Number 4.

LOCAL NEWS.

N. E. Barklow's baby was very sick Friday night, but has recovered. W. H. Logan gave Marshfield a short visit last week, returning home Monday evening. R. M. Hayter, of Arago, was in town Tuesday night having come down on a short visit to relatives. Rev. Robert Ennis, at one time a resident Presbyterian minister here, is now located at Jacksonville, Ore. Miss Florence A. Rosa has gone to San Francisco, and will make her home there again. She will follow stenography again. A. G. Hoyt gave Myrtle Point a fraternal call last Saturday, having installed the officers of the I. O. O. F. at that place Saturday evening. Cox wants to see you. He sells provisions and groceries. Honest measure and merit go hand in hand with Cox. Try him for Flour, Beans, Bacon, etc. When you paint use the best. Try Nason's paint and you will have the best. For varnish there is none superior to the Tanan & N. Van Co's article. Equine of McNair. Dr. Perkins, J. M. Perkins, D. E. Stitt from Bandon, and E. J. Perkins of Parkersburg, attended the Cook County Law and Order League meeting at Coquille City last Friday. The steamer Elizabeth came in last Friday night at midnight, having about 130 tons of freight and two passengers. The names of the passengers were A. Simons and Dr. J. C. Snooks. Mr. R. Lee, of Myrtle Point, was in town Tuesday, having returned from San Francisco, by way of Coos Bay. He came to this place to attend to some business before returning home. He left for home yesterday morning. W. W. Smith, of Northern Curry, was in town the latter part of last week on business. He returned home Sunday accompanied by his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Holman, who have gone out for a few days' visit. Elder E. Keeler, of Myrtle Point, has gone to Fiddbrook, California, to preach for a few weeks and baptize a number of persons who wish to unite with the church. He started last Thursday and will be absent about four weeks. Walter Pauser's youngest child had its left arm thrown out of place at the shoulder and elbow, last week. Mr. Pauser was leading the child when it stumbled and fell. The accident occurred in trying to save the child. The trouble has been adjusted. The steamer Elizabeth went to sea last Monday with a large cargo of lumber, matchwood and miscellaneous freight. Following is the list of passengers: Albert Simons, G. L. Moore and wife, Mrs. Emma Moore, Virgie, Elsie and Gertrude Moore, Miss Florence A. Rosa, Miss Sadie Reed, E. Kay, E. M. Kay, C. Hatfield and Miss Meath Lambert. For a limited time only we will send free to every subscriber of the Recorder, who, besides remitting all arrears, pay for a year's subscription in advance, a handsome souvenir of Washington City, containing 88 reproductions of the celebrated artist Thomas Fleming. Besides this splendid souvenir we will furnish each subscriber with a $1.00 coupon which will be honored by the Nutshell Pub. Co. of New York, as part payment for the illustrated book, "Around the Capital," a volume highly commended by the public men of America and Europe as one of the most humorous, interesting and instructive efforts of our time. It is a book that will be appreciated in every American home.

S. F. Barger, of Myrtle Point, was a Bandon caller yesterday. Judge D. J. Lowe, who was taken sick some two weeks ago, is convalescing nicely. The schooners Oakland and Onward are ready for sea and will probably get out today. The Seaside Orchestra gave a very pleasant dance last Saturday night which was quite well attended. W. S. Marshall, one of Northern Curry County's prominent stockmen, was doing business in town last night. Mrs. Lena Davidson, who has been ill for some months, was somewhat worse this week, but is a little better again. Dr. George Rusell of Coquille was in Bandon last night, having come down to see some patients he has at this place. The steamer Dispatch laid off her run yesterday for repairs to her wheel and rudder. The steamer Liberty carried the mail in her place. The steamer Elizabeth brought in about 130 tons of freight on her last trip in, among which was the balance of the machinery for the woolen mill. An agreeable movement of the bowels without any unpleasant effect is produced by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by C. Y. Lowe. Frank P. Dugert, of Myrtle Point, came down last Friday and will make Bandon his home for awhile. He and his brother Chamberlain are doing some running upon the beach. Mrs. A. J. Hartman, who returned home last week, from the hospital at Marshfield, is improving very nicely, although it will be some time before she will be up and around. Edward Good, of Benmark, Curry County, was in town Saturday night having come up to attend the meeting of the Masons. This is Mr. Good's first visit to town in about a year. Dr. J. C. Snooks, the dentist, is here now, and those requiring his services should call at once. Remember he is prepared to do all kinds of work in the dental line, and guarantees what he does. Through the influence of Senator J. H. Mitchell, we have been the recipient of a supply of garden seeds. Our patrons can have a package by cutting at the Freeman office and asking for same. There has been a general shaking up of Bandonians during the past week by "the grippe," among whom Geo. P. Topping, C. F. Harris, Mrs. B. D. Stitt and a number of others, but all are getting better. The steamer Elizabeth went to sea Monday, but as she must have had to encounter the strong south wind during the storm of the past three days, she will hardly be able to return before Monday or Tuesday. C. L. Lockwood, who, for many years, has been plying his profession as engineer on some one or other of the steamers on the Coquille River, has gone to California. Mrs. Lockwood went to Santa Rosa last fall. Mrs. Douglas Effert died at Oregon City last Sunday morning, aged 89 years. Many of our readers will remember Mrs. Effert as she lived in Bandon two or three years while her grandson, Max worked in the Woolen Mill here. T. J. Perkins of Parkersburg, is stopping in town this week, having placed himself under the care of Dr. Perkins. Mr. Perkins' health has not been good for some time and the physician thought it best that he should have daily care. FOR SALE—Alfred Machado will sell his valuable seining ground which lies on the north side of the Coquille, adjoining R. W. Ballard's property on the west below Bullard's Ferry. This is a valuable piece of fishing property, the largest haul of the season being reported from it. There is to be a ball at Riverton next Saturday night, January 28th, to which a general invitation is extended to the public. The steamer Antelope will leave Bandon at 7 o'clock in the evening and carry persons to the ball free of charge. Tickets to the ball one dollar each. Mr. Edgar Bossen finished his work on the furnace at the Woolen Mill last Saturday, and it is now ready for use. The engine has been placed on its foundation, but the work of adjustment has not been completed. The shaft hangings are being placed in the mill, and the Levar brothers are at work putting machinery together. M. L. Smith came over from North Bend and has gone to work in the mill.

Hats at Cost.

Ladies in need of Hats will do well to call and examine my stock, as Spring will soon be here and I wish to make room for a new stock. Mrs. E. J. HITE.

Domestic Trouble.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they save by their great work in Stomach and Liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure, 25 cents at C. Y. Lowe's Drug Store.

Law and Order League.

Members of the Law and Order League met last Friday, at Coquille City, and concluded the organization by adopting a constitution and by-laws. A number of communications were read bearing on the work in hand, including one from Judge Hamilton giving the information that a hearing could be had, at any time, in regard to the injunction forbidding the County Court to close the saloons in Coos County, by giving ten days notice to the parties who engaged the Court.

Several short speeches were made denoting the spirit of the members of the League, which shows a strong purpose to stand for the right, and to see that the law is complied with, and that a minority shall not ride in disobedience to the expressed will of the majority. Reports of the finances of the League showed about $225 in sight with fair prospects of raising ample to prosecute the work in hand.

The purpose of the meeting having been complied with in the completion of the organization and setting measures on foot looking toward the dissolution of the injunction, the convention closed to re-convene on Friday, Feb. 17th at Coquille. Each person who subscribes to the aid of the League is a member of same, and all members are invited to attend the meeting.

DISSEIPATION DESTROY HEALTH.

Practical religion is a friend of longevity in a fact that it is a protest against dissipation which injure and destroy the health. Bad men and women live a very short life. Their sins kill them. You all know many good old men, and but very few bad old men. Why? Bad men seldom live to get old. Lord Byron died at Missolonghi at thirty-six years of age, himself his own Mezeppa, his unbridled passions the horse that dashed with him into the desert. Edgar Allen Poe died at Baltimore at thirty-eight years of age. The black raven that alighted on the bust above his chamber door was delirium tremens. Only this and nothing more.

Napoleon Bonaparte lived only just beyond mid life, and died at St. Helena, and one of his doctors said that his disease was induced by excessive stouthing. You have known many people who have not lived out half their days on account of their dissipation and indulgences. Now practical religion is a protest against all dissipation of any kind.

But, you say, professors of religion have fallen, professors of religion have got drunk, professors of religion have misappropriated trust funds, professors of religion have absconded. This is all true, but they threw away religion before they did their evil acts. If a man on a White Star Line steamer bound for Liverpool, in mid-Atlantic, jumps overboard and is drowned, is that anything against the White Star Line's capacity to take the man across the ocean? And if a man jumps over the gunwale of religion and goes down never to rise, is that any reason for your believing that religion has no capacity to take the man clear through? In the one case if he had kept to the steamer his body would have been saved; in the other case if he had kept to religion his morals would have been saved.

A WASTED LIFE.

There are a great many who try to feed their soul on worldly mixed with truth. They say the Bible has good things in it, but it is not inspired. They say Christ was a good man, but He was not inspired, and that religion is made up of ten degrees of humanitarianism, and ten degrees of egotism with one degree of gospel truth, and on a poor, miserable end they make their immortal soul chew, while the meadows of God's world are green and luxuriant with well-watered pastures. Did you ever see a happy infidel? Did you ever meet a pleased skeptic? Did you ever meet a contented atheist? Not one. From the days of Gibbon and Voltaire down, not one. They quarrel about the Bible. They quarrel about each other. They take all the divine teachings and gather them together, and under them they put the fire of their own wit, and scorn, and sarcasm, and then they dance in the light of that blaze, and they scratch amid the rubbish for something with which to help them in the days of trouble, and something to comfort them in the days of death. Finding nothing Voltaire declared: "This globe seems to me more like a collection of carcasses than of men. I wish I never had been born."
