Const Mail: Officers on the steamers coming in yesterday report that Guana rock has been broken off just above high water mark by the furious seas that have been running for the past few days. The rock, which was of an irregular shape, rising some 15 or 20 feet above the sea, was situated just south of the entrance to Coos Bay harbor, and was a familiar landmark to the sailors running to this port.

Arthur Rice, who visited Cottage Grove as a delegate to the W. O. W. Convention, early this month, came wandering back last Tuesday, having visited Portland and a number of towns between there and Roseburg. He came home looking as though he had received good treatment during his visit, and was exuberant over the fact that he returned with a solitary coin, equal in value to the wages of two Russian soldiers for a day's service.

The Commoner: James M. Beck says that "the one joy of man in this day and age, is to toil for money." Had he been present at the time, Mr. Beck would doubtless have rebuked Moses for destroying the golden calf.

The steamers Elizabeth and Chico got in early Monday morning, having had about three days' wait outside the bar. The former brought in about 100 tons of freight and two passengers, and the latter brought about 30 tons of freight. The passengers were James Roberts and Fr. Grioli.

Albany Woolen Mill Burned.

Peter Nelson, of this place, received a telegram from his son Harold, who is at Albany, Oregon, that the Woolen Mills at that place burned down yesterday about noon. The fire made a clean sweep.

Grand Improvement.

A NEW STRUCTURE ON THE MOST PUBLIC CORNER OF BANDON.

Great Investment for Capital to Seek Investment Before Property Values Rise.

Bandon citizens have exhibited more concern during the last four days than has been noticeable during a decade over any improvement attempted by the Town Board, and a general kick is on from one end of the town to the other, because of the proposition to place the Town Pound upon the most public corner to be found in the place.

Our reporter is not advised as to whether property values have fallen, nor whether town finances have increased to an extent that warrants arrangements for so desirable a location for a cow pen and a dog kennel, but is rather of the opinion that it will be a drawing card for investment, as when capitalists come our way we can point with pride (?) to our Town Pound as a business proposition.

Then, too, when the beautiful days in August arrive, when the weather is fine and the earth is dry, we can run a few stray cows and horses into this noted enclosure; and again, it will have its drawing influence—in the swarms of flies that want to feed on the captives. Besides this, a little carelessness will be the only thing necessary to make this source of utility a festive resort for the "blue bottle."

Quite a number of our townsmen have asked us to write up this new advertising proposition and descent upon its influence, but we find our knowledge of language too limited, and give up the task. The Pound is there—will it stay?

Pacific Homestead: In many portions of Eastern Oregon and Washington, threshing of wheat hay has been in progress during the past two weeks. Last summer a good deal of grain was cut for hay, but the winter was so mild that much of it was unfed. The price of wheat went up to such a point that it became profitable to extract the grain from the hay, some of it yielding as much as fifteen bushels per ton, and of excellent quality. Eighty cents a bushel is the market price for wheat in those sections, consequently a good profit is made from the hay.

It Saved His Leg.

P. A. Danforth, of LaGrange, Ga. suffered for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg, but writes that Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in five days. For Ulcers, Wounds, Piles, it's the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c. Sold by C. Y. Lowe, Druggist.

To Whom It May Concern.

Notice is hereby given to the public that I have this day given my son, A. J. Stewart, his time, and that I will not be responsible for any debts or obligations he may contract. J. D. Stewart. Bandon, Oregon, March 16th, 1905.

Steamer C. A. Klose Abandoned Off West Oregon Coast.

San Francisco, March 25th.—News reached here last night that the schooner C. A. Klose, from Vancouver, Wash., to San Francisco, March 16th, had been abandoned off Heets Head on the Western Oregon coast, with no tidings of her crew of nine men. The vessel was waterlogged. The tug Dauntless sailed last night to look for her.

The C. A. Klose was sighted by the steamer Chehalis, en route to Gray's Harbor, Wash., Wednesday, but the Chehalis was unable to bring in the waterlogged vessel on account of the storm prevailing. Her lumber cargo was still solid. The logbook, which was carried off by the mate of the Chehalis, said the men had pumped until they became exhausted, and had been abandoned the boat. What has become of them is unknown. The Klose was then partly filled with water and was heading toward the rough Oregon coast.

The Klose was built at Alameda 13 years ago, and is owned by Beadle Bros. of San Francisco. She was bringing over half a million feet of lumber. Her tonnage is about 370. Astoria, March 27.—The lumber laden schooner Klose, which was abandoned several days ago while on her way from Vancouver to San Francisco, turned turtle and went ashore some time during the night on North beach, at a place named Faterbrook, ten miles north of Fort Canby.

A Chicago Alchemist Owe His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lung," says Hon. John Shenick, 220 South Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being over heated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Telegram: A magazine in the interests of the liquor people has made its appearance. It is called "The Liberal." But what is there that is liberal about the liquor interests?

A $150,000 exhibit of the products of the Philippine Islands will be an interesting feature of the United States Government's magnificent participation in the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Herald: W. T. Kerr & Co. are on a deal with the Lyons heirs for the mill at this place, it having become in their possession again. There is a large amount of logs being put in the boom, and effort to get the mill going are under way. Only the completion of the papers remains, when full possession of the mill will be turned over to the new firm. This will be a good move and will be a fine thing for our town, making a good addition to our payroll. It will sound good to hear the old whistle again after a silence of many months. With our three creameries, the mill and box factory going in full blast, times ought to pick up rapidly.

A Safe Cough Medicine for Children.

In buying a cough medicine for children never be afraid to buy Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. It is especially valuable for colds, croup and whooping cough. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.
