Port Orford.
 Miss Mary Marsh returned home Monday from Parkersburg, in consequence of the illness of her grandmother, Mrs. Marsh.

Mr. Peck who owns the Hautz ranch on Sixes has been forced by failing health to go east and live with his relatives.
 Jasper Jennings, who was sentenced to be hung last spring in Grants Pass for murdering his father, has been granted a new trial by the Supreme Court.

Al Marsh has the contract to deliver fifty thousand feet of lumber in thirty days from Adolphsen's mill to Cape Blanco for the wireless telegraph station, which will be completed at an early date.

Marion Zumwalt left for Bandon the first of the week to visit relatives and secure employment if he can find work that suits him.

Hans Adolphsen, who has been working in a sawmill on the Coquille, returned home Monday and will assist in his father's mill.

While working in a sawmill at Prosper, Henry Adolphsen had the misfortune to get his foot seriously cut on a saw. His father went up after him and brought him home. The wound is a severe one, but not dangerous under proper treatment.

Mr. Peterson, Supt. of the Elk river mine got back to Port Orford from Seattle Wednesday night, having gone up just in time to see the big freshets, and be delayed in returning here. He states that the papers have exaggerated the losses, although very large. He will start up the mine at once.

The Adolphsen mill was started up Monday to saw the lumber for the Wireless Station at Cape Blanco. Mr. Conannon, the contractor, is here securing teams to haul freight from Port Orford and doing all he can to hasten construction, but is having some trouble in securing teams, and will have to pay much more than he anticipated.

Johnny and Robert Fromm, who have been working with the S. P. Railroad survey down the coast to Eureka, returned home just in time to take in the Thanksgiving at Port Orford. They report that the survey is completed and that the entire outfit have been ordered to Mexico, where the Fromm boys will join them at once, in surveying in that country.

It is said that Capt. D. F. Tozier, inspector of the L. S. service, will, upon retirement, locate at North Bend, Oregon. The Captain is a "jolly old salt," and loves the smell of the sea and the taste of a shell-fish and has wisely chosen a habitation where congenial spirits abound and ennui is unknown. The captain is said to have a collection of Indian Curios for which he has refused an offer of $100,000.

Word reached this place Saturday that Chas. LaMott who left here last Wednesday for Crescent City, Cal., met with a serious encounter with Colegrove's hounds. Mr. LaMott, not being able to secure a horse, started out on foot, leaving here in company with Al Lawrence, and stayed at Pistol river that night. Next morning he continued his journey, and all went well until he reached Scott's range, where he met Delmar Colegrove's pack of hounds, which attacked him. Not having anything to defend himself with, the savage brutes took him down, and dragged him at least thirty yards off the road, inflicting several serious wounds before Delmar, who was a short distance away, could reach the scene and club the blood thirsty animals away - Tribune.

Notes from Four Mile.

Mr. Rasmussen came over from North Bend last week to take charge of his Four-mile place.

Mr. Shaw has returned from a visit to Marshfield.

Four-mile turned out to the Thanks giving dance and shooting match, although they went there prepared to come home without any turkeys. But they brought home the biggest half, and had a big time. Harrah for Four-mile!

Clarence Foster and wife and Cecil Cox and wife went to Coquille last week to stay for a while.

Well, Jim Adams returned, and alone. We never thought it, Jim.

The new mill is cutting lumber at a lively rate, nowadays. HUNKEY.

Urges $40,000 for Coquille.

California is Incensed.

Popular sentiment in California, which has been smoldering quietly during the discussion of the Japanese question, has been fanned into flame by the heated declaration in the President's message. Resentment is general. The impression prevails in both high and low places that Mr.

Roosevelt has done the State and the entire Pacific Coast a grave injustice. His flat assertion that the Japanese have been driven from the common schools; his inference of a low civilization; the reference to the discrimination as a "wicked absurdity," and finally his suggestion of the use of military force have made of a question which has heretofore excited but little interest a burning topic. The proposal to grant citizenship to the Japanese is roundly denounced by the press of the State.

California at the moment is in a state of passive rebellion. No action will be taken until the question has been threshed out in all its legal phases. Professor Louis Hengstler, head of the department of international and constitutional law at the University of California, declared that Mr. Roosevelt in his contention did "not have a leg to stand on."

Governor-elect Gillett refused to discuss the issue, but members of the Legislature which will meet in January are almost a unit in their assertion that the State law providing for separate schools for Japanese will be strengthened instead of relaxed, and the California delegation in Congress will be instructed to redouble its efforts to secure the passage of a Japanese exclusion bill.
