Riverton Co. Engages Tug.

M. R. Lee, one of the Riverton Lumber Co., was in Bandon Friday evening, and dropped the inference that his concern had bargained for the services of a tug to tow their barges of lumber between Coquille bar and San Francisco.

From what we can glean, the tug secured is the old towboat Traveler, which has done excellent service for years in the harbors farther north, and which is still a good staunch craft. Whether she has been purchased or leased, and when she will begin her duties, are matters that we cannot speak advisedly on at this time.

Lumber is a top-notch commodity these days, as all know, and the mills everywhere are eager to market their product as expeditiously and fully as possible. The Riverton Co. has of late weeks been employing the barge Chinook as a servicable transport, and had the services of the steam schooner Coquille River in towing the craft to and fro, but it is believed that the securing of a regular towboat was deemed more practicable and economical for the purpose in hand.

Sheriff and Mrs. W. W. Gage spent the latter days of last week in Bandon and vicinity. Mr. Gage was here to close up the affairs of his fishing business for the season, his seine having been handled by the Erickson Bros., who made one big haul of 1600 salmon last month.

John Felter is able to appear on the streets and receive the congratulations of his numerous friends after a long and hard tussle with paralysis. The old gentleman was stricken down several months ago, and grave fears were entertained for his recovery.

Don't forget that Dr. Steele, dentist, is located in Bandon.

Ladies' Rain Coats in large assortment at Lorenz & Hoyt.

Miss Anna Logan returned from a visit at Coquille Tuesday evening.

Dress goods and goods in general for the ladies at Lorenz & Hoyt's.

Col. Blumenrother passed a few days at his place down the coast since our last.

J. P. Topper, the mine host of Coquille, was down to Bandon the first of the week.

The Bandon Hardware Co. carry the Powell Globe Valve in stock, and asks the public to call and see it.

W. K. Haines, the widely known piano man of Marshfield, paid us another of his periodical visits last Friday.

Mrs. Dr. Steele came home from the upper Coos river Saturday, where she has been living on her husband's homestead.

A new bakery and short order restaurant has been opened on the east side of Main street by a Mr. Hinds of North Bend.

Everyone should go and see the superb line of Heating Stoves and Ranges which the Bandon Hardware Co. has now on display.

Dr. Will Tatom, the dentist, was in town last evening, returning to Coquille from Gold Beach. He will be in Bandon professionally Nov. 16th.

A. A. and V. A. Dimmick, the young realty agents of Marshfield, were again looking over property chances in the coming city since last issue.

Mrs. Hattie Bruce came down from Coquille Friday on an invalid's chair to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Felter in this place. Mrs. Bruce is the daughter of H. W. Dunham and wife, and for many months has been helplessly ill. It is gratifying to know that she at last shows evidences of complete recovery.

Fresh bread at Button's store.

Cash paid for sacks at Bandon Commercial Co. warehouse.

Mrs. Peter Nelson is reported very ill at her home in East Bandon.

Dr. Tatom, the dentist, will be in Bandon Nov. 16th and stay a week.

R. K. Booth, a trusted employee of the Dean Lumber Co. on the bay, took a look at the coming city Saturday night.

Sam Nosler, one of the proprietors of the Coquille Steam Laundry, was down to this place Sunday in the interests of his business.

Every lady in town is invited to our store to see the elegant new line of Ladies' Rain Coats we have just received. Lorenz & Hoyt.

Another passenger coach is now in use by the Coos Bay Railroad, making two coaches exactly drawn by the "limited" trains of this railway. A notable stride in advancement!

Judge and Mrs. D. P. Strang, Jr., and son will go to San Francisco where Mrs. Strang and son expect to spend the winter with relatives. Mr. Strang himself will return in a short time.

The present storm is the severest of the winter so far. Tuesday afternoon and night the wind blew terrifically from the southeast, and waves mountain high were to be seen from the bluffs along the coast.

F. H. Strain, a farmer of the Dairyville section, was in town last Sunday accompanied by his daughter, Miss Stella. The two intended going to California for a visit, but decided to put it off, and returned home Monday.

The schooners T. C. Hill and Ruby were both towed into the river Monday, having arrived on their return from San Francisco. The Ruby brought gasoline to relieve the prevailing famine, and some hay for C. B. Zeek.

A quartet of popular Coquillians, composed of Charles and Ted Baxter, Wm. H. Mansell and E. C. Barker, spent the noon hour between boats in Bandon yesterday. Steve Gallier delivered the valedictory address on their departure.

The Bandon Real Estate Co. has moved its offices from the telephone building to the rooms lately vacated by Dr. Steele in the upper story of the Denholm building. Dr. Steele is now in the old Brener structure opposite Hotel Gallier.

Arthur Rice believes that as Coquillians find a great deal to attract them to Bandon these days, it is no more than "fair" and "natural" that a Bandonian should find something to attract him to Coquille now and then. Arthur always was a believer in reciprocity.

Word comes from San Francisco that A. C. Bliely, former purser of the steamer Elizabeth, has resigned his position as chief clerk on Stuart street wharf, and will enter business of some kind for himself. Many old friends here feel an interest in the movements and success of Mr. Bliely.

County Clerk James Watson, Attorney A. J. Sherwood, Editor Orvil Dodge, Mayor J. J. Stanley and Uncle John Kronenberg were among the prominent Coquillians who attended the funeral of Pioneer Edward Faby in Bandon Friday. There was a special excursion from the county seat.

Colonel Coach reached Bandon Saturday evening, having just returned from his trip to Chicago and Michigan. The arrival of the colonel, we understand, gives impetus to the beginning of construction work on the new Cody mill at this place. We may expect to see pile-driving start at the donated site any day.

The evening of Nov. 19th is the date set for instituting the new union of the Order of Washington in Bandon. P. J. S. McMananna, special supervising deputy of the order, requests us to say that, as the charter closes then, the rates will thereafter be higher. The Order of Washington is an insurance as well as a fraternal organization.

Misses Claire Walker and Ethel Timmons attended the opera over at Marshfield Tuesday evening.

Clarence Boice, of the life saving station, returned home from his visit to San Francisco last evening.

J. L. Kronenberg returned home from a trip to Portland Monday. He came down on the Alliance, and reports a very rough trip.

Lorenz & Hoyt are properly to be called the Gentlemen's Outfitters of Bandon. Everything needed by man in the toggery line is to be found at our store.

R. E. Buck and wife moved down from Coquille Monday afternoon. As before stated in these columns, Mr. Buck has purchased a home place in the coming city.

H. A. Monday and wife are at Marshfield where they may decide to locate. Mrs. Monday's father, B. S. Hoover, is conducting the meat market personally.

A gentleman by the name of Axtell is to assume charge and open to the public the dining room of the Pacific House, we are told. Mrs. Costello will continue to handle the lodgings in the building.

J. A. Ney, the well known horseman of Port Orford, was in Bandon last Friday to attend the funeral of his pioneer friend, the late Edward Faby, Sr. From appearances time is dealing gently with Mr. Ney.

One week from Saturday evening occurs the twelfth annual ball of Delphi Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and from indications it is going to be an event to be remembered. Preparations by the Knights are actively under way.

Archie Kruse arrived from Marshfield a few days ago to represent the Cody Company's interests at the Aberdeen mill. Mr. Kruse is a young gentleman thoroughly versed in lumbering, we are told, and seems popular with all whom he meets.

The friends and relatives of the late Mrs. E. M. Blacklock ask the Recorder to extend a vote of thanks to her neighbors and the ladies of the Presbyterian Church for the many kindnesses they exhibited during the good woman's last illness and death.

Invitations were issued the first of the week for a free entertainment to be given by the Women of Woodcraft at Masonic hall on this Thursday evening. The affair will be in the form of a polysepe and stereopticon entertainment provided by the Grand Circle of Woodcraft.

The steamer Elizabeth is still at her dock in Bandon, unable to sail because of the continued storm and very rough weather. The sea has been much more turbulent than the bar in recent days, and mariners generally are satisfied to enjoy the shelter of port. The Oregon, Newman and barge Chinook are all ready for sailing when the weather moderates.

Walter Nelson opened his new saloon in the Anderson building last Saturday evening, the City Board having met the night previous in special session and granted a liquor license to Mr. Nelson. The opening of the place was attended by a free feed to which all were invited. The proprietor has a nicely fitted up resort, and declares it his purpose to conduct it in a quiet and orderly manner. An ad. of the new "Idle hour" is inserted in our columns today.

L. S. Dennick has resigned as one of the life-saving crew at Bandon to engage in other occupations in California. Mr. Dennick's resignation and departure from among us is deeply regretted by a large circle of friends. As one of the life-savers he has a reputation for bravery and devotion to duty, and as a member of local society he was popular in an eminent degree. The young gentleman has the best wishes of a host of friends for future success and happiness.

Proprietor Takes a Bride.

It is the pleasant duty of the editor to chronicle the marriage Monday evening last of Mr. Geo. P. Laird and Miss Grace G. Garfield. The ceremony was a pretty but quiet one, being performed at the residence of the bride's grandmother by Rev. George H. Roach of the Presbyterian Church, in the presence of only relatives and a few immediate friends.

The parlors of the Dyer home were exquisitely decorated for the occasion, and the bride looked charming in a beautiful gown of white with the attendant veil and bouquet. As for the groom, if he didn't look handsome he wore the expression of happiness—justified happiness, too, for in the solitude of the editorial retreat we are going to say that we believe he has captured one of the loveliest and most amiable of Bandon's daughters. Such is our earnest opinion, and we will not procrastinate to ascertain his. The bride was escorted to the parlor by her grandmother, Mrs. F. E. Dyer, and a captivating scene of the evening was the ring-bearing ceremony performed by little Carol Garfield, niece of the bride.

Upon the conclusion of the solemn service that merged as one two well known and popular young people, all were bidden to the spacious dining room where a sumptuous spread was in waiting. Shortly thereafter sweet strains of music were heard from without, denoting that the Bandon Concert Band had appeared to lend zest to the occasion. Pleasurably and fittingly the musicians were invited to the festive board, and did full justice to the supper while congratulations were lavished upon the new-made pair and some indulged in facetious speech-making.

Mr. and Mrs. Laird, who have taken up their abode in the Elbert Dyer dwelling in eastern Bandon, were the recipients of many useful and beautiful presents from relatives and friends. Mrs. Laird is the youngest daughter of Mrs. F. E. Garfield, and has grown to early womanhood in this favored community. Mr. Laird, as above stated, is the present proprietor of The Recorder, and he has grown up within the confines of Coos county. The editor has had small chance to see him since the "fatal" day, and as atonement for the shifting of his fire-building efforts from office to residence we have triumphantly laid claim to the stock of bachelor buttons left carelessly in our sanctum.

The editor has had small chance to see him since the "fatal" day, and as atonement for the shifting of his fire-building efforts from office to residence we have triumphantly laid claim to the stock of bachelor buttons left carelessly in our sanctum.

The funeral of the late Edward Faby, Sr., who passed from earth on Oct. 31st., was held last Friday noon in this city, and, despite the descending rain, was very largely attended, attesting substantially the high personal worth of deceased and the great number of friends he had gathered about him during his half century's residence in the county. The morning boat brought a good delegation of pioneers and others from up river points, and the country generally was liberally represented. At the Catholic Church short but impressive services were held, Rev. Father Donnelly officiating, and the remains of the good man were given over tenderly to the waiting grave at the cemetery.

Miss Irene Lamb of Coquille, graduate in music of Columbia College, Milton, Oregon, is prepared to give lessons on piano and mandolin in Bandon, Friday and Saturday of each week. Terms 50 cents an hour. Inquire of Mrs. Chas. Kime.
