VALEDICTORY.

With the last issue of the RECORDER my connection therewith, as publisher and proprietor, ceased, and the paper today appears under a new management. This step was taken after due consideration, but not without some regret, for our business dealings with the people of Bandon and vicinity the past year, have been, we believe, mutually satisfactory. We have worked hard to place the RECORDER on a solid basis and have always endeavored to say a good word for the community when the opportunity offered. It is no little satisfaction to note the advancement made by the town the past year and the prospect for the future—for Bandon has a future. No town in Southern Oregon has more brilliant prospects for becoming a bustling little city. Bandon is becoming known as a place where the people do things and the united effort of our enterprising citizens is all that is needed to make a city.

The paper has been sold to Geo. P. Laird, who has secured the services of Steve W. Scotton as editor. Mr. Scotton is a thorough and very able newspaper man and we predict that the RECORDER will be greatly improved and its field of usefulness enlarged under his management.

A newspaper can be of inestimable value in building up a community and that value is usually gauged by the support given it. The people have been very liberal with the paper the past year and we hope they will do even better the coming year. Healthy looking newspapers are found only in live communities.

We wish to thank the people of this vicinity for the support and encouragement given the paper during our management. We hope our work has not all been in vain and that the community has reaped some benefit. While we may leave the town for the present we will at least "keep our eye on Bandon," for we have faith in its future and hope to see it the leading town of Coos county. A. T. FETTER.

For Sale—Second hand wood cook stove for sale cheap.
P. C. Stephenson.

Miss Esther Yaeger has resigned her position as telephone operator at Coquille and is visiting Bandon relatives at present.

Frank Holman has sold his interest in the fish seine to A. Erickson and has moved back to town. They report having caught about four thousand fish last week.

Ed. Tuttle was severely scalded about the face one day last week. He was heating some water in a can on the stove when the lid blew off and the boiling water was dashed in his face.

FOR RENT—Queen Anne cottage, just completed, with three acres of ground all fenced in. Fine spring water. Apply to Rasmussen Bros.

Mrs. E. Dyer will spend the winter at McMinnville where Miss Ethel is attending school.

SAME OLD STORY.

A correspondent of the Evening Telegram, writing from Drain, regarding the building of the Drain-Coos Bay railroad, says:

"But it is a common complaint of the resident and of the producer of the Coos country that the freight rates are too high for the San Francisco market to make it profitable to raise anything more than for immediate consumption. The coming of the railroad then is like the advent of some magic thing which will rouse the commerce of this district and change the courses of the giant trade from California to Portland."

Rats! The producer of the Coos country has good water transportation and reasonable rates—much better rates than a railroad could afford to give him, and away ahead of anything he can expect from the S. P. The producer of this Coos country has been experiencing a little of the advantage of the "magic thing" since the Southern Pacific bought out the Spreckels. Freight rates between the Coquille and Coos bay, over a route where water transportation can't compete, have in most instances, been doubled, and Coquille farmers complain that in consequence they are prevented from shipping certain surplus products to the bay for shipment to the California market. Products within reach of shipping on Coos bay are not suffering for want of transportation, and a dozen railroads would not "change the course of the giant trade from California to Portland" for various reasons, which have been stated here before on several occasions in these columns. The products of the Coos bay country, with the exception of a portion of the lumber trade for eastern points, will be shipped by water hereafter as heretofore. And the producer of the Coos country, in view of the little experience he has already had, should fervently thank the good Lord that he has a waterway to ship by, and that he is not a resident of an inland community where a railroad could hold him up by his boots and shake the last cent out of his jeans.—Coos Bay News.

The recent failure of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, Chicago, which has been followed by such a train of disasters, has brought out prominently the necessity of better security against fraud in these institutions. When a bank is wrecked by dishonest officials, the poorer classes usually are injured the most. This works a direct injury of the meaneast and most contemptible kind. A man who is capable of managing a large banking institution usually commands the respect and confidence of the community. The poorer classes trust their little savings in the keeping of such a man with the belief that they are perfectly safe. When these rascals loot the bank the provident poor lose all faith in banks and commence to hoard their little savings at home. In this way money is withdrawn from circulation and the whole country suffers in consequence. There is a movement now to secure better banking laws for the state. Leaders in both political parties have committed themselves in favor of banking reforms so that it is confidently expected that better security for depositors is a near probability.—Roseburg Spokesman.

The summary of the Curry county assessment roll shows the total value of all taxable property on the roll $2,036,778. The principal item is the assessment of 235,539 acres of non-tillable land, valued at $1,360,339, while the acreage of tillable land is given as 3628, and the value $119,650.

If there is no way for a bank examiner to detect a crooked bank, what is the use of bank examiners? The straight bank does not need any. Bandmaster Sousa fears that the graphophones and pianolas will ruin the taste of the people for real music. There are no accompanying gesticulations.

Taft Declares Himself Governor of Cuba till Order is Restored.

HAVANA, Sept. 29.—An American provisional government assumed possession of Cuba today, when War Secretary Taft's proclamation declaring himself Provisional Governor of the island was formally issued. The proclamation was published in the official gazette, and thousands of printed copies of the document were distributed in Havana and elsewhere.

The terms of the proclamation caused general satisfaction, especially on account of the moderate terms in which it is phrased and its statement that the provisional government of Cuba is undertaken on account of the necessities of the situation and its promise that the provisional government will be maintained purely for the purpose of restoring peace, order and public confidence until a permanent government is established. None appears inclined to doubt the good intentions of President Roosevelt and his representatives, and there is no apprehension of any serious trouble or resistance to the provisional government in any part of Cuba.

General Funston will command all the troops in Cuba but if they exceed the dimensions of a brigade an officer of higher rank will be sent from the United States. It is practically certain, however, that no such contingency will arise, as it is apparent that the maintenance of the provisional government will not require a large number of troops.

A commission headed by General Funston will be appointed today to superintend the actual laying down of arms on the part of the rebels. This commission will visit all the rebel camps throughout the island and will be composed of Americans only, in order to avoid creating any bad feeling or complications. The commission will also disarm the volunteer forces of the government, leaving the Cuban forces as they existed prior to the rebellion. The commission will be accompanied by a disbursing officer, who will pay the expenses of the return home of the rebels, and thus avoid any dissatisfaction.

Governor Chamberlain was so well pleased with his visit to Coos county last year that he is coming again. He and Senator Gearin had both planned to visit us about the middle of October, and neither was aware of the other's arrangements. They will now probably come together. Congressman elect Hawley may also be in the county about that time to make a further study of the Coquille and Coos Bay.—North Bend Harbor.
