Bandon celery is on the market. Alf Caughell, of Gold Beach, was in town last Saturday.

C. Tymmons was a business visitor in Marshfield last week.

Peter Loggie, of North Bend, was a business visitor in town this week.

Five cases of smallpox have developed in Eugene within the last week.

Saturday, Dec. 23rd, is the night selected by the Band for their Grand Ball.

It is reported that an Eastern man will establish another bank at Myrtle Point.

J. W. Slayton, of New Castle, Pa., lectured at Recorder Hall last Saturday night on the labor question.

Last Saturday Chas. H. Edgell had a thumb almost cut off by the saw in the Dyer shingle mill at Circle City.

A. D. Morse orders the Recorder sent a year to his sister, Mrs. Nancy E. Hunt, away back in cold, bleak Maine.

Mrs. John Conger who was operated upon by Dr. Wetmore for an abdominal tumor, is reported to be improving rapidly.

The Howell logging camp was closed down several days the past week on account of a break on the "donkey."

Attorney A. J. Sherwood, of Coquille, and Attorney J. M. Upton, of Marshfield, were in Bandon this week on legal business.

Down in the Coos Bay country the Margarita Fischer Co. advertises a real live horse on the stage. Won't there be a great time on the bay when the first circus train pulls in there?—Salem Capital Journal.

The parties who took the hazard from the flag pole at the S. A. R. hall some time ago are known, and if they want to save trouble are requested to return same within one week.

Some of the Coos Bayites are having an awful time deciding the question whether they are to have a thirty foot or a forty foot channel on the bar. Over here on the Coquille we are not doing any kicking, but "sawing wood," and the day is not far off when we will have all the water we need and all we want.

At the city election in Roseburg recently there was a hot contest between two factions—one representing the "wide open" policy, and the other "no gambling, no bawdy houses, and regulation of saloons." Dr. E. V. Hoover, candidate for re-election for mayor, stood with the "open" faction, and Geo. W. Kimball was the "closed town" faction candidate for the same place. Hoover was elected by a small majority.

Bands of wild hogs are reported numerous this year on the ridges bordering the Applegate and Williams creeks in southern Oregon. These hogs are descended from domesticated animals that escaped to the woods some years ago, but a few generations have sufficed for them to revert to the primitive state. Usually they are gant and thin, resembling to some degree the famous "razorbacks" of Georgia, but this fall they are fat and in excellent condition.

The schooner San Gabriel had a close call last week from being wrecked on the spit at the Umpqua bar. The tug had gone out over the bar to tow in a schooner, and the San Gabriel mistook her signal to the outside ship as intended for her, and started out. While on the bar, some thing went wrong with the steering gear, the vessel broached to, losing a good part of her deck load of lumber, and narrowly escaped going on the spit.—Coast Mail.

The dredging of the bay in front of the I. O. O. F. wharf will be completed by Wednesday evening, when a depth of thirteen feet will have been obtained. It is expected that the Roanoke will land at this dock in the future in place of at North Bend, as heretofore. The Arago will then leave for Portland instead of Coquille, as previously stated. Capt. Tyler, of the Arago, states that the old hogback is now entirely dredged off, and that the channel is in a better condition than it was originally. The Kilburn came in at low tide yesterday without even scraping mud, for the first time since being on this run.—Coast Mail.

When You Have a Bad Cold You want a remedy that will not only give quick relief but effect a permanent cure. You want a remedy that will relieve the lungs and keep expectation easy. You want a remedy that will counteract any tendency toward pneumonia.

You want a remedy that is pleasant and safe to take.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets all of these requirements, and for the speed and permanent cure of bad colds stands a peer. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

G. W. King, a cattle buyer of Montague, Cal., was in this vicinity on business this week.

Sylvester Kaski was killed by the explosion of a dynamite in the Beaver Hill mine Monday forenoon.

A Pershbaker, the pioneer mill man of Prosper was (s)ansacting business at the Bay last week.

C. A. McKellips and C. E. Hendricks of North Bend, were business visitors in our city yesterday.

Mrs. L. A. Jacobson and son of Portland, arrived Tuesday evening for a visit with her husband at this place.

Dan Campbell, who drives the stage from Marshfield to the Umpqua, says the beach surf has been as rough, or rougher, the past week, than it gets at any time during the winter.

Ben Schuyler was in town last week enroute to Wedderburn. He will take a party of eight men up Rogue river about fifty miles to do some assessment work on his mining claims.

There are about eight schooners lying in the lower bay, fully loaded but unable to cross out. The Arago and the Repeat have completed their cargoes at North Bend, also, and are waiting for an opportunity to get out over the bar.—Coast Mail.

Dr. S. Abbott, veterinary surgeon can be found at Garroute Bros.' livery barn, Bandon, for a few days. Domestic animals of all kinds treated on scientific principles. Bring in your stock and have them examined. Examination free. Veterinary dentistry a specialty.

The past two weeks has been bad on shipping interests at Coos Bay, Coquille, Umpqua, Siuslaw, and the Columbia. The weather here has been good most of the time, but the sea has been running high all along the coast and no vessels with deck loads have been able to cross over the bars.

What is known as "rusty gold" has been discovered in large quantities at different points along the Oregon coast, particularly in the sand at Gold Beach, Curry county, by Dr. David T. Day, Chief of the Division of Mining and Mineral Resources of the United States Geological Survey, in the course of his experiments with black sands at the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

So important does Dr. Day consider this that he contemplates compiling a special report to the Government on the subject, giving full particulars of the discovery, and the assays made, and results.

Dr. Day recently found this gold present in many of the samples he received from Gold Beach, which he was testing to ascertain what quantity of gold dust had been left in placer operations.

The peculiarity about "rusty gold" is that it is gold united with iron oxide; the combination is black in color, making it almost impossible to tell it from ordinary black sand unless its presence is known. For years the Gold Beach sand has been known to be rich in placer gold, and has been worked for it, but the presence of the "rusty gold" was not suspected.

DISCOVERED BY ACCIDENT.
Only by accident did Dr. Day discover it. While testing tailings of some of the sand that had already been washed for free gold, he noticed the coarseness of some of the grains. He thought this was some form of copper, but as tests disproved this, he ran it through an assay furnace, with the result that globules of pure gold were left in the crucibles. Not till then did he have an idea that it was rusty gold.

"Rusty gold" said Dr. Day, "is gold so united with oxide of iron that it is exceedingly hard to detect. When its presence is once known, however, nothing is simpler than the manner of freeing the precious metal from the iron oxide. All that is necessary is to smelt the combination. The iron oxide is immediately freed from the gold,

LATE NEWS

Congressman Hermann is seriously ill at his home in Roseburg with erysipelas of the right leg.

A blizzard is raging in Eastern Oregon. Four inches of snow at Pendleton. There is also some snow in the Willamette valley.

The sch. Bella, bound from S. E. to Acme with a general cargo, was driven on the beach near the mouth of the Siuslaw and will be a total wreck. The Bella is a two-master and registers 147 tons.

The Roanoke had a narrow escape at Eureka Monday afternoon. She had broken her steering gear and drifted broadside over the dangerous Humboldt bar. She went on south and the extent of her damages is unknown.

The Ruby, Oregon, Advance and Oakland are waiting for a smooth bar if they get out this week the lumber shipment from this harbor this WEEK will be more than two million feet. How's that for high?

Mr. Bigne, who has been sick for a long time with heart and kidney disease, died Monday. The funeral was held from the Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon.

Word reached here last night that a large tree had fallen and crushed the house belonging to Chas. Swift on his ranch on Twomile. The family were eating supper when the crash came; Mrs. Swift ran to the window and it is reported that the tree struck her, breaking one of her limbs. We are unable to get particulars this morning.

A Tillamook dispatch to the Oregonian says: Although the fishing season for Tillamook closed on the 20th, fishing is in full blast on Tillamook bay, and Elmore's cannery is also running to its capacity, and is receiving a large quantity of fish, as there is a fine run of silversides, and the fishermen are doing well.

The cannery has agreed to take all the fish, and as it has a lot of empty cans on hand that it wants to fill this season, no attention is being paid to the closed season by the cannery people. Only one or two fishermen have stopped fishing and complied with the law.

Peter Nelson stopped the Recorder on the street, Saturday, and said: "Say, I want to put an Ad. in your paper; I see you are getting up a good paper and trying to help the town, and I want to help make it a success."

This is the kind of encouragement newspaper men like to receive; it makes them feel much better than when a man says: "I don't need to advertise; I run here long time, everybody knows ME."

E. Heuckendorff, the shipbuilder, who was on the bay last week to secure the official number for his schooner, Oregon, and incidentally to inspect the wreck Sacramento, returned to Prosper by Saturday morning's train. Speaking of the prospects for ship building the coming year, Mr. Heuckendorff said that he looked for a boom along these lines such as was never witnessed on the Pacific coast in years gone by. He supported his belief by the fact that the new law governing the Philippine shipping trade, which has and is being carried in foreign bottoms, is to go into effect and will require American vessels. These ships, said the master builder, will come from the Pacific coast. He also remarked that he had already received inquiry from a firm that wants to build 64 vessels, craft of all dimensions, for this particular trade. Thus, said Mr. Heuckendorff, may seem rather extraordinary, but is nevertheless a fact.

While Mr. Heuckendorff was here he was importuned to establish a yard on the bay, by a very prominent business man and one of the progressive spirits of our city, who made a most flattering offer of a site. The proposition may be accepted. When asked why he discontinued his yard in this city, the veteran builder said: "Self preservation is the first law of nature. My lease on the realty upon which the yard was located was about to expire and I could not get a continuance, neither could I contract for lumber, so you see I had to look out for No. 1.—Heuckendorff." However, during the course of his remarks, one could easily gather the opinion that Mr. Heuckendorff would much prefer Marshfield in which to carry on his operations than any other location.—Sun.

John Quick, of Coquille, was a business visitor Saturday.

Henry Lorenz, of Coquille, came down Saturday on a business mission, returning on the Favorite, Monday.

Isaac Storm and W. M. Harvey are each building new residences in Woodland Addition. Watch Bandon grow.

J. W. Field, of Myrtle Point, was a Bandon visitor Saturday. Mr. Field was formerly engaged in the blacksmith business here.

A drunken man sat down on the railroad track below The Dalles. A train came along. The coroner couldn't identify him.

The Coquille Board of Trade is making an effort to have R. D. Hume move his corn and pea canning establishment to Coquille.

Last week Geo. Hite sold his barber shop to H. F. Morrison, who has had charge of the shop the past three months. Mr. Morrison is a first-class workman and invites a share of your patronage.

W. W. Gage, of this city, who spent the fishing season in the lower river, returned from the valley the first of last week, accompanied by Mrs. Gage, who had spent the summer visiting relatives and friends at the home of her youth.—Herald.

The Y. P. S. C. E. held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Rev. Roach, last Friday evening, about thirty members being present. After the regular business had been disposed of, refreshments were served and the evening pleasantly passed in a social way.

The producer hasn't the least bit of state pride to hold him back from selling his stuff to San Francisco via Coos Bay, if he can make five or ten cents a bushel or from one to five dollars a head on his live stock. Neither will the people of the interior feel badly if they can get cheap coal out of Coos Bay.—Salem Capital Journal.
