We are indebted to Mrs. G. H. Prewett, of Bear Creek, near Parkersburg for a box of the finest Strawberries we have seen this year. Great big fellows that make your mouth water. It is up to Hood River to look to her laurels, once let the Coquille Valley start raising small fruits on a large scale.

The sight of a boy on the street with an habitual cigarette or pipe between his teeth is had enough (and there are some in Newberg) but just a little worse is the girl whose tramp, tramp, up and down the street is accompanied by the continued champ, champ, champ of her jaws on a wad of chewing gum. We decline to say whether there are any of these in Newberg.—Graphic.

A couple of weeks ago we reprinted an article from the Port Orford Tribune, in which G. W. Axtell of that place was mentioned in connection with a violation of the game law. As the gentleman referred to as Mr. Axtell, many of our readers were of the opinion it referred to H. M. Axtell of the Bandon Market, who is the son of G. W. Axtell. M. T. Wright, the game warden of Gurry County, is supposed to have been doing most of the violating of the law in his county, and finally he was arrested and fined $25 and costs. Needless to say he resigned his office, and the game in that country is breathing freely again.

Miss Tina Claisen returned Tuesday from a visit at her home up the river, and has accepted a position in the Woolen Mill.

Law & Dygert have taken the contract of painting the new building on the corner next to the old Panter location. It will be papered and painted throughout.

H. Dibblee of Aberdeen Mill, has accepted a position as fireman on the tug Triumph. He will move his family to Bandon as soon as he can find a suitable residence.

All merchants have a just tale of woe concerning eastern shipments of merchandise, and O. A. Trowbridge has just registered a kick that is about the limit. Out of a $43 order from an Eastern house, he received only 7 belts, the balance being perished in transit. The light fingered individual got for his pains a couple of suitcases, 4 dozen pairs of gloves and several dozen belts.

The Glorious Fourth.

The Fourth of July was duly celebrated in Bandon, and according to all reports all had a good time and were well pleased. The exercises, sports and fireworks all went off in apple pie shape, and there was a large attendance at the ball in the evening. There were no serious casualties, and only the regulation burned fingers and singed eyebrows. A small boy tossed a bunch of firecrackers into the paper decorations of one of the stands at the grounds which made a great celebration while it lasted. The spectators at large did the elevating stunt of digging their toe-nails into the green sod and making a two-forty spurt followed by about 'steen sky rockets.

The American Hustler.

It has been decided by the management of the Comedy-Drama, The American Hustler, to postpone it for a short time, owing to the date being so close to the Fourth. The company will be in first class shape to place it on the boards when the date has been determined upon.

Clothing of Quality, backed by reliability and responsibility, for Men and Boys, may be found every day on our counters. We have a new line just in, and can fit you out in any size. A. J. Hartman.

Putting Poles Up.

The Bandon Light and Power Company have erected poles on 4th Street and on Main street. Their corrugated iron for the roof and sides of the power house, has arrived and will be used for the new building at once. Their engine and boiler will be here soon, and the work in all lines is being rushed for early completion.

Boats Are Inspected.

The government inspectors were in Bandon the latter part of last week and the fore part of this, inspecting the various boats on the river. They condemned the Antelope and ordered that she be placed out of commission.

The Dispatch is out of commission temporarily. A blister was found in her boiler, and the officials cut her steam pressure down so low that it made it unprofitable for the company to run her. It seems this blister is not entirely unknown. One of her fireman that worked on her several years ago was aware of its existence, and she has been regularly inspected by the officials. The most serious damage that could possibly occur would be for the water to leak out of the boiler and thereby put her fires out. The management will get a permit to run until new boilers arrive.

There is no danger to passengers traffic, and no doubt it will be but a short time before the boat is making her regular trips. The Coquille River Boat Company were pretty bad hit this time, two out of the five boats being placed out of commission. They have their heaviest run of work now and the additional work for the three boats is working a hardship all around. In addition to condemning the boats a large number of the life preservers were ordered replaced. The boat company will get two new boilers, one for the Dispatch, and the other for the Liberty.

The boiler now in the Liberty is a little too small and is almost new.

She will be placed with the machinery in the Antelope in a new hull, larger than the old Antelope and will make a first class boat. The Boat Company have been playing in hard luck for a long time, but it begins to look as if their troubles are over when the new changes are made.

Weather Report.

Very favorable temperatures prevailed during the week. In the northwestern counties it was about two degrees warmer than usual, and in the southern and eastern counties the temperature was nearly normal. Thunder showers occurred generally throughout the State on either Tuesday afternoon or Wednesday, and the rains attending them were in many places unusually heavy. Thunder showers occurred again in the southern and eastern counties during the night of the 7th, and the rainfall during the week was sufficient for present needs in nearly every agricultural county. The sunshine averaged about normal, and there were no damaging winds.

Williams Goes Insane.

comment in this city. He has imagined countless things, but dwelt largely upon the Japanese navy. Among his friends here, he found ready listeners for a time, but his talk became so incoherent and absurd that they concluded he was suffering with dementia. One of his chief hobbies was that the Japanese navy was hovering about the entrance to Coos Bay, waiting an opportunity to slip in and destroy the cities on the Bay.

He tried to induce several acquaintances to accompany him to Charleston bay last Sunday where they would be shown the exact spot where the navy would take on coal. At times he would imagine that San Francisco was to suffer first then Coos Bay, Portland, and on up the coast including Seattle and Tacoma.

He imagined when he left Marshfield that he was conducting an excursion to Bandon for the 4th of July and as an accompaniment to the celebration at that city, the Japanese would lend a hand and bombard the town.

Before he left Marshfield he told a Marshfield resident that he should prepare his home against the attack which was threatened and gave instructions how to proceed. The fence was to be torn down and the siding on the house removed and both burned. Then the residence was to be covered with asbestos. Williams was to furnish the asbestos since he had cornered the visible supply after he had received the tip that the bombardment was to take place.

And so his vagaries ran. His friends humored him for a time, some believing he was joking them, but his talk became so nonsensical and chimerical that they reluctantly accepted the belief that his mind had failed him.

Mr. Williams came here last fall from Portland and was an accredited representative of the Oregonian for several months. He wrote many interesting articles to that paper regarding Coos Bay and its resources and was considered a man with ideas.

Respecting his ability there was never any question, and his culture was recognized by all who came in contact with him.

He is a veteran newspaper man and has filled important editorial and reportorial situations on some of the most influential newspapers in the country. He was employed on the New York Herald, at one time and later, was on the Salt Lake Tribune for several years.

There will be regret over the matter, yet those who understand him are satisfied he needs medical treatment and should be at the asylum where it could be given.
