EDITORIAL.
 And now it is Congressman J. N. Williamson who is being held up for public inspection, while Attorney Honey will see to it that the public shall have the advantage of the strongest X Ray exhibit. Already the exposure is very damaging to Williamson's case.
 The beef trust magnates, under indictment, assume a haughty indifference. Presumably their affectation is to parade before the public as much injured persons. However, it is possible to misjudge them. They may have preyed upon the people so long that they have become hardened to an extent that they have no regard for public opinion.

There is considerable lamentation arising from certain quarters over the verdict found in the Senator Mitchell trial, some even expressing surprise that he should be found guilty. It seems to us, that with the facts so clearly proven, it would have been a greater surprise to have found a jury that would not have convicted him. If our nation would progress and stand as a model and leader for other governments to pattern after, it must rid itself of just such iniquity as Senator Mitchell has helped to foster. No country can crucify the just and turn loose its criminals and flourish. Palestine tried that experiment some 2000 years ago, and the result has certainly been very apparent.

Now comes the rumor that Russia is wanting a fight with Great Britain, and that she will make peace with Japan. Perhaps she may want a change, but it looks much as though she will have all the fighting at home that she can attend to in the next year or two. Japan has whipped her a good deal more severely than England ever did, and perhaps Russia is desirous of the change, in order to ease up the dose by degrees. It is probable that Madam Ruman is lying about the old fighting bear, though, for with the greater part of her outside fleet in the bottom of the ocean, and that of the Black Sea, either in the hands of mineers or likely to soon be there, she is not in a very flourishing condition to seek a quarrel with the British Lion.

Telegram: The public hopes that the beef trust will find those indictments as difficult to chew and digest as the steaks which the trust has been selling at skyscraper prices.

Oregonian: John D. Rockefeller having given $10,000,000 to a general educational fund, and something like $30,000,000 or $40,000,000 more for similar purposes to various institutions, there is hope that after a while he may remember the tax collector.

Higher and Lower.
 James B. Dill, one of the most prominent corporation lawyers of the country, has left a practice estimated at $300,000 annually for a $3000 Judgeship. It is reported that Mr. Dill is so disgusted with the revelations made recently in the circles of high finance, that he no longer desires to give them the benefit of his legal services.

This action of Mr. Dill is valuable in indicating the growth of a new spirit in the land. Some men are coming to feel, as they have never felt before in this country, that man cannot live by bread alone. Everything that makes life worth the living is seen to be in jeopardy from the dishonest, commercial aspects of modern life. Once, men felt that life meant something, that there was a spiritual side to it, but men have grown skeptical through the constant spectacle of rotten living on the part of men who ought to be the examples for the younger generation.

Even the skepticism which men feel in regard to the validity of the religious instinct is largely due to the materialistic way of living that the professors of religious principles indulge in. Men claim that they believe in spiritual conceptions of life, yet their business is carried on as though God and immortality were fictions, and not realities. A retired missionary, on being asked if he had ever seen any Christians in his life, replied that he had, but that they all called themselves Buddhists. What a commentary on religious belief and practice among us.—Telegram

CHOLERA INFANTUM.
 Child Not Expected to Live from One Hour to Another, but Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
 Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey, of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle, she was well." This remedy is for sale by C. Y. Lowe, Druggist.

Centennial Notes.
 Liberator's famous Italian band of fifty pieces, is now giving two free concerts daily at the Lewis and Clark Exposition.
 Susan B. Anthony, the leading exponent of woman's suffrage in the United States, was the honored guest on Friday, June 30, at a reception held in the Oregon building at the Lewis and Clark Exposition.
 The free illustrated lectures by Barry Buckley, of Washington, D. C., which are given every afternoon at four o'clock in the Government building at the Lewis and Clark Fair, are attracting large audiences. Mr. Buckley speaks eloquently on the wonders of the Yellowstone National Park, and his lecture is beautifully illustrated by colored lantern slides.
 The price of admission to the Lewis and Clark Fair grounds in the evening has been reduced, by a provision whereby the purchaser of a fifty cent admission ticket receives with his ticket, coupons which admit him to twenty five cents' worth of shows on the Trail. The arrangement is proving popular. The change was made because it was thought that the fifty-cent charge, which merely permitted the visitor to the grounds, was unreasonable, since the exhibit palaces are not kept open in the evenings.

A Surprise Party.
 A pleasant surprise party may be given to your stomach and liver, by taking a medicine which will relieve their pain and discomfort, viz: Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are a most wonderful remedy, affording sure relief and cure for headache, dizziness and constipation. 25cts at Lowe's Drug Store.

Oregonian: Pugilist Ross was killed at Aberdeen, Wash., July 3, by Pugilist Donnelly, with whom he was engaged in a prize fight contrary to law. Donnelly was arrested, and is said to feel very sorry over the termination of the affair, although sorrow among brutes is not common. It is somewhat uncertain why Mr. Donnelly should suffer the pangs of regret over the termination of the fight. It is nothing but the brute instinct in man that makes the fighting game interesting, and when one of the brutes proves himself so far superior to the other brute that he kills him, the victor would seem to be much more glorious than where he only half killed his man. It is not at all clear that the world has lost anything by the death of Mr. Ross, and if Mr. Donnelly could only be hanged with out entailing too much expense on the county, there would not be very much regret.

The Diamond Cure.
 The latest news from Paris, is, that they have discovered a diamond cure for consumption. If you fear consumption or pneumonia, it will, however, be best for you to take that great remedy mentioned by W. T. McGee, of Vanier, Tenn. "I had a cough for fourteen years. Nothing helped me until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which gave instant relief and effected a permanent cure." Unequaled quick cure for Throat and Lung Troubles. At Lowe's Drug Store. Price 50cts and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Home Circle Column
 Crude Thoughts As They Fall From The Editorial Pen. Pleasant Evening Reviews. A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join The Home Circle at Evening Tide.
A WOMAN'S HEART.
 God's angels took a little drop of dew Fresh fallen from the heaven's far-off blue. And a white violet, so pure and bright, Shedding its fragrance in the morn's soft light. And a forget-me-not laid altogether out of sight Within the chalice of a lily white; With humbleness and grace they covered it. Made purity and sadness near to sit. And added pride to this and fears a few, One wish, but half a hope and bright tears, too, Courage and sweetness in misfortunes smart. And out of this they moulded woman's heart.
 If you have any doubt in your mind as to the good that can come to you by living in the sunshine way we ask you to try for one day and prove by personal experience whether or not it is worth your while to scatter sunshine. Begin at once by trying to make those about you in your homes happier. Keep a sharp lookout for little opportunities of helpfulness. Be courteous and kind whenever you speak or are spoken to. Be pleasant to everyone every where. Be willing to sacrifice your own personal enjoyment if by doing so you can make other persons happier. Do all this and see when night comes if your own heart is not full to overflowing with peace and joy unspeakable.

A little fun has a great effect upon the different characters of men and women. Martha—the Martha we all love—knows this and encourages it in her home. So sisters, if John is cross, if the children try your patience, if—well, if the stovepipe even should fall down (as ours did today), and every thing goes wrong—don't worry. Worry drains the system and shortens our lives. Joy is the sunshine of the heart. Let's laugh and enjoy every moment of the time as it passes. It's just as easy to be a leader as a wheel horse. If the job be long the pay will be greater. Be cheerful; don't worry; laugh at your troubles and your home will be happy and you will be the Martha that made it so. Try it for one year.

The responsibilities of home training rest chiefly upon the mothers of our land. The fathers are necessarily driven out to face stern realities of life, and the time spent in the society of their families is circumscribed. The mothers—the queen of the home—too often allows themselves to be engrossed with household duties, to neglect the little ones. It is true we live in a fast age. The demands of civilization are insatiable. Thousands of details press on the mother's mind and energies, especially in the absence of hired help, and eventually undermine her physical strength, and as the members are always in sympathy with the physical, mental aberration might possibly ensue. Let them economize time, take advantage of all the short cuts to do things—thus gain time to spend with those little jewels, merely loaned to them by a beneficent Creator; let them devote as much time as possible to them, make themselves worthy of their confidence and love, and interest themselves in all things which pertain to their children's interest and attention. Seek their opinion concerning business matters around the home, thus inculcating a spirit of self-confidence, which is an indispensable prerequisite in the battle of life. Sympathize with them in all their little grievances, which are manifold and multifarious.

KEEP YOUNG.
 The middle aged woman needs to keep a sharp lookout upon herself. There is a danger of standing still mentally, of leaning at thirty or forty upon very brittle opinions and ideas formed at twenty years of age. Too many girls stop short in their education. It is never too late to adopt the notion that one can stop learning every day has its lesson.
 Men stay young longer than women. Perhaps it is because a man at twenty-one years old knows that he knows nothing in the world's opinion anyway. He is just preparing to run a race over a course untried by his feet, though trodden by millions of others. He steadies himself, looks about him, and reflects that if he is to keep in the race he must have his eyes wide open all the time and learn how to run as he goes.
 The young woman usually considers that with her college diploma in hand strenuous mental application and effort come to an end. With the young man, school and college are only preparations for the activities and achievements of maturity. The phenomenally brilliant undergraduate is seldom heard of again—man or woman. Too early development is not a favorable augury. The great school is the school of life, with a course of study covering three score years and ten. It is those who are recognized forces during the last half of this schooling who are of account in the world.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
 Never fails. Buy it now. It may save life.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE
 This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in coarser form than Theford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, distemper and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial.
 It costs 25c. a can and saves ten times its price in profit.

Rest Her Double.
 "I know no one for four weeks when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was rescued by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure Stomach, Liver and Kidney disorders. At Lowe's Drug Store. Price 50cts.
