

BANDON

The Growing Town of Coos County

The Manufacturing Town.

The Coming Summer Resort of the Oregon Coast.

Bandon is growing faster than any town in Oregon.

Its advancement is real, not on paper.

Manufacturing plants all running and several more big industries coming.

Shipped more lumber since Jan. 1st than any port in Oregon except the Columbia.

The Coquille valley is the garden spot of the Coast country and we have the timber and coal industries Fine openings for workers and hustlers, but grafters and hot-air artists are not wanted.

COQUILLE NEWS NOTES

Leander, Our Correspondent Tells of the Week's Incidents at the Hub.

The beautiful rainy days of summer are here again, and the moon, the queen of night, as she casts her illuminating rays over our city, touches a tender chord in our hearts as we see the young couples promenading up and down Lover's Lane and in the near future we expect to chronicle some of the antics of dame Cupid.

Circuit Court has adjourned and our city has resumed its usual equilibrium. However our merchants are doing a prosperous business.

Mrs. H. W. Dunham has eventually arrived at home, but your correspondent being young in years and somewhat modest and bashful, has not been granted the privilege of interviewing the lady appertaining the ordeal she passed through, but will later on.

We are on the eve of our municipal election and that is the all absorbing topic at the present time. It has prestige over the June election. It is up to us—wet or dry.

I see that some of our political parties are deficient in having men enough to fill all of the different offices and as they endorse an equal distribution to all, we see one who aspires to County Judge, also for Mayor of our city, and when we elect him to the two offices which will be the most acceptable to his royal highness.

The health of our city is good and if this continues the doctors will soon be seeking a job in the logging camps.

We have an evangelist in our city who is trying to direct us in the narrow road and tells us that cleanliness is next to Godliness. Therefore last Saturday evening the fire laddies turned out and washed the streets in all sections of our city, consequently we have on a holiday garb and now when you Bandonians come up please stop at the suburbs and clean your feet before entering the portals of our city.

There is a little stringency in ready money among the boys working in camps at the present time owing to the San Francisco disaster and will be until the banks resume payment; then we will all have fourth of July money.

J. W. Leneve's stock of goods will be on the next steamer that arrives from Portland. John was in the merchandise business for several years some time ago and his fair dealing and courteous treatment; then will secure him a liberal patronage now.

Wm. Ward has gone to his mines on the Sixes river to work and prospect them. Wm. is an old hand mark of Coos county but Father Time has dealt kindly with him and today there is not a young man in his prime of life that can follow him and make a good second.

There are several commercial men on the run interviewing our merchants but I suppose there are a great many of the boys that have been familiar figures in the past that we will see no more owing to the disaster that befell San Francisco. We regret their absence for the Knights of the Road were a jovial and genial class of boys. Others will take their places and new bonds of friendship will be formed to replace those that we have lost.

MAUD GARFIELD.

Another Pioneer Gone.

Monday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. T. Mars, John Gauntlett, aged 84 years, and one of the pioneers of the coast county, passed away to the Great Beyond. Mr. Gauntlett was a native of Hampshire, England. When a young man he held the position of Captain's Clerk in the British Navy. He served in the Crimean War on the flagship of Admiral Sir Charles Napier. Afterwards he engaged in business as general merchant at Balarat, Australia. He came to California at the commencement of the gold excitement. He came to Curry County in the earliest pioneer days, residing at Hoesburg, now Gold Beach, where he engaged in mining and stock-raising. He served as sheriff and county clerk of Curry county. He leaves five children, William Gauntlett, of Seattle, Alfred Gauntlett and Mrs. Jas. Conhill, of Gold Beach, Mrs. E. Mancette and Mrs. Ezer's Mars of this city.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon from the Episcopal church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. Horsfall. Interment at Bandon cemetery.

"MADE IN OREGON" EXPOSITION May 19-26, 1906.

Cash Prizes Offered School Children for Essays.

Bandon Scholars Should Capture Some of These Prizes.

For the purpose of extending the educational scope of the "Made in Oregon" exposition of the manufactures of the state to take place in Portland, the week of May 19 to 26, and, to impress upon the minds of the younger generation the practical benefits to be derived from patronage and encouragement of home industries and, further, to stimulate widespread interest in the resources of each county of this state, the executive committee offers to the school children of all grades of the state of Oregon thirty four prizes for the best essays upon the subjects indicated to be submitted on or before May 22, 1906.

Ten dollars will be paid for the best essay from a boy or girl attending any school in the state, under the title: "Benefits Derived from Patronizing Home Industries." Essay not to exceed six hundred words. Should dwell upon what is made in Oregon; who derives the benefits from home industries, also, how and why; and the advantages to a community from manufactures. Essays must be original.

Five dollars will be paid for the best essay from a boy or girl attending any school in the state for the best essay under the title: "Commodities of Oregon." Should enumerate the variety of commodities that can be made from any one thing now being produced in Oregon and utilized in manufacturing processes; should relate any authoritatively-known new processes of manufacture in any locality of Oregon; tell briefly what commodities are most profitable and best known, and why, and also why this is a good country in which to start the manufacturing of new products or commodities. Limit, five hundred words.

Third and fourth prizes—$2.50 each. Fifth to tenth prizes, inclusive—handsome silver watch. Tenth to Fifteenth prizes—one dollar each, cash.

The list of prizes will be distributed in the order indicated for the best essay from each county entitled: "Manufacturing Facilities of our County."

The two essays in this class which are adjudged best from every standpoint will be awarded each $2.50 cash. For the five next best essays setting forth the manufacturing, agricultural or other industries of that county there will be presented a good silver watch, with the prize winner's name engraved thereon. The thirty-one next best essays from different counties will be awarded each one dollar cash.

This distribution is made for the purpose of inducing every county in the state to enter into a friendly rivalry for the honors. School teachers and parents alike should take a keen interest in this contest. Essays should mention facilities for manufacturing which the county possesses. Manufacturing need not necessarily be going on at the present but the prospects may be enumerated, explaining reasons for expectations of later growth. Should mention if there is water power in the county; where located; whether it is sufficient to use in manufacturing; probable amount of horse power (if known); whether easily accessible from town or rail road and any and all other features pertaining that would be likely to interest a manufacturer desiring to find a location. Describe what is produced in the county of practical use, what the products can be made into, etc. It may be an agricultural product, or of the range, forest, stream, mine or sea, but it must be within your own county. Give the most important products; the quantity, the chances for increase; what opportunities there may be for producing other articles and the most practical use to which the products can be put to be of the greatest benefit to the state of Oregon.

These subjects invite school children to display what general knowledge they possess concerning their own section that is of practical value.

The prize-winners essays will be published, together with the names—and the pictures, if sent to the secretary's office—of the successful contestants.

There will be an absolutely impartial judgment of the merits of each essay submitted to the committee and, while the time is short, it is hoped to have a hearty response. The committee's work will be expedited and the awards made more promptly if these rules are followed:

Write on but one side of the paper. Write on your essay, very plainly the name of the county.

Contestant should write his or her name on a slip of paper inclosing in blank sealed envelope attached to the essay. Don't write your name on the essay paper. This insures impartiality in judging the articles.

Address all articles to D. C. Freeman, secretary "Made in Oregon" committee, 215 Oregonian building, Portland, and mark in lower left-hand corner, "Essay contest."

By order of the EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

MARINE

ARRIVED.

6.—Stmr Chico, from San Francisco.

6.—Stm Elizabeth for S. F. with 250 M lumber, 20 tons misc.

7.—Stmr Chico for S. F. with 230 M lumber.

8.—Sch. Hugh Hogan for S. F. with 500 M lumber.

E. E. L. Reddick, C. Timmons and W. S. McFinnch were passengers to San Francisco on the stm. Elizabeth.

Mrs. E. Martin, wife of Capt. Martin of the Chico, and son, are stopping in Bandon at present, having come from S. F. on the last trip of the Chico.

Another sailor who was in the melee Saturday night was brought before Recorder Morse yesterday and taxed $25.

P. Whitcomb and wife passed through town yesterday from Wedderburn enroute to San Francisco.

V. A. Nemyo of Portland arrived yesterday to accept a position at the woolen mill.

E. J. Larsen was down from Coquille yesterday. He reports that work on his new shingle mill is progressing nicely.

C. S. McCulloch will be an independent candidate for surveyor.

Married.—In Coquille, Oregon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Little May 7, 1906, Clyde Barker and Miss Ofal Weekly, Justice J. H. Cecil officiating. William Wiggatus of Santa Rosa, Cal, who was in the Western Hotel at the time of the earthquake, arrived in town Friday and proceeded to Bandon the same day. He was a loser in the disaster and came near being crushed when the building above mentioned collapsed. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Young and son, E. J. Young and family passed through this city Thursday on their way from Newport to Bandon, where they will make their home in the future. Another son, J. E. Young, is now a resident of Bandon, being one of the operatives of the shingle mill at that place who they will join, recently had the misfortune to lose his wife by death and was left with twin babies to care for. These were in charge of the McDames Young as they passed through. —Herald.

By Associated Press.

In response to the many inquiries coming from all parts of the county to the Sacramento Valley Development Association, as to the extent of the injury from the recent earthquake the officers of the Association make the following statement:

Two important facts should be made known to the world. First, the earthquake was accompanied by serious results in no part of the State except on the peninsula, on which San Francisco is situated, and south to San Jose and a few points near the Bay. Berkeley, for example, and many points around the Bay, entirely escaped injury and so also did the great valley regions of the Sacramento and San Joaquin and other parts of Northern California and all of Southern California. Of the one hundred and fifty-seven thousand square miles in the State the injury to person or property occurred on less than the small area of one hundred square miles.

Second, the appalling loss of property in San Francisco is caused by fire and not by the earthquake.
