

7 1-2 Chicken Ranches For Sale!

I have a tract of land comprising nearly 40 acres that I have divided into five acre tracts that can be made into chicken ranches. This land lies two and a quarter miles south east of Bandon and a quarter of a mile south of the plank road. It is excellent soil for the growth of small fruits. Berries and orchards set out a year ago, may be seen, which tend to show its marvelous productive qualities.

This land has a sixty foot right-of-way through it, fronting each tract, for a county road, and part has a creek running through it. The tract is level, and is well worth the price asked for it—$60 and $65 per acre. The best of terms offered. This land is not in the hands of any real estate agent, and I will do my business with you direct. For further information, call or address

Spring Stock has Arrived

We have been busy this week unpacking our new spring stock of goods which has just arrived. This stock is the best that money can buy, and our selection has been very carefully made. In the Dry Goods line we have some new patterns in Dress Goods, and Waistings that will interest every lady in or around Bandon. Our Summer Underwear, Shoes, Hats, and Gent's Furnishings are all good values, and we will be pleased to show you what we have. If you are contemplating a trip, we would like to call your attention to the new stock of Grips, Suit Cases and Trunks. We have something pretty swell in this line.

We like to keep our stock new and up-to-date, and we are always willing to dispose of old stock at cost price, or even below, which is much less than the so-called sacrifice prices. We haven't a shoddy article on our shelves.

A. G. Hoyt has been elected as delegate, by the local Odd Fellows, to attend the Grand Lodge at La Grande, Ore., which will be held in May. He is the only delegate from Bandon.

The work of the farmer's lines between Rosa's Mill and the Bear Creek district, to connect with the local exchange, is under way, and the necessary connections will be completed very shortly.

Prof. E. B. Kausrud, director of the local band, is laid up at his home with an attack of the grip. He has been unable to attend to his business this week, although we learn he is improving and will soon be around again.

The new schedule for the noon mail will go into effect on the fifteenth of this month, but the mail carriers across country state that they think the roads will be so bad that they will not be able to make connections with the boat.

L. R. Robertson, the Pacific States manager of the lines in Coos Co., left the fore part of the week from Marshfield for Portland, where he will attempt to find out what is delaying the company from putting in the local telephone lines.

Last Sunday was the first fine day we have had for some time and nearly every person in town was out enjoying the sunshine. The beach was thronged with "agate hunters" and the bluff down as far as the Queen Anne made an ideal walk.

Mr. Geo. W. Moore, who is connected with the Cody Lumber Company, left on this last Breakwater for his home in Michigan, via San Francisco. He will remain absent for a few weeks and will bring his family with him on his return. They will reside at Berkeley, Cal. L. J. Cody accompanied him as far as Marshfield.

This morning at an early hour, A. R. Reeves, employed at the Cody Mill, rose early and took a horoscope of the heavens. In so doing he became over balanced and fell from the window of the third story of the Gallier Hotel to the landing on the second story below. In making his unpremeditated transit he struck his head through the window of the door opening out on the landing, and while not seriously injured, was pretty badly cut up, and the doctor was summoned. It is faintly rumored that Mr. Reeves had been out with the boys and had imbibed too much of the Nectar of the Gods. However he is fortunate in escaping so easily from such a fall. We learn that he saw several comets and a star or two not listed with those above.

Ed. Kinley has received a new piano from Columbus, Ohio.

The ladies of Ocean Rebekah Lodge No. 126, of Bandon, will give a grand ball in the Bank Hall on Saturday evening, April 27. The popular Seaside Orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion, and every effort will be made to make this a social success. A feature of the evening will be the drill by the lodge. This will occur before the dancing commences. Watch for their big posters and committees in next week's paper.

The new cash register ordered by Lorenz and Hoyt arrived this week and they are more than satisfied. It is by far the finest machine in this vicinity. It is made by the National Cash Register people and is full cabinet size, standing about five feet in height from the floor. Not only being of great use, it is also an ornament that any store would be proud of having. The cabinet is of quarter sawed oak, and contains six drawers, each being separate and each clerk may keep a separate account of his receipts. A printed coupon showing the amount of the purchase is automatically ejected every time the register is opened. The cost of this is something over $625.

Notes From Four-mile.

When Sally writes from Four-mile again, will she enclose her name, as we have to know where all communications come from. Ed.

The roads are almost impassable in places.

Farmers of this vicinity are wishing for fair weather to get in some crops.

E. M. Clayton's mill is again running full blast.

The new mill is repairing and fixing to start up soon.

What is the matter with the telephone men?

There has been considerable sickness on Four-mile. It seems to be due to bad colds resulting in the grip.

New fences and clearing ground is gradually showing all along the road in spite of rain.

The weather on Four-mile has been dark and dreary, but all at once it has become bright and shiny, at least for a certain pretty girl on Four-mile.

Mr. J. E. Adams is building a new house of some kind. What is the matter Jim, did the old house fall down?

Bandon girls take notice! Carry a bottle of milk. It will make a catch every time, so Four-mile girls say.

SALLY.
