Promptly Sends Provisions and Money to San Francisco.

Town Contributes $200, K. of P. $100, Masons $100, Oddfellows $100.

When the news of the San Francisco disaster reached Bandon, our little city was prompt to respond to the call of the needy. The Stm. Chico was in the harbor and offered to take provisions free of charge. It was short notice but soliciting committees went to work and when the steamer sailed had the following provisions on board: 80 sacks of potatoes, 600 loaves of bread, 6 boxes of clothing, 1 basket of clothing, 1 box canned goods, 1 box groceries, 1 box butter, 1 box rolled oats, 1 box beef, 1 sack beef, 2 boxes crackers, 7 sacks flour, $100 worth of blanket flannel.

The lodges came forward promptly and the K. of P. Masons and Oddfellows each appropriated one hundred dollars in cash, which was sent at once.

The Town Board of Trustees appropriated $200. With this money they purchased blanket flannel to the amount of $200 and the balance was spent for potatoes and other provisions.

Bandon has done herself proud in the amount contributed and the promptness in which the relief was given.

Mrs. H. W. Dunham and daughter arrived in Roseburg yesterday and will be home as soon as the daughter is able to stand the stage trip. She is very sick.

Miss Florence Rosa went to Portland from San Francisco, thence by stmr Alliance to Marshfield, and is expected home tonight or tomorrow.

Mrs. Costello received word from her daughter, Mrs. Ada Simpson, that she had lost everything but escaped uninjured. She will probably return home.

Mrs. A. Garfield received the news that her relatives in Oakland were safe. Wm. Howell had a letter from his daughter, Edith, and she is all right. Mrs. Erickson reports her sons and daughter safe and sound and they are expected home soon.

A number of Prosper people have heard from relatives at S. F. and Oakland and all are well.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Logan have a letter from their daughter, Miss Lena, who is employed as a nurse at the City and Co. Hospital, S. F. In part she says: "I went into the dormitory at 5:15 to light the gas and call Mrs. Powers, and had gotten just to the door, coming out after lighting up her room, when the first shock came. She said to come out into the yard, we would be safest there. I said, "No, I am going to my ward," and with that I ran as fast as I could, with bricks and boards flying everywhere, not knowing when my time would come. I was just about a minute getting back into my ward and found patients running everywhere. Just think, the floor was almost covered with plaster fallen from the ceiling, the medicine chest a wreck, and my patients praying, all but two, who were asleep, and 20 out of 34 patients were helpless. The bad shocks lasted nearly three-quarters of an hour, with many, many lighter ones after. I tell you it is a time never to be forgotten. We had only bread and cold milk for breakfast and dinner, and it was the same, with the addition of cannot-can beef, for supper. You see the kitchen was a complete wreck and no fire was allowed to be built, and there was nothing electric lights or gas, so 'twas out cold victuals and glad to get that. The resident physician told me I was one of the few brave ones among the nurses. Several of the girls had to go off duty, had spasms, etc. There was not one life lost in the hospital. Over 500 patients, about 80 nurses, and a great number of employees. It is said that the main postoffice here in Frisco, one of the finest buildings in the world, has sunk at least four feet. It was built on "made" ground.

Mrs. Garfield received a letter from a lady friend in East Oakland, dated the 21st, part of which is printed below:

"Being a little composed, thought I would write and let you know we are alive in body but otherwise dead after the terrible earthquake we experienced. No pen can describe the terror of it, which lasted fifty seconds. Everybody seems to be half dead. San Francisco is on fire. They are dynamiting the big buildings and it strikes terror to your heart when you hear that awful explosion and the walls fall in. I have been crying so much for it is so sad to see the people stream in from S. F. with their little belongings. People can come to Oakland but Oakland people are not allowed to go to S. F. Both places are under martial law. If you could only see some of the buildings. The Oakland Bank will have to be torn down. Whittier, Fuller is all caved in. The beautiful new Baptist church is split in two. I cannot begin to tell you how awful it is. Your house suffered a great deal—be thankful you were not here. But Oakland they say is a paradise compared to S. F. and I believe it. We are not allowed to make a fire in the stove, if we do we will be fined $50. Bread is $1.00 a loaf in S. F. They raised the price to 16c in Oakland; the Mayor however did not permit them to charge that price so we got it for 5c. The churches are crowded, also the parks. Many people were shot down in S. F. for robbery. We had slight earthquakes all that day and two that night. My sister used to laugh at me when I was frightened at an earthquake but I can assure you she did not laugh this time. She says she did nothing but scream. Do not for one moment think the papers exaggerate. They cannot describe this horror."

Monday evening, T. B. Wheeler, Mgr of the Wheeler Real Estate Co., received the following letter from his son:

San Francisco, Cal., April 21, 1906.

Dear Father: I have just returned from what was once San Francisco. The city is burnt from the Ferry to Valencienst, and Van Ness ave. Everything gone. We have lost heavily but no kick as we escaped uninjured. The people are taking the catastrophe grandly; have lost every dollar, yet smile and plan for the future. That's what it takes. No city can be kept down whose people have that kind of spirit and feeling. As for me I am planning to take advantage of the new San Francisco as it is being built, got in on the ground floor and build my fortune on the ruins of the old San Francisco. My plans are completed and I begin work tomorrow. The point most interesting to me now is how much will the banks pay its depositors. I hope dollar for dollar, but no one can tell. I think if given a little time most of them will pay out. Go right on with your business there, get something on hand. We will be ready to take care of our part here.

Affectionately,

To the women of Bandon and Bullards who so nobly responded to the "short notice" call for bread, I wish to say we received and sent off on the Chico 363 loaves of bread, 23 dozen cookies, and 60 gems.

The merchants and individuals contributed bacon, flour, potatoes, canned goods and other edibles to the amount of $25.70 which was consigned to "Red Cross Committee" along with the bread and some cooking utensils.

We vote Mr. Gallier many thanks for the use of his store as headquarters, where willing hands soon had the donation ready for the Chico. If the notice had not been so short no doubt many more would have responded. Very thankfully,

MRS. ZEEK.
