EDITORIAL

Do you believe in protection? Certainly we do. Protection is a good thing. Carnegie is protected and he has made $30,000,000 out of it in a very short time. Where did the money come from? Oh! well, the consumers paid that and they are not foreigners either.

That Russian interests have combined to fight the Standard Oil Co., is no sign that they will be successful. They may find that Rockefeller is as hard to dispose of as the czar has found the Japanese to be. Rockefeller has successfully held up the American continent for several years, and the Russian interests will have no summer breeze to go up against.

Frosty says that business is increasing, and that he sent off an extra stage, this morning, having men all the way from British Columbia to South America, and two dead soldiers in it. It is no uncommon thing for men to start out with live soldiers and "kill" them on the way, but to even hint that a man would start off in that wretched manner, from a "wet" town, would be sufficient cause for a challenge as to truth and veracity, and if the offence had been committed in Kentucky, a first-class funeral would most likely have followed.—Beware, Frosty, of the manner in which you state it.

Injunction Granted.

Now comes the news that Judge J. W. Hamilton has granted an injunction restraining the County Court of Coos County from issuing an order to close the saloons in compliance with the Local Option law as voted upon at the November election.

That the election notices were not posted in time to give the required notice; that the petition for such vote to be taken did not have the requisite amount of signers required; that there was illegal voting; and that a large number of voters had no notice of the election are alleged reasons upon which stay of proceedings are made. The above proceeding indicates that the County Court will be restrained from taking any action until the May term of Circuit Court, at which the matter will come up and most likely be adjusted.

Coquille Herald: A. N. Gould, the civil engineer, who spent several days at Eckley, last week, doing some surveying and leveling for a large mining ditch which is being constructed for the Commander mine, returned yesterday to finish up the work. This company is getting the mine in fine shape, and will doubtless soon be in shape to reap the reward for the hard labor and money spent on it.

Telegram: An officer on the Russian ship Aurora is quoted in an interview as declaring that the Russian ships fired on one another in the North Sea at the time the travelers were disabled. This is not a new theory, for it was one of the first suppositions advanced after the outrage. The confession from a Russian naval officer that the Baltic fleet shot at itself, however, comes as a surprise. For the Russian officers rarely are willing to admit that they are capable of perpetrating an error.

Idaho women have shown their interest in the Lewis and Clark Centennial by voting to move $1,000 worth of fine furniture, purchased by the Federation of Women's Clubs, from the Idaho building at the St. Louis World's Fair, to Portland. In case Idaho should not have a building at the Centennial, they will offer the furniture for use in the general reception rooms set aside for women in the Oregon building.

A Frigid Night.

Running like mad down the street, dumping the occupants, or a hundred other accidents, are every day occurrences. It behooves everybody to have a reliable Salve handy, and there is none so good as Buckle's Arnica Salve. Burns, Cuts, Scours, Eczema and Piles, disappear quickly under its soothing effect. Write to C. Y. Lowe's Drug Store.

HAY!

The Key that Unlocks the Door to Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund, well-fed, but thin, spare men who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age, will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to cleanse and invigorate his stomach and regulate his liver and bowels. When this is done there is no reason why the average man should not live to old age. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

How Governor-Elect Douglas Won.

The phenomenal victory of W. L. Douglas in Massachusetts, makes him a figure of national interest, and his reasons for the result are interesting. He sums them up very briefly thus: "Publicity, and an issue."

The issue that he forced upon the people of Massachusetts was reciprocity—"a single, live, straight issue," he says, "which reached straight into the everyday affairs of men and women. I made the fight solely on the proposition that we should have reciprocity, and that all trusts which sell their products abroad cheaper than we can buy them here should not be permitted to enjoy protection. I gave them practical examples of the working of the tariff. * * * This was the issue that the people were palpating over. We made people believe that the tariff and the trust question is the same, that it is idle to talk of solving the trust question so long as we are sheltering these great papers under our protective system. I told our people that they put $6 in the protection pool for every dollar they took out; that our 650,000 homes contributed $65,000,000 a year to the trusts; that the steel trust alone reaps $80,000,000 a year out of protection, and pockets it, selling abroad cheaper than we can buy from it. My election means the first gun in a battle for reciprocity and tariff relief. I was elected as a result of the aroused feeling of this state on the subject. It was broader than a labor movement. My vote was uniform throughout the farming and textile mills sections. Many Republican business men here in Boston voted for me. My election was distinctly the verdict of this state that we must have a reciprocity and reduced tariff."

A Certain Cure for Croup.

When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended. There is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mr. M. F. Crompton of Market, Texas, says of it: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children, and can truthfully say it always gives prompt relief." For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

WARNING—Quickly, for persons to represent long established wholesale home among retail merchants and agents. Local territories of few counties. $18 salary, and expenses paid weekly. Expense money advanced. Commission extra. Permanent engagement. Business successful. Previous experience not essential. Enclose self addressed envelope. Address: SUPERVISOR, 244 W. Superior St., Chicago.

Fight Will Be Bitter

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall of Beall, Miss., has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once, and four bottles entirely cured her." Guaranteed by C. Y. Lowe, Druggist. Price 50cts and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

THE OLD HOME.

In the quiet shadows of twilight,
I stand by the garden door
And gaze on the old, old homestead,
So cherished and loved of yore.
But the ivy now is twining
Untraced o'er window and wall;
And no more the voice of children
Is echoing through the hall.

Through years of pain and sorrow,
Since first I had to part,
The thought of the dear old homestead
Has lingered against my heart;
The church embowered with roses,
The garden's drooping eaves,
And the song of the bird at twilight,
Amid the orchard leaves.

And the forms of those who loved me,
In the happy childhood years,
Appear at the dusky windows
Through visions dimmed with tears.
I hear their voices calling
From the shadow far away,
And I stretch my arms toward them,
In the gloom of the twilight gray.

But only the night winds answer
As I cry through the dimmed air;
And only the bat comes swooping
From the darkness of its lair,
But still the voice of my childhood
Is calling from far away,
And the faces of those who loved me,
Smile through the shut-up grave.

INFLUENCE.

We are all well doers or evil doers. Every man is a missionary, now and forever, for good or for evil, whether he intends it or not. He may be a blot, radiating his dark influence outward to the very circumference of society, or he may be a blessing spreading benedictions over the length and breadth of the world; but a blank he cannot be. The seed sown in life springs up in harvest of blessings or harvests of sorrow. Whether our influence be great or small, whether it be for good or evil, it lasts, it lives somewhere, within some limit, and is operative wherever it is. The grave buries the dead dust, but the character walks the world, and distributes itself as a benediction or a curse among the families of mankind.

The sun sets beyond the distant hills, but the ray of light he leaves behind him guides the pilgrim to his distant home. The friend with whom we took sweet counsel is removed visibly from the outward eye; but the lessons that he taught, the grand sentiments that he uttered, the holy deeds of generosity by which he was characterized, the moral lineaments and likeness of the man still survive and appear in the silence of eventide, and on the tablets of memory, and in the light of morn and noon and dewy eve; and, being dead he yet speaks eloquently, and in the midst of us.

It is only the pure fountain that brings forth pure water. The good tree only produces the good fruit. If the center from which all proceeds is pure and holy, the radi of influence from it will be pure and holy also. Go forth, then, into the spheres that you occupy, the employments, the trades, the professions of social life; go forth into the high places or into the lovely places of the land; mix with the soaring entreaties of the convulsions, or mingle among the eddies of streamlets of quiet and do carry into it a holy heart, and you will radiate around you life and power, and leave behind you holy and beneficent influence.

Revolution Imminent.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness, or stomach upsets. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome causes. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the Kidneys and Bowels, stimulate the Liver, and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly, and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. Electric Bitters is only 50cts, and that is returned if it does not give perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed by C. Y. Lowe, Druggist.

Grip Quickly Knocked Out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. S. Egleson of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eyes and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." These Tablets promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys, which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or attack of the grip. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

MARINETTE, Wis., Sept. 25, 1903.
I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ill of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.
