In the Wake of the Dory

By GEORGE ROSENFIELD

Superstitious Things People Do

A peculiar habit of many people is the practice of avoiding certain things on certain days or performing certain actions at certain times. This is known as superstition. Some people believe that certain days are unlucky while others believe that certain actions will bring good luck. Regardless of the belief, the practice of avoiding certain things or performing certain actions is widely accepted. In some cases, superstitions can be dangerous, as they can lead to accidents or even death.

NEW SHORT STORIES

KING'S TALE OF THE PESCAPORE

The King's tale of the PescaPOre begins with a young girl who was out for a walk one day. Suddenly, she heard a noise coming from the bushes nearby. She was on the verge of calling for help when a strange creature emerged from the bushes. It was a PescaPOre, a creature that had been thought to be only a myth. The girl was distraught and didn't know what to do. But then, the PescaPOre spoke to her in a language she didn't understand. It was a warning, a warning that the King had given to the girl. The King's tale of the PescaPOre is a warning to all, a warning to be cautious and to listen to the voices of the mysterious creatures that inhabit the world.

POISON SVY
