HUMOR OF THE HOUR

POLLY LARKIN

I "everyman" you go nowadays, you have a tendency to believe that they know everything about the United States. The problem is not what you know, but what you don't. I arrived at midsummer when I got to the city. The air was hot, the people were tired, and the news was bad. I arrived at midsummer when I got to the city. The air was hot, the people were tired, and the news was bad.

In the spring, I was in the country. It's a beautiful country. The trees were green, the birds were singing, and the flowers were blooming. I was in the country in the spring. The trees were green, the birds were singing, and the flowers were blooming.

I arrived at midsummer when I got to the city. The air was hot, the people were tired, and the news was bad. In the spring, I was in the country. It's a beautiful country. The trees were green, the birds were singing, and the flowers were blooming.

AN OCEAN ENIGMA

W.E. Renwick

The sea is vast, and the ships that sail upon it are small in comparison. The ocean is a mysterious place, and its depths are hidden from us. The sea is vast, and the ships that sail upon it are small in comparison.

The ocean is a mysterious place, and its depths are hidden from us. The sea is vast, and the ships that sail upon it are small in comparison.

The sea is vast, and the ships that sail upon it are small in comparison. The ocean is a mysterious place, and its depths are hidden from us. The sea is vast, and the ships that sail upon it are small in comparison.

BATHING IN THE SEA

F. Bond

The sea is a beautiful place, and the water is cool and refreshing. The sea is a beautiful place, and the water is cool and refreshing.

The sea is a beautiful place, and the water is cool and refreshing.

The sea is a beautiful place, and the water is cool and refreshing.