We See but We Heed Not the Lesson

. Through the means of disseminating intelligence, there is daily presented, to our mental View, a pano ramic scene which is held up for our inspection, but which rolls on, leav ing but small conception behind of the awful import it presages. .

We do not live under the rule of chance but in a world where cause and effect are considered, the latter being the result of the principle acted upon. There is no effect without a cause and if the effect is not what is desirable then the right principle bas

At Bonesteel, South Dakota, just now may be seen an effect. From August 8, to September 10, at that place there will be thousands of per. sons congregated, to trle on public domain, that is thrown open to settioment, and as there will be rich prizes for the fortunate ones, the hope of gain has drawn there a bost of gambl rs and tough characters, who are there for gain, and who do not respect the rights of other citizens, but who are there for profit without regard as to how they acquire it.

A week before time for the filing to begin this mob had reached a condition where the sheriff of that district gave notic to the governor of the state that with the force at his command be could not protect the law and that he would not be responsible for the result.
