EDITORIAL

The Portland "hog" is looming up to an extent that the managers of the Fair contemplate taking some measure to protect the public from his unmerciful greed. This hog is different from the natural animal, in that the natural animal will lie down when he has crammed to the extent of his capacity, but the Portland animal has an unlimited capacity.

In Philadelphia we have the spectacle of a Mayor defying the political machine that runs the city. Mayor Weaver stands out against the corrupt institution, but it remains to be seen what the result will be, as the machine purpose to impeach him and remove him from their pathway. Reform in Philadelphia would be an astonishing phenomenon.

The saloon business has encroached upon the entrances to the Lewis and Clark Fair Ground and upon school territory, at Portland, through permission of the City Council, to an extent that the people of that place have invoked the initiative to get rid of saloons in that district. Portland gave an immense majority in favor of the traffic last November, but now wishes to keep the saloons in the background. If the business is commendable she should not be ashamed to have it on exhibition, and if it is not beneficial to the city, it should have been voted down.

Russian Fleet Destroyed.

Washington, May 29.—Minister Griscom wires that Admiral Togo reports the total loss sustained by the Russian fleet Saturday was two battleships, one coast defender, five cruisers, two special service ships, and three destroyers, all sunk. In addition, he captured two battleships, two coast defenders, one special service ship, one destroyer, and over two thousand prisoners.

The Admiral adds that the Japanese squadron was undamaged.

London, May 29.—The Central News is authority for the statement that the naval battle in the Korean straits is still progressing.

The Japanese are pursuing the Russian warships, which are reported widely scattered.

Messages from Tokio announce that official reports state that the Russian losses reported up to this morning are 12 vessels sunk or captured.

According to a private telegram, which the Central News quotes, the Japanese lost three cruisers, and 12 destroyers, either sunk or disabled.

Eight captains of Russian vessels destroyed in the battle were drowned with their sinking ships, and the crews were made prisoners.

Tokio is delirious with joy, and Admiral Togo's report is awaited with feverish impatience. During the battle, firing was plainly heard on shore.

London, May 29.—Reports current on the stock exchange, purporting to come from an authoritative private source, state that Admiral Rojestvensky's flagship, the Knazovarov, was among the vessels sunk, and that Admiral Togo is following up the Russians and picking off their ships one by one.

On the exchange this morning consols went up five-sixteenths, and Japanese bonds rose from two to three and a half per cent.

Tokio, May 29.—A late report says that Rear Admiral Nebogoff was captured, and it is estimated that 3000 Russians were captured. Admiral Rojestvensky was wounded.

Centennial News.

Get ready to hit the Trail at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, opening in Portland, June 1st.

A congressional party consisting of thirty-one members of the House and Senate, accompanied by their wives and families, is now on the way to the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Companies I and K of the Tenth United States regular infantry are encamped upon the government peninsula at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, Captains Ingram and Gowen and a staff of three lieutenants are in command.

Sprained Ankle, Stiff Neck, Lame Shoulder.

These are three common ailments for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm is especially valuable. If promptly applied it will save you time, money and suffering when troubled with any one of these ailments. For sale by C. Y. Lowe, Druggist.

Oregonian: The teeming millions of stricken India are of a very low order of intelligence, and this is perhaps a blessing, for the misery and suffering which seem a part of their existence, would be terrible to contemplate were they sufficiently civilized and educated to regard their condition as it appears to the civilized world. Millions starve to death every year, and this year the plague is raging with such unusual severity that more than 750,000 people have perished from it since January 1.

Cuban Diarrhoes.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war, know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoeas are almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs, of Houston, Texas. "I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by C. Y. Lowe, Druggist.

Huge Task.

Decomposed granite has been spread over the flooring of the Trail and the Bridges of Nations at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. This material has been used to advantage in making all the paths and roadways at the Centennial, and it greatly improves the appearance of the gaily boulevard.

Edmund P. Sheldon, chief of the forestry exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, is having made a papier mache model of Mt. Hood, which will be located on the second floor of the Forestry building. This will be used to illustrate some of the topographical features of Oregon's greatest forestry belt.

Upon a lofty pyramidal made of various grains which grow in the state of Oregon, a heroic statue of Ceres, the Goddess of Grain, adorns the rotunda of the Agriculture and Horticulture building at the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

No Secret About It.

It is no secret that for Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Buckle's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Texas. 25c at C. Y. Lowe's Drug Store.

Home Circle Column

Crude Thoughts As They Fall From The Editorial Pen. Pleasant Evening Recollections. A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join The Home Circle at Evening Tide.

SHE WOKE THAT MORN IN HEAVEN.
She knelt alone, that little one,
An orphan child of three,
And whispered the prayer she learned
Beside her mother's knee:
No gentle hand upon her head
In soft caress was laid,
No sweet voice murmuring her name—
She knelt alone and prayed.

The tear drops resting on her cheek
Had found the world so cold;
For even she, that angel child,
And murmured forth with tiny hands
Up-pointing to the skies,
"God, take me to my mamma, when Poor little Lily dies."

The angels, passing, heard the prayer,
And in the calm moonlight
Bent down and breathed upon the child,
And kissed her forehead white;
And bearing her with songs of love
Through the blue depths of even,
They laid her in her mother's arms
She woke that morn in Heaven.

The memory of misspent years
should not hang like a millstone about your neck; so long as you have a desire for better things, you still have in reserve, greater or less in proportion to the earnestness of your aspirations, the very power you use in attaining what you seek. Thousands of bad boys have changed their course radically and become good and useful men. The ablest cardinal and statesman of France in his day was known as the incorrigible boy Richelieu.

Mazarin, when young, was a reckless gambler. Dumas was a worthless idle boy. St. Augustine was called a prophane when a boy. Whitefield, the great preacher, was a thief when young, and his mother kept a public house. President Thiers was the worst pupil in school; he would strike his teacher when angry, and no punishment would awe him. All at once he changed his course and determined to become President of France, although he was very poor. Great men are not common men more fully developed and ripened.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

"All I ask," said Nan Patterson in the Tomb, "is to go back to my dear old father and mother, to the dear old home, to forget, if I can, my long sufferings, and be a little girl again."

There was a time when Nan Patterson was an innocent, pure and happy girl, the same as are scores who will read this article. She was pretty. Her parents were justly proud of her. In early girlhood she appeared behind the footlights of the stage. Our readers are all familiar with what has followed. Her picture has appeared in all our metropolitan papers. Three times has she been tried for murder, and still no jury can agree as to her guilt.

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY THE FORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

Because the liver is neglected people suffer with constipation, biliousness, headaches and fevers. Colds attack the lungs and contagious diseases take hold of the system. It is safe to say that if the liver were always kept in proper working order, illness would be almost unknown.

Theford's Black-Draught is so successful in curing such sickness because it is without a rival as a liver regulator. This great family medicine is not a strong and drastic drug, but a mild and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by a mere child without possible harm.

The healthful action on the liver cures biliousness. It has an invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work regularly, the poisonous acids along with the waste from the bowels get back into the blood and virulent contagion results.

Timely treatment with Theford's Black-Draught removes the dangers which lurk in constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and will positively forestall the onsets of Bright's disease, for which disease in advancing stages there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a 25c. package of Theford's Black-Draught.

A MATTER OF HEALTH

Frank Vincent DuMond, chief of the Fine Arts exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, arrived at the grounds a few days ago to supervise the installation of four carloads of paintings valued at more than a million dollars.

The Oregon Semi-Weekly Journal, in addition to containing Paul De Laney's new serial story, "The Sheep-herder," is issued twice a week and is brimful of the cream of the news of the world. It has decidedly the best market reports of any paper on the Pacific Coast. For the citizen whose postoffice facilities do not justify a daily paper, the Semi-Weekly Journal is the best investment in reading matter that can be made. For clubbing rates see the editor of this paper.

Telegram: Prof. Frederick Morgan Davenport, of Hamilton College, at one time a Methodist minister, has been writing on the subject of revivals. He does not have much regard for them. Modern revivals, he avers, are based on hypnotism, although he admits that revivalists may not know the secret of their strength. However, according to Professor Davenport, a revival weakens both intellect and will. Still, he doubts whether a man, seriously affected by a revival, ever had either much intellect or will.
