Ship Building At Prosper

THREE NEW BOATS

Capt. W. J. Maloney Superintends Construction of Vessel.

Very few of our readers are informed as to the extent of the shipbuilding now going on at the Heuckendorff shipyard. The steam schooner Wellesley was launched from this yard two weeks ago and the new sister ship is being rapidly constructed. The Wellesley is the largest vessel that has been built in the Coquille river and was pronounced by the builders to have come up to their fullest expectations.

The sister vessel Bowdoin, that is now being constructed under the supervision of Capt. W. J. Maloney, has 28 frames up and it is expected she will be ready to load by July 1. The owner is W. G. Tibbets of San Francisco, who will have two more vessels built as soon as this is finished. The Bowdoin is named after the Bowdoin College for young men, of Massachusetts, and is the companion college of the Wellesley for young women. She will be 200 feet in length over all and have a 185 foot keel; 38 foot beam and 13.6 feet depth. She is calculated to carry 800,000 feet of lumber. She will be equipped with the latest improved marine steam engines of 550 horse power and will have four derricks and a Lidgerwood Hoist. Her speed is estimated at 10 knots.

Capt. Maloney wife and child are now at the Gallier hotel where they will remain until their home at Prosper is finished. Mrs. Maloney always accompanies the captain on board ship and comfortable quarters will be prepared.

There are in the neighborhood of 50 men employed in construction work at the ship yard. Most of the men live at Prosper, but a few go on the boat from Bandon each day.

M. C. E. Bowman and son Chas. L. Bowman, Jr. of Hanover, Penn., are in town this week looking for a location in which to put in a cigar factory. Both are experienced cigar makers and are just the kind of people Bandon wants. Welcome.

Death of C. S. Elliott.

Died:—Charles S. Elliott, Saturday morning at one o'clock, March 15, at his home four miles south of Bandon, aged 56.

The deceased leaves a wife and three children to mourn his loss. They are, Mrs. C. S. Elliott of Bandon, Mrs. Laura E. Flickenger of Albany, Oregon, Reuben A. Elliott of Bandon, and William W. Elliott, Prosper. He was born June 5, 1851 in Polk County, Iowa, and moved to Kansas when a young man, where he met his wife, Rachel N. Clayton, at which place they were married. In 1885 they moved to Lane Co., Oregon where they resided until 1897 when they moved to the old home south of Bandon. His untimely death is attributed to heart failure. The funeral was held Monday afternoon at three o'clock in the Presbyterian church in Bandon, after which the remains were taken in charge by the Knights of Pythias of which order he was a member. Interment was in the K. of P. Cemetery.

The Knights of Pythias marched in a body to the church where the funeral sermon was preached by G. H. Roach. The deceased was well known in this vicinity and had a great many friends who will deeply mourn his loss.

Watch Repairing must be done right. Send your work to V. R. Wilson, the Watchmaker at Coquille and good work always.

C. F. Allen, well known in and around Bandon was shot and instantly killed by night watchman Wm. D. Clarke, last Tuesday night at midnight. Allen was looking for Ed Gallier with a revolver and after shooting through the hotel window, aimed his gun at the watchman who shot twice, hitting him once, the bullet passing through his heart. Coroner Dr. E. Mingsus and Sheriff Gage were summoned. The coroner's jury brought in the verdict that the watchman was not guilty, he shot Allen in performing his duty. The relatives of Allen were notified and the Masons took charge of the body which will be shipped to his home in San Francisco.

C. F. Allen was in the interest of the Union Lumber Company of San Francisco, and had just returned from Dairyville Tuesday evening. He had been drinking heavily, and during the evening had continued. His intimate friends, ones that have known him for years, were not recognized, and it is thought by many that he was not accountable for his actions. He had notified the Hotel Gallier a few days ago, saying he wanted a room in about a week; the week had not yet lapsed, and owing to the heavy traffic, the rooms were all filled. He was given a room in the Denholm annex, and late in the evening was shown this room. This building is occupied by the Bandon Real Estate Co., P. E. Hoyt and G. T. Treadgold. Allen saw the latter's sign over the door, and said he would not sleep in a place that was occupied by offices, and after abusing the landlord went down the street.

Close to midnight he returned to the hotel and found the night watchman, Wm. D. Clarke, fixing the fire preparatory to warming his midnight lunch. Allen made a lot of loud talk and used profanity freely, waking the guests. Clarke said he would show him his room if he would tell him his number. Allen replied to the effect that he had no room, but intended to have one anyway. Clarke left for the Anderson annex where Ed Gallier had taken a drummer to show him his room. While he was absent Allen went up the stairs swearing and muttering that he would find Gallier and "fix him." At the same time he had his gun, a Colt's Automatic, 32 calibre, and clicked it as he went through the halls.

Clarke and Gallier returned towards the hotel with a lantern and looking in through the window, saw Allen coming towards the door flourishing his gun and using threatening language. Gallier ran around to the right of the building to put out his lantern, and the following is the account given according to the night watchman.

Allen fired his gun, the bullet shattering the left window as you go into the door. Clarke advanced and started to open the door with the intention of striking Allen with his club, thus knocking him out so he could handle him, but Allen had also started for the door, both opening it at the same time; Allen brought his gun down on Clarke and the latter fired rapidly twice. One bullet could not be traced, but the other struck Allen between the second and third ribs, glancing downward, passing through the heart, stomach, diaphragm and kidneys, and lodging against the back bone, thus causing instant death. He fell sideways and on his face. Clarke called to Ed Gallier who returned. By this time there were several guests on the scene. There were no eye witnesses to the shooting fray, and as it happened so quickly, the night watchman at first thought he had fired but one shot, but there were two chambers in his gun empty. Allen's gun had only one shell, the magazine which held nine cartridges had been removed and the handle stuffed with paper; if there had been more cartridges, would have probably hurt some one.

The coroner was notified and he gave them permission to move the body to the sample rooms of the hotel. He came over on the morning train to Coquille and then with Sheriff W. W. Gage of Coquille, took a special launch for Bandon. The following were impaneled on his jury: Geo. P. Laird, Nels Rasmussen, A. McNair, W. R. Mairty, Wm Hite and Frank Flye. The coroner's trial took

The Firemen's Ball.

The grand ball given by the Bandon Fire Department last Saturday night in the Bank Hall was largely attended and was a success. Over $80 was taken in at the door, which will leave them a balance after all of the expenses are paid. The music was exceptionally good and the dancers had a good time. The Bandon Concert Band rendered a few selections on the street in front of the band hall about nine o'clock, and the dance commenced shortly after. The firemen were all in uniform and marched from the city hall to the dance hall where after marching around the room were dismissed. The dance then commenced and continued until three o'clock, with an hours intermission for supper.

Notice to Owners of Dogs.

Notice is hereby given to owners of dogs that they must provide a leather or metal collar with a numbered metal tag thereon, and procure a license from the city recorder of Bandon not later than April 1st, 1907. All animals found on the streets in and about town not having a license and collar and tag as above stated, will be seized and killed according to Ordinance No. 49. The tax on male dog will be $1.50 per annum and on female dogs $2.50. This ordinance will be strictly enforced. Dated this 19th day of March, 1907.

City Marshal.

New Skating Rink.

A new skating rink has been opened this week in the Rosa building and the public will have a chance to enjoy this latest healthful amusement. The latest improved ball bearing skates, all sizes, will be used, and a fine floor has just been completed. Prices for admission in the afternoon 25 cents with skates, evening admission 10 cents and skates 25 cents extra. Good order will always be maintained.

The New Hotel.

The work of moving the two buildings on Dyer's corner, belonging to Elbert Dyer and Miss Mauda Garfield will commence next week. As soon as these buildings are disposed of the old building now occupied by Garoutte Bros. will be moved over on that corner and remodeled over for store buildings and offices up stairs. An entire new front will be put in and this is going to add to the business section greatly. The plans for the new hotel are nearing completion and the active work on the building proper will commence in the early part of May. The plans and specifications call for a thoroughly modern and up-to-date building, and as soon as they are completed, there will be work for a large corps of carpenters.

Estray Notice.

Strayed from my residence at Twomile about February 1, 1907, one red cow, swallow fork in right ear and number in left, had bell; and one yearling bull, red with white face. Any information leading to their recovery will be liberally rewarded.

F. M. WANDLING, Bandon.

The New Bandon Market

IN NELSON BUILDING

All Kinds of Produce, Wood, Coal, Ice and Tropical Fruits.

H. M. Axtell has leased the Nelson building on main street for a term of years and has three carpenters at work on it this week, putting in a new front and adding fixtures and counters, for the new commission house. He will engage in a general commission business and hereafter Bandon consumers will find a place to secure fresh vegetables, dairy products, poultry and all kinds of fruits and berries in season. He will also have in connection, coal, wood, and ice. A desirable feature will be the delivery wagon which he will run. Milk and cream will be delivered daily to regular customers and he will have telephone connections so that when the new system is installed you can order over the phone for anything he will handle.

Ranchers will find this a long looked for want. They can dispose of all their poultry and produce at any time where heretofore they lost a greater part of their vegetables on account of not having a ready market. Mr. Axtell will do a strictly cash business with all connected, and his new venture should receive the liberal patronage of all. The new enterprise will be known as the Bandon Market. Success to it.
