

Port Orford.
 Born—at Marshfield, May 3rd, to the wife of Capt. Esq. Langworthy, a daughter.
 Misses Mary Haagenen and Mabel Jensen came down Sunday to cheer up the Dairyville base ballers, but they could not "holter" in such a wind, and only fluttering ribbons told where the ladies were.
 During the N. W. gale last week thousands of large flocks of small snipes passed northward through Port Orford, and the "kids" were busy picking up hundreds that were stunned and killed by the telephone wires.
 There are but few men in this section of Oregon opposed to Woman Suffrage. But it is going to win in the state, and when these men realize that they will be politically stranded in a hopeless minority, and can yet save themselves in the "eleventh hour," they will vote for equal rights as their sense tells them they ought to vote.
 John Haagenen, Geo. and Court Guerin, and L. and B. Rackliff, came down to Port Orford Sunday to play the Port Orford baseball team. But the day was so stormy, that after playing three innings, in which the score stood 4 to 3 in favor of Port Orford, the game had to be suspended. On Sunday, the 27th, the Port Orford team will go to Dairyville, where no doubt, an exciting game will be played, with both teams confident of victory.—Tribune.

To the Editor.
 An anonymous writer in your columns, says that women do not want to vote. A letter from the Colorado Secretary of State says that in Colorado about 72 per cent of the women vote. A letter from the Wyoming Secretary of State says that 90 per cent of the women of Wyoming vote. In Idaho, women form less than half the population, yet it is estimated that they nearly half of the total vote. In Australia, there are about 850,000 women on the register of voters, and the number is growing. In New Zealand, when the ballot was given to women, out of the 139,915 women in the colony, 109,461 registered, and of those registered, 83 per cent voted. In all these places the opponents of equal suffrage had declared beforehand that women did not want to vote.
 I believe the women of Oregon are no less patriotic than those of Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, New Zealand, Australia, or any other part of the world. Let the men of Oregon vote on June 4 to give their mothers, wives and sisters equal freedom, and we will show ourselves as worthy of it as the women of any other State.
 MRS. RALPH WALDO COE,
 President Oregon Equal Suffrage Association.

COQUILLE NEWS NOTES

Leander, Our Correspondent Tells of the Week's Incidents at the Hub.

Jupiter Pluvius still continues to drench us with copious showers and it has ceased to be a blessing for it is working a hardship with the logging camps which is one of our principal industries. There is no tide water in the river and the mills dependent on the camps down the river confront a grave problem, but the old adage, the sweet summer days will come by and by. However the grass is growing abundantly and the creameries are taxed to their full capacity.
 The commercial boys of S. F. are commencing to visit us again, and we are glad to greet their familiar countenances once more in lieu of those Portland guys. Some time ago Portland papers were full of editorials relative to securing a portion of the Alaska trade. If she cannot do better than she has down here she had better confine herself to a few inland towns that she owns soul and body. Think of it! S. F. straggling in the throes of disaster can undersell them 20 per cent. Oh no, Portland, you rob us politically but you cannot commercially. We have as good an outlet to the high seaway as you have. The only regret we have is that we are annexed to you politically.
 The building for the shingle mill is nearing completion thus adding another industry to our list.
 Saturday morning your correspondent was up with the lark in the small wee hours of the morning when our city was hushed in stillness. I observed some suspicious looking and shabbily dressed persons congregated in front of the post office. My first impulse was that they were planning some evil design. Secondly that it was the first invasion of tramps preceding the Coos Bay and Drain railroad, and later that it might be a band of emigrants that just arrived in response to the emigrant Bureau advertisement. But after careful deliberation concluded that it was a band of refugees from San Francisco, and I hastened to their relief, and lo and behold, it was Lou Hazard, Myren Hersey, J. J. Stanley, Fat Lorenze and Mrs. Lawrence, awaiting the arrival of the stage from Myrtle Point which was to convey them to Roseburg. Their mission was delegates to the Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F. to convene at Portland. In due course of time the mud schooner arrived and all secured passage. But with Fat Lorenz's heavy avoidon on the starboard side and Lou Hazard's light troy and mint weight on the port side there was a heavy list to starboard and grave fears were entertained for their safety, thinking that perhaps when they encountered the rough billows of the C. B. & Wagon road there would be a disaster to chronicle but later it is learned they reached their destination safely.
 Sunday morning the post master informed me there was a letter for me consequently I put in an appearance and on receiving it was suddenly shocked. A nice white envelope written by some fair feminine hand. Thinking that some fair damsel had become infatuated with me and was going to try to alienate my affections from Lu Lu. Visions of endearing words was floating before my eyes, when I proceeded to open it. It contained some equal suffrage papers with some extracts from some ben-pocked men and a few quotations from the Bible, but evidently omitted some of the most important ones, viz: "wives, be obedient and submissive to your husbands—the man is the lord and master of the household." Are they going to repudiate this divine doctrine; already they are conceded equal rights and more. Has she not the exclusive right to govern her household. All regulated business must be segregated; each has their respective duties to perform and in all well regulated families the husband's duties cease at the threshold of the door. How many women want him dictating how she should boil the eggs or cook the meat. How many of our good mothers and wives would want to embark into the political arena of today? Why a man must have the wisdom of Solomon and the courage of David to vote intelligently at the present time. Do you wish to enumber our mothers and wives with additional and perplexing duties. Already Mother Duniway in a recent issue of the Oregonian is assuming a threatening attitude saying that any one opposing the amendment would be relegated to political oblivion, so you can see already the lash of coercion is being wielded. Already we can realize the folly of these fanatic illusions falling in with a great political party and burying it in ruins and destruction, more so than the earthquake did San Francisco. San Francisco will recover but I doubt if the democratic party will ever regain her prestige here again. She is a derelict at sea, drifting with prohibition and church planks to buoy her up, when one of the first fundamental principles is a separation of state and church embodied in Jefferson democracy. I do not wish to cause the displeasure of any of Mother Eve's daughters but I have conversed with a great many and the universal answer is, "we have all we can attend to and do not invite additional duties upon us for we certainly would not avail ourselves of the privilege."

FROM BUSY PROSPER

All the News of a Week's Happenings Told in a Brief Manner.

A number of the students in the Prosper school tried the eighth grade examinations, which were held last Thursday and Friday and those who had not previously passed in all the branches took up only the subjects which required more study. According to the revised law, in conducting the district school examinations, many new requirements are necessary to prevent any unfairness. It is needless to state that Prof. L. R. Edmunds has a well disciplined school, and the examinations were conducted in a satisfactory manner. During the two day's session not a move was made among the applicants, to indicate a desire to secure answers to the questions unjustly, and Mr. E., without hesitation, willingly certified to their honesty and integrity.
 L. T. Smith, our prosperous suburban farmer was a Coquille City visitor last Wednesday.
 Mrs. J. Kronenberg, of Parkersburg, was at this place and New Aberdeen, calling on friends, last Wednesday.
 Mr. and Mrs. F. Gribbi, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Mayer as far as Bandon, last Wednesday, where they took the steamer Elizabeth for San Francisco, enroute to their Eastern destination.
 Mrs. J. Mattson, of this place has been visiting at the Bay for the past week. She attended her son's wedding which was solemnized on the 12th.
 C. E. Houser and F. Mosher, legges from above Myrtle Point, were business transactors here last week. The former's daughter is a recent arrival from San Francisco and was a witness to the adversity in San Francisco.
 J. A. Webb, of Johnson's Mill, was here last week, soliciting customers for the numerous little aluminum articles he had for sale.
 J. Wasson, was over from Marshfield on a business mission, last Friday, having a timber deal in view, an object of his visit here.
 Several members of the shipyard force went to Marshfield last Saturday to attend the wedding of J. Hill and Miss Strang, at North Bend. Mr. Hill has been a habitant of Prosper for the past few months, and we all join in extending our congratulations to these estimable young people and hope they may become permanent dwellers here.
 Mr. and Mrs. A. Machado, who have been employed at the Aberdeen boarding-house, have discontinued their services there and have gone to Myrtle Point to care for the children of J. Machado, who were left motherless by the sudden death of Mrs. Machado, at that place a few days ago.
 Mrs. R. W. Bullard, of Bullards, visited A. F. Hansen's family at Marshfield the first of the week.
 Mrs. N. A. Kendall who for several years, lived near Bullard's and the last four or five years a resident of Myrtle Point, has again entered her former neighborhood, and now holds the position as proprietress at the Aberdeen boarding house.
 Edna Mattson, took the Dispatch Saturday morning for Marshfield, returning Monday evening after a short visit at that place.
 Alex Sandstrom, of this place, who has been for some time expecting his wife from Sweden, received a message from her last Saturday stating she would be in Portland Sunday. He departed Sunday for Myrtle Point, where he is going to meet her, expecting to secure passage to Roseburg.
 Miss Mary Chase, lecturer on women suffrage, will address the people of Prosper Friday night, 25th in the Prosper hall.
 Mrs. J. Conrad, of this place made Bandon a business call last Saturday.
 W. C. Levin was here last week, canvassing for the late publication of the San Francisco disaster.
 Mrs. N. A. Pederson was on the sick list for a few days last week.
 Mr. Knight, of Knight, Bros. Camp, near Myrtle Point was here transacting business with the Prosper Mill Co., the first of the week.
 D. Carey, an river logger made this place a business call Tuesday.
 W. Howell is getting out the masts for the new vessel.
 Chester Mecum, the 10 year old son of E. Mecum had quite an experience last week within a mile of South Slough. Traveling alone, he lost his bearings and was compelled to remain in the woods all night. In the pouring rain with a log as an only shelter he passed the night alone and unguarded. He was but a short distance from habitation and the shouts of the searchers he distinctly heard but presuming he was far out into the woods the little fellow, believing the cries to be those of a panther, refrained from answering. Cattle were grazing near his place of encampment, but being unfamiliar with his surroundings, his anxiety was not lessened until the appearance of a little dog, which aided him, in directing his course toward the place he had designed to reach.

FREIGHT from SAN FRANCISCO

Lampa.

School commenced today after eight days' vacation.
 Lecture tonight on woman suffrage by Miss Chase.
 Al Sweet, who cut his knee some time ago, is able to be at work again.
 The Cody Lumber Co. has shut down, having burst a cylinder in the locomotive, and men can be seen going in all directions with their blankets.
 Welch Bros. lost a valuable mare the other day. While driving to the landing she took suddenly sick and in five minutes was dead.
 Chas. Hazelton has moved in the hall and is keeping boarders for the mines.
 The mines are running now with a crew of five men. Mr. Timon is getting out about eight tons of good coal daily. He will soon have the bunker full and ready to ship. This is the finest grade of coal on the coast and it will only be a short time until you will see steamers loading coal here for the San Francisco market and before many months it will be "watch Lampa grow."
 Wm. Sweet, who has been clerking for R. S. Knowlton, has come home to help put in the spring crop.
 Miss Thresa Hanly, who has been suffering with poison oak for some time is much better. Reporter.

Langlois.

Among the arrivals during the past week are Mrs. Fred Belloni and Mrs. Jos. Nye, who intend to stop a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Cope. It is pleasant to see the young people come back to the old home and to father and mother, if only for a few days.
 We learn that Dr. Green is quite sick. He has been ailing for several weeks. His son George is now caring for him.
 Dr. Steele is again in town. He is making an extra date here now, having been unable, at his last regular visit, to finish all his work. According to present indications we'll soon be a toothless community.
 Miss Garfield came down from Bandon Wednesday with a stock of hats. The ladies seem ready to give her a welcome.
 The public mind has been considerably agitated during the past two weeks on certain school questions. An extra school meeting has been called by officers in charge, who hoped to adjust all differences by a popular vote.
 We learn that Wm. Smith is busily employed in the mill on the home ranch. That is why we haven't seen his smiling countenance on the street lately. Work is good for him.

BANDON
The Growing Town of Coos County
The Manufacturing Town.
The Coming Summer Resort of the Oregon Coast.

Bandon is growing faster than any town in Oregon.
 Its advancement is real, not on paper.
 Manufacturing plants all running and several more big industries coming.
 Shipped more lumber since Jan. 1st than any port in Oregon except the Columbia.
 The Coquille valley is the garden spot of the Coast country and we have the timber and coal industries
 Fine openings for workers and hustlers, but grafters and hot-air artists are not wanted.
