

SCHOOL OPENS ON TUESDAY MORNING

WILL ENGAGE TWO NEW TEACHERS

First Day Spent in Arranging the Various Classes

The Public Schools opened for the year's work on Tuesday Sept 3, with an enrollment the first day of nearly two hundred and fifty. The teachers in charge are H. C. Ostein, Supt. and Prin. of the High School, Miss Davies, assistant in High School, Miss Rodine, seventh and eighth grades, Miss Murphy, fifth and sixth grades, Miss Collier, third and fourth grades, Miss Yeo second grade, and Miss Logan, first grade. The first and second grades are assembled in the G. A. R. Hall and old M. E. Church.

School opened earlier than usual with the intention of having a full nine months term. Because of the earlier opening many did not enter on the first day. Regular attendance from the start is necessary for the best work and all who expect to attend during the year should begin at once. This is especially important in the High School since the work is usually new to the students, and a few weeks lost at the beginning of a new subject places a handicap upon the student for the entire year. The High School is offering three full year's work with the following subjects; Algebra, Geometry, 1st, 2nd and 3rd year English, General History, American History, and Constitution, Botany, First year Latin, Caesar, Book-keeping.

In accordance with the law passed by the legislature a few years ago this is the year for the adoption of new books in all the public schools of the State. These books are selected by a state text book commission, the commission being appointed by the governor. These selections were made by the commission last spring and the books are now being placed in the various grades, and will be used for the coming six years. The State board of Education has also made some changes in the course of study to make it conform to the new books adopted.

In the third and fourth grades, Miss Collier, teacher, there were over seventy pupils enrolled the first day. This makes it necessary to employ an additional teacher, which will be done as soon as the board is able to secure a suitable room. A new compulsory attendance law was enacted by the legislature last winter. This law provided that all children between the ages of nine and fourteen shall attend school during the entire time school is in session. This law will be enforced by the proper authorities.

Miss Martina Theil will arrive shortly to take charge of the Fourth grade. The Third and Fourth grades are now together, but they will be divided. Another teacher may be required later. New pupils will commence later and must necessitate another such instructor.

Reunion Closes.

Saturday evening's grand ball concluded the Re-union and Veterans' Association celebration. It was well attended and an appropriate ending to this affair. The dance was given under the auspices of the band, and we understand they came out pretty well on the project.

The program for Thursday afternoon consisted of speeches, addresses, music by the drum corps, and in the evening music by the band and recitations by Miss Annie Waldvogel, and Commander W. E. Thorp. A characteristic on the band program was the Moccasin dance executed by three members of the band with the band accompaniment.

The scarf drill presented by several young ladies who gave the same in Queen Esther, was given and very much appreciated by all that saw it.

Friday was Pioneer's Day. An address of welcome by Col. Rosa in the morning and response by Rev. Keeler, and reminiscences of the frontier days was the substance of the program. A dinner was served to the Pioneers at the G. A. R. Hall and speaking and music by the band followed in the afternoon and evening.

New Corporation.

Bandon with her wonderful future has need of many new enterprises and the latest to add the ever growing number is the Pacific Land and Timber Company, incorporated under the laws of Oregon to conduct a business in those lines. The company is composed of 4 members, Geo. W. Bowman, Pres., J. J. O'Neil, Vice Pres., C. R. Wade, Sec., and C. E. Holoporter. They have their offices in the Laird building on the corner of Wharf and First street.

It is the intention of this company to handle real estate and particularly round timbers on a large scale. They now have several million feet of timber in the stumpage and they contemplate opening an office in San Francisco in the near future, to handle their business at that place. The incorporation papers have been filed with the Sec. of State and the county clerk, and the company are now engaged in their business.

CITY COUNCIL APPROPRIATES PLANKING

HOLD SPECIAL MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

Number of Property Owners Are Present at this Meeting.

Last Saturday evening the city council met in regular session. The question of the proposed improvements on Atwater street was discussed and laid aside with the Columbia Avenue improvement, until Tuesday evening, this week, when a special meeting was called to decide these improvements.

Col. Rosa spoke regarding the Atwater street proposition, and the bills of the month were allowed. A committee was appointed to meet on Monday afternoon to investigate the opening of Columbia avenue.

At the adjourned meeting Tuesday evening all members of the board were present. Again the matter of the improvements of Atwater street were discussed pro and con. Judge Topping was retained by a number of the parties holding lands bordering on the new bridge and who were assessed for the amount necessary to conduct the work.

The old city council, before retiring from office, had issued a notice in which the town would pay for the planking of the proposed street improvement. The approximate amount of the cost of the planking would be in the whereabouts of $1755. When the present body of councilmen took office, they found that the city charter did not provide for the payment of improvements out of the town treasury. This new work was considered an improvement and while the charter provided for the repair on any improvement, first paid for the property owner, it did not provide for additional improvements on the property.

In order to get around the clause in the charter, the former council decided to call the piling, capping and timber work on the bridge, an improvement, and the planking, repair work. This allowed them to levy an assessment upon the tax payers for only a portion of the cost of the improvement, and all parties concerned were satisfied.

The new council found by looking over the charter, that in case money appropriated upon any improvement was contrary to the charter and they were liable for the amount so appropriated. This has been the cause of the delay and was settled once and for all Tuesday evening. Judge Topping has spent several months in looking up the rulings and getting opinions of the legal end of the matter, and held that if the council went ahead with the work that the property holders could file an injunction, and after an expensive law suit the matter would be at a standstill and exactly where it was before the complications commenced. He also held that as the old council has passed such an ordinance providing for the improvement and the payment of the same, that they were directly responsible for any litigation that might come up.

Councilmen Trowbridge made a motion which was immediately seconded by councilmen Lewin, that the work should proceed as was formerly intended, and that the planking should be paid for out of the general fund.

Property owners on Columbia Avenue remonstrated against opening the street. The council thought it was rather late in the day to discontinue the work of opening up this street. The grade has been established by the city engineer and several parties have already commenced work on grading their part in front of their property. The discussion as to whether the street was to be opened merely as a wagon trail or a 70 foot street will be settled at the next meeting. The grade established will leave several of the places high on the hill, and these property owners state that it will greatly damage their property. This street will have to be opened some time, and it is but a question of how soon. Several of the owners were present at this meeting and stated their troubles before the city dads. It looked for a time as if something would happen. "is 'oner" called them to order and the meeting continued without further incident.

E. Dyer stated that the opening of the street would cost more than the property was worth. E. E. Oakes presented a petition containing ten signatures, that asked the council to defer active matter in opening the street until some future time. The first petition was signed by nearly all of the property owners, who, at that time, did not realize the amount necessary to open that street with the necessary grades.

New General Store.

J. M. Baker, formerly of Washington, and J. W. Hoover have consolidated their business interests on the hill, and will conduct a general merchandise business under one roof hereafter. Mr. Baker recently erected a building for this purpose, and after it was ready for occupancy, a deal was made to have only the one building. Mr. Hoover has moved his stock into the building and a new line of dry goods and furnishings has been ordered and will arrive in the near future.

Both gentlemen are well known, and by handling a clean up-to-date stock of groceries, etc., they will save their customers in that vicinity a great deal of running to and from town. Their location is good and they ought to prosper.

Kruse-Brown.

Archie Kruse and Gussie Brown, of Myrtle Point, were married at place last Saturday. The young couple are well known here and have many friends that wish them a happy and prosperous future. They have rented the new Denholm place on the plank road, and have taken possession. The bride is a well known young lady of Myrtle Point and the groom has been employed for some time past as foreman at the new Cody mill.

GAMBINUS BREWERY DEPOT WILL LOCATE

LEASED THE OLD PANTER BUILDING

Will Wholesale Liquors for Coquille River, Cold Storage Plant

The Gambinus Brewing Company have rented the old Panter building for a term of five years, and will conduct a wholesale liquor business in that place as soon as their supplies arrive.

This will be the headquarters for their Gambinus beer, and they will supply the Coquille Valley with their products. A complete line of the best wines and liquors, all of the standard brands, will be on supply. This will enable the liquor dealers in this part of the country to secure their supplies from this place direct, instead of having to send to the cities.

The firm name of this new enterprise is the Gambinus Brewing Depot. They will not retail, but will take out a retailer's license from the city. This is done with the idea of standing their share of the taxation on liquor dealers here.

The new enterprise ought to do a good business in their line. There is nothing in this line of business located on the River, and in ordering in large quantities and securing from their home breweries, they will not only be able to render excellent service, but can quote better prices and save the freight on every order.

Mr. Robert Marsden, representing the company in Marshfield, has been in town and looked the field over thoroughly before taking any steps toward establishing a wholesale branch in Bandon, and is thoroughly satisfied that it will be a paying venture from the start. An agent of the companies' will take possession of their interests here.

In addition to a wholesale liquor house, the Gambinus Brewing Co. are contemplating installing a cold storage plant. This will not only fill their needs, but will fill a long felt want. A cold storage and ice plant will be a paying proposition from the start. Representatives of the company are in town this week.

Mr. Timmons informs us he expects to be able to commence canning about the 12th of this month. Meanwhile the plant is being put in readiness to handle the output as it comes.

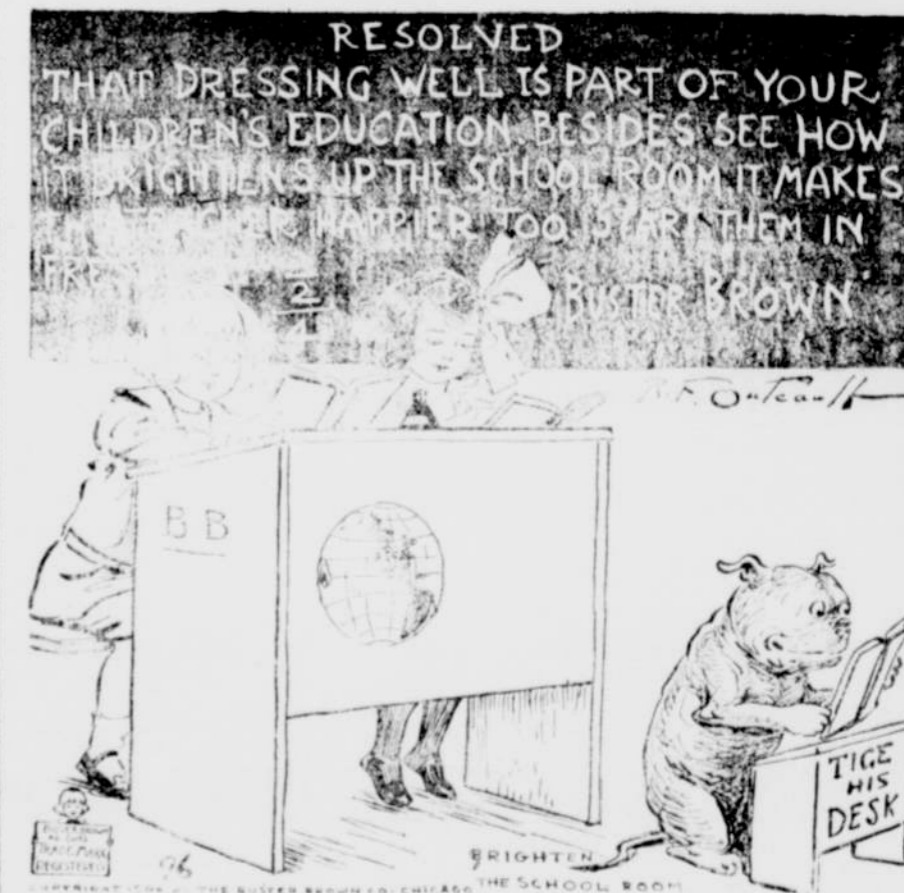

Myrtle Nelson Button.

was married to Geo. Button on Sept. 28 1901. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. She was well known and greatly beloved by all, and her many friends extend their heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing family. Beside her husband and three little children she leaves a father, mother, two sisters and two brothers.

The community was shocked at the untimely death of Mrs. Geo. Button last Thursday afternoon.

Her sad end is attributed to a complication of the measles in connection with the birth of a baby girl a week ago Monday.

Mrs. Geo. Button was a Langlois girl at which place she was born March 13 1881. She moved with her parents to this place in 1900 and
