A close call to a serious accident happened at Wedderburn one day recently as a result of a joke. After the six o'clock whistle had blown in the evening one of the cannery hands lit his pipe as he walked leisurely to his supper, when in the midst of the joy his pipe exploded, lacerating his lips and startling his companions who were struck by some of the fragments. After the first moments excitement one of the party picked up a warm 22 caliber soft nose steel jacket bullet which had evidently been placed in the pipe as an innocent joke.—Gold Beach Globe.

A. Gottsche of Melbourne, Fla., says in a letter to the editor, "Your paper has improved very much since I left Bandon a year ago. If the town has improved as much as your paper, Bandon is all right." Well Mr. Gottsche, we are not so sure about the paper but we can say that Bandon is improving right along, and the growth in the past six months is a small matter compared to the growth in the next year. The illustrated circulars that will be sent out by the new Commercial organization will reach many people that will come here to live and to invest. We are glad to know that our efforts to improve the paper and to cover the newspaper field thoroughly in this vicinity have caused mention from our distant friend, for it is the little things like this that count.

A wandering Jew slipped into town between the night and dawn and opened up a most stupendous sale of samples last week. He came without the blaring of trumpets, and left as the snow before the spring sun. He was neither invited or requested to tarry with us. Some are a few dollars less, and some wiser, but for the most part we gave him a frigid welcome. Hence his early departure. He advertised last week. We didn't want his money. Such advertising is not only objectionable to readers but to us as well. We do not solicit it and try to keep these columns free from these so called "sales" and the patent medicine shin plaster. You pick up a paper filled with patent medicine readers and boiler plate, and learn that so and so's pills will cure everything from bunions to sick headaches, that Lincoln had a large calouse on his left hand from splitting rails, somebody's salve will cure anything from sore eyes to the itch, maybe you will find a personal, probably not. The next time a wandering pilgrim makes his trail into Bandon, let him alone. Patronize the home merchant, and all will thrive and flourish, even as a green bay tree.

CHAS. PETERSON,
Riverton, Oregon.

D. W. Bath left Sunday noon, to return to Hillsboro. He spent just a week here, and but for urgent business interests would have stayed longer. He is well pleased with his trip to Bandon and was much surprised at this growing little place, and its wonderful opportunities. It is his intention to pay us another visit later on, and he may decide to invest in property interests here.

An Arkansas printer, in making up forms in a hurry the other day got a marriage and a grocers ad mixed up so that it read as follows: "John Brown and Ida Gray were united in the holy sauerkraut by the quart or barrel. Mr. Brown is a well known young codfish at sixteen cents per pound, while the bride, Miss G., has some nice pig's feet which will be sold cheaper than any in town."

We have many complaints every were from people who do not receive their copy of this paper regularly. In writing the list off the books hurriedly, there might have been mistakes made, but we are now working on a new mailing list for a Mustange mailer, which, when finished, will avoid any possibility of mistakes. In the meantime the list will be compared, after it is written, to avoid any skipping of names. If you don't get your paper let us know and we will endeavor to locate the trouble.

Monday morning while working at the quarry, a hook flew off a piece of rock and struck Frank Holman on the head. The blow knocked him unconscious and his fellow workers picked him up for dead. As soon as he sufficiently recovered to be moved, he was taken in a buggy to Dr. Houston's office, where his wound was dressed. Had the blow been a little lower it would have been fatal. At last reports he is doing well as can be expected.
