The First Organ.

(Special Correspondence.)

Seattle, Aug. 15 th.—Among the interesting exhibits of the early days of Alaska and Yukon, at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, which will be held at Seattle in 1909, will be the first organ that went into the Northland. Organs and pianos are common now in the north, but in 1898 a mouth organ was the largest instrument of music that the land possessed.

Two Seattle men that winter purchased an organ for about twenty dollars. They had money enough to ship it to Skaguay and a little more for two months' food. They packed the organ over Chilhooot passing a month to do it, and another month to drag the instrument to Dawson. At that time there were over a hundred new millionaires in Dawson, many of whom had just married. Among the women the competition as to who would own the organ was intense. It finally fell to the richest of them all, the wife of a man who was also the most in love. The bids went up by the hundreds and the organ was the basis of a large fortune for the men to whom the idea first occurred. The organ is still in good condition and bears few marks of its thousand mile journey over ice, and snow and mountain peak.

Dick Williams, a prominent operator in the Tonopah district, who claims to be the first man to bring a cat into Yukon is telling for the benefit of those interested in the prospective Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition which opens at Seattle June 1st 1909, many tales of the early days. As the exposition hopes to reproduce many famous scenes and cabins of the stirring days of 1897-'98 Williams' stories are of interest and assistance.

"The cat that made me famous" said Williams, "like many famous men, had a humble pedigree. I picked her up in an alley in Seattle between First and Second Avenue one night in August 1897. Next day I went north. I brought the cat along for company as it was my first trip, and I had no thought then of making a profit of it. Dawson was a mighty homeless place the winter of 1897-'98. I arrived on one of the last boats that fall and to my astonishment hundreds came to see the cat and offer after offer to purchase it poured in. The camp was lively enough, but its lonesomeness consisted in the absence of home touches, an absence which my cat seemed to supply. I finally had to sell pussy as my money ran out, and I got over a thousand dollars for her. I do not believe that a homeless cat ever sold for so much before in all history. Next summer they brought in a boat load of cats which the men eagerly bought, and from that time on the price of cats decreased and their number grew.

Coquille Notes.

From the Sentinel.

Perrot and Munson, who have been making cement walks in Bandon for the past month, report that they have finished the walk and foundation for the Gallier Brot.' new hotel.

S. C. Endicott and Miss Audrey Bridges of Myrtle Point, were married at the home of the bride's parents at that place Wednesday evening. Their many friends in this city extend congratulations.

T. T. Land, W. H. Lyons, M. O. Hawkins and J. L. Thomson left this city Wednesday for an extended hunting trip. They went from here to Eden valley and from there they will go over on Rogue river and come back up the coast through Curry county. They each had a riding horse and two pack animals were taken along to carry the camp outfit. As they went through Front street they looked like Buffalo Bill's Rough Riders, Prof. Hawkins, in particular. We suppose after their return that it will be years before even a rabbit will be seen in the country they traverse.

Chas. Webb received the sad news of the death of the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Tyler of Woodburn, which died August 2nd, after a three month's illness. Mr. and Mrs. Tyler were former residents of this city and they have the sympathy of their friends in their hour of bereavement.

The gasoline launch of the Coquille Mill and Mercantile Company which was built by Edwin Ellingson, has been launched and is one of the swiftest boats on the river. The boat is 28 feet long and 6½ feet beam, and is propelled by a 8 horse power engine.

The Regatta at Astoria.

An elaborate program of sports and interesting events of a large variety have been planned for this Mardi Gras of the west. A dozen committees are working hard to perfect all arrangements for the fête at the end of the month, and every citizen of Astoria is taking a lively interest in it, in order that it may be the most successful of any ever held since the first one, thirteen years ago.

For those who have heard of the great salmon industry of the Columbia this occasion will give them ample opportunity to see the fishermen handle their boats and nets in various water contests.

When you are paying your good dollars out, you want to at least get first class merchandise. We handle the Standard Brands, the kind you know are satisfactory, and the kind you always used.
