations from friends, all were sum mated to the banquet hall where refreshments were served. The happy couple were the recipients of many valuable presents, which they graciously appreciated.

They will reside on upper Two-Mile, where Mr. Strader possesses a good ranch. All join in wishing them a long and happy life.

Hopetfully,

Erwin B. Tilton,
The Two-Mile School teacher.

A Very Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellomy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite, and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it, I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, ran down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by C. Y. Lowe.

Bertrand Telegram.—One catastrophe follows another in rapid succession in the Russian marine. Men and ships are being lost almost daily, and in nearly every instance points to mismanagement and carelessness on the part of the officers. The lack of judgment, as I have known generally displayed by the Russians in nothing short of astounding.

Russian sailors' calls. Cholera and diarrhea those.

This remedy is certain to be needed in almost every home before the summer is over. It can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is especially valuable for summer disorders in children. It is pleasant to take and never fails to give prompt relief. Why not try it now? It may save life. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Who is Responsible for Anarchy in Colorado?

Anarchy reigns in Colorado. The world looks on in dismay and horror while workingmen are either driven into atoms, maimed like wild beasts through the hills, or pitched into trains which carry them to lonely prairies where they are dumped without water, food or shelter, helpless exiles and despairing victims of the remorseless will of desperate corporations, which, baffled in every attempt to reduce the workers of God, who to object-sheepish, have been compelled to resort to deadly force in order that they may gain their ends.

Who are the anarchists in Colorado?

Not the workingmen whose toil and sweat have made Colorado mine owners rich, and whose votes have placed the mine owners in control of the state government which now exerts its power to destroy the legitimate organizations of labor.

Not the workingmen who have sat patiently by while their leaders have been packed into filthy hell pens, deported from their homes, separated from their families and deprived of their rights of citizenship because they dared to speak for the interests of their class.

These are not the anarchists. The anarchists can be found in the club rooms of the Citizens' Alliance, in the offices of the Mine Owners' Association, in the uniforms of demoralized military upstarts, in the executive chambers of the state government, and upon the bench of the State Supreme Court. Anarchy is wherever capitalist interests are entrenched, wherever the capitalist class meets to scheme exploitation and concert conspiracies against progress and freedom.

The anarchists are not the workingmen who observe faithfully the "law and order" made for them by the capitalists. The anarchists are the capitalists who throttle their own "law and order" when their class interests demand that law and order be throttled.

Anarchy reigns in Colorado because the capitalist class controls the courts and legislative, executive and military functions of the government through ownership of the industries of Colorado. The law is dead, slaughtered in the house of its pretended friends while despotism enters clothed in its mantle.

Here are the facts which justify this indictment:

The origin of the present trouble in Colorado is found in the struggle for an eight-hour law in the mills and smelters. These are mainly owned by the Smelter Trust, which is controlled by the Rockefeller interest. In 1899 an eight-hour law was passed. But the Supreme Court of the State, being in the hands of the capitalists, as it is now, declared the law unconstitutional.

The United States Supreme Court, on the other hand, has already sustained a similar law in Utah, and similar statutes are in force in Kansas, Montana, Nevada, and Arizona.

An amendment to the State Constitution of Colorado was submitted to the popular vote in 1902, and carried by a majority of 46,714 votes—an exceedingly large majority for such a sparsely populated state. A corporation lobby then upon induced the legislature to adjourn without enacting the law which the amendment to the constitution made compulsory.

Thus the trouble began.

The miners' unions of Colorado were compelled to go on a strike to enforce what the corrupt legislature had denied them. The mine owners retaliated by discharging the union men in many mills and smelters where they had not gone out on strike.

Then came the miners' strike. Seas were imported. The smaller business men united with the mine owners against the union men. The militia was finally pressed into service and a reign of terror began. Riots ensued. Militiamen made wholesale arrests. The constitution of the free American State of Colorado was suspended by the Governor, although even the Emperor of Germany could not exercise this power in Germany.

Constitutional rights of individuals were utterly disregarded by the mine owners and by the state militia. Governor Peabody, the very man elected as the people as their chief executive, made the State of Colorado a private detective agency for the mine owners. The Citizens' Alliance made up of the capitalist class in general, with their satellites, the dive-keepers, gamblers, etc., banded together to suppress organized labor by wholesale murder and deportation. Then came the "boom" explosion in the depot at Independence.

In fixing the responsibility for that explosion and the killing of 16 non-union miners, it should be noted that the bloodhounds followed the trail of the murderer straight to the house of a detective employed by the Mine Owners' Association. The wife connected with the fatal dynamite ended 500 yards inside of the dead line surrounding property guarded by mine owners' deputies.

Saved from Terrible Death.

The family of Mrs. M. L. Bobbitt, of Bargerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50cts and $1.00. Trial Bottles free at C. Y. Lowe's Drug Store.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures, occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pill around. Much trouble they save by their great work in Stomach and Liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25cents at C. Y. Lowe's Drug Store.

Home Circle Column

Crude Thoughts As They Fall From The Editorial Pen Pleasant Evening Reveries. A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers As They Join The Home Circle at Evening Tide.

Making a Man.

Hurry the baby as fast as you can. Hurry him, worry him, make him a man. Off with his baby clothes, get him in pants. Feed him on brain food and make him advance.

Hustle him as soon as he's able to walk. Into the grammar school; cram him with talk.

Fit his poor head full of figures and facts; keep on jumping them in till it cracks.

One boy grows up at a rational rate. Now we develop a man while he waits; Rush him through college, compel him to grab.

Of every known subject, a dip and a dab.

Get him in business and after the cash, All by the time he can grow a mustache.

Let him forget he was ever a boy;

Make gold his god and its jingle his joy;

Keep him a hustling and clear out of breath.

Until he wins nervous prostration and death.

Every school boy knows that a kite would not fly unless it had a string tying it down. It is just so in life.

The man who is tied down by half a dozen blooming responsibilities and their mother, will make a higher and stronger fight than the bachelor, who, having nothing to keep him steady, is always floundering in the mud.

If you want to ascend in the world, tie yourself to somebody.

If our members give but the faintest echo to their enthusiastic appreciation with which we know they read the Home Circle Column, our desire will be reached, and the utmost expectations we have entertained, will have been realized. Let the young mothers at the family fireside endeavor to instill in the tender minds intrusted to their care the gospel of peace and the evil of war. Better mothering would help to restore this country that is hastening away from its first honored principles. Our Pilgrim mothers did not spend their time in idle decoration of themselves and their homes, but helped their husbands to develop a new country and establish homes on the rock of solid worth. It is just as important today for the wives to stand loyally by their husbands, and encourage and help them to earn and save and rise above the hindering things that stand in the way.

Let us hope that the young mothers of Colorado will be more successful in their efforts to bring up their sons to be fit for the service of their country.
